

PORTRAIT OF A LEARNER PROGRESSION

OPEN MINDED

I can respectfully listen to and consider different ideas and ways of thinking

CRITICAL ATTRIBUTES

LEVEL OF SOPHISTICATION

Respectfully listen

Not yet aware that others have different ways of thinking.

With support, listen to other ways of thinking with prompting, guidance, and modeling.

Demonstrate respect for other ways of thinking by actively listening with emerging consistency. Ask for others to share their thoughts and opinions.

Demonstrate confidence in ability to listen respectfully by inviting other ways of thinking to inform thoughts and opinions.

Invite and encourage other ways of thinking, including those that contradict current ways of thinking and utilize these interactions to inform my own thoughts and opinions.

Encourage a wide variety of different ways of thinking that challenge current ways of thinking, including thinking of others.

Consider different ideas and ways of thinking

Not yet ready or willing to consider different ideas and ways of thinking.

With support, develop an appreciation for other ways of thinking. Willing to consider different ideas and ways of thinking and compare them against my own ideas and thoughts

Consider different ideas and ways of thinking as a way of reaching a goal or solving a problem.

Demonstrate confidence in considering how different ideas and ways of thinking shape my own personal thinking and personal improvement.

Regularly utilize different ideas and ways of thinking as a way of shaping collective ways of thinking and collective growth.

Celebrate and model for others how to use different ways of thinking that then lead to collective growth and improvement.