Special Education Citizens' Advisory Committee

a Carroll County Board Appointed Committee

About SECAC

The Carroll County Special Education Citizen's Advisory Committee (SECAC) is a board appointed committee established by Carroll County Public Schools to seek meaningful input from parents, community partners, service providers, educators, and administrators on local issues about the achievement of students with disabilities. This collaboration enables the Director of Special Education to consider a variety of stakeholders' feedback which influences the delivery of special education services in Carroll County Public Schools.

What to Expect?

- Share your perspective and experience
- Provide feedback on successes and obstacles
- Collaborate with families and CCPS staff
- Communicate with school's administration
- Additional opportunities to be part of subcommittees will be optional

What can I do as a Parent Representative?

- Email your school's administration following meetings to share information
- Share information about Family Support Events
- When appropriate, share information with PTO
- Recruit other parents to be part of SECAC
