IN MEMORIUM

James Trant

His life was gentle and his memory will last forever.
He was a son, a friend, and a brother;
there will never be another.
Wish we never had to part,
You always live in our heart.
We love you, Jimmy!

Dedication

The class of 2001 was not lucky enough to have one great advisor, we had two. In the beginning of our sophomore year we were without class advisors, and the two best physical education teachers in the world, came to our rescue. Mr. Mattatall and Mr. Zampell were always there for us whether to sell us candy mid-health class, or just lend a friendly ear. We will never forget their effort, dedication, enthusiasm, and dynamic dancing ability demonstrated at the senior luau. It will be impossible to repay them for their countless hours spent simply trying to make our years at the high school memorable. We couldn't have asked for anything more from Mr. Zampell and Mr. Mattatall, and for that we owe them our memories, our love, and our thanks.

- Thank You,
Class of 2001

For Rachel ~

Although you see the world
Different than me
Sometimes I can touch upon
The wonders that you see
All the new colors
in pictures you've designed
Oh, yes, sweet darlin'
So glad you are a child of mine
You don't need direction
You know which way to go
And I don't want to hold you back
I just want to watch you grow
The times you were born in
May not have been the best
But you can make the times to come
Better than the rest
I know you will be honest
If you can't always be kind
Oh, yes, sweet darlin'
So glad you are a child of mine

SUPERINTENDENT'S GRADUATION MESSAGE 2001

Congratulations to each of you on your achievement of a Medford High School Diploma. T knowledge and skills that you have acquired will serve you well in the years ahead. However, y should be well aware that this Graduation is not a license to stop learning, but rather only a fi major step in your personal education. You should note that Graduation is often referred to Commencement. I think that the the latter term is a better one and more truly reflects what t stage in your life represents. Commencement means that you now must truly begin to be a l long learner whether you go on to college or into the workforce. Your need for ongoing learni will become more apparent to you as you move forward and experience the many challenges adult life in an ever changing society and world.

The education of which I speak is not just the requirement to stay current in the major dis plines such as language, mathematics, science, and social studies. As we have witnessed throu out history, it is totally possible for an individual to become a skilled scientist and use that skill destructive purposes. We have seen persons who have the ability to use language persuasiv abuse that talent by leading others to perpetuate prejudice and hate. The mastery of the dis plines is no guarantee that your attitudes and behaviors will contribute to your own moral bett ment, and the improvement of your community. The advent of sophisticated technology can guarantee that human beings will act responsibly, ethically, and with compassion. In fact, t many of the innovations we call progress have fueled and intensified unconscionable actions a outcomes.

You must pledge yourself to go beyond the disciplines and continue your education with a de sense of ethical and moral obligation. Your most true education must reach deeply inside of y so that your mastery of the disciplines will be equalized by a commitment to a constructive life. sensitive to the legitimate needs of your family, friends, and community. The world is based up three fundamental foundations: The Pursuit of Truth; Service to Community; and Acts of Lov Kindness. Set yourself firmly on these grounds and build from within your being. In so doing y will give your life meaning and purpose and your education will serve you well. Best wishes fo happy, healthy and meaningful future.

YEARBOOK 2001 HEADMASTER'S MESSAGE

It is with a sense of honor that I am writing this note to you. Your yearbook — so closely associ-
:d with a joyful time of transition — will be the most permanent item in your personal library d the one book that you will show to your spouse, your children and your grandchildren in the cades to come.

Glancing back at this yearbook throughout the seasons of your life, you will be reminded of the ıny people in the school community who impacted your life and affected your perspectives and
.itudes much more than you thought possible at the time.

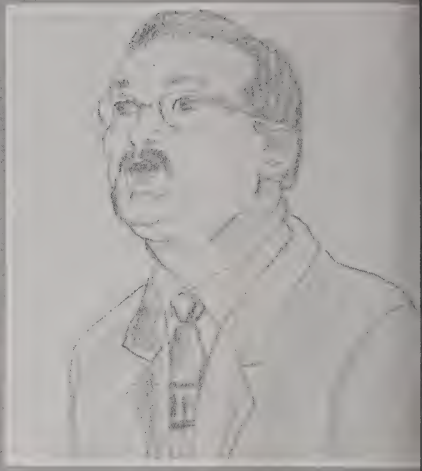

You will reminisce about classmates, who helped you define yourself at one point in your life d who taught you the meaning of loyalty, honesty and friendship. You will remember your ıchers, who devoted their lives to helping you become mature, responsible, thoughtful adults.
ıd you will recall the many others — counselors, coaches, secretaries, advisers, and administra-rs — who helped to mold you into the person you will have become.

As you continue to stroll, jog, or jet down the path of your life, please remember that your future longs to you. Accept the challenge to make the journey meaningful, worthwhile and enjoyable.

Mr. Polcari-
Great visions often start with small dreams.

"A man of wisdom"

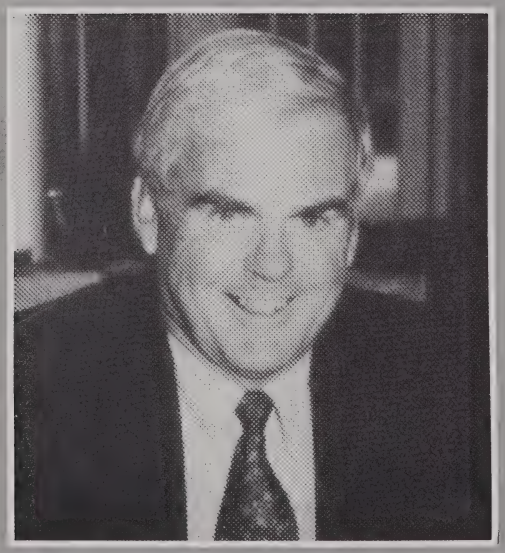

Dear Class of 2001,

Congratulations on your four-year matriculation at Medford High School a the Medford Vocational-Technical High School, a span that saw changes in pr gramming and administration, especially with the advent of MCAS. Your co mitment to high achievement will be a great asset towards professional fulf ment. I would like to extend to each of you my sincerest congratulations fo job well done.

With graduation day upon us, view this bittersweet moment as a beginnin not an ending because it is the first day of the rest of your life. Take pride in t work that you have accomplished, but dedicate one to bring about the possib results.

The term Medford Vocational Technical High School graduate is a we earned privilege, brought about by hard work in meeting the challenges change. During your four-year stay at the Voke, each of you achieved a record accomplishments that will hold you in good stead to meet the challenges of t world.

As we look into the future, the world, as we know it, is in a constant change materialistic ideals. Though the human factor is always present to maintain much-needed balance and to make life constructive and beneficial to all, member to always keep the thoughts and feelings of one's fellow humans wh dealing with some of life's more challenging matters. Flexibility, a sense of re ism with an openness to suggestions and compromise is an avenue that shou always be explored and will be met with respect more times than not.

In closing, I wish you all the best in your chosen endeavors. Aim you sigh high, work hard, show respect to your fellow man and always follow the Gold Rule - assist, be helpful, and give back to mankind in the ever facing world change and challenge. Success and happiness is sure to follow.
Best wishes for personal success, health and happiness.
