Oh the Places You'll Go!

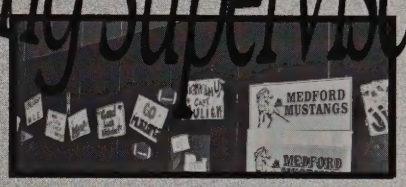

High School is a defining point in our journey through life. We come together, bond within our own classes, and leave with unsurpassable knowledge. And in the real world, it is the knowledge that we take from here that will lend to our success. But high school is more than an education, MHS is a special place; it is a community, and it bestows upon each and everyone of us a sense of pride. We may have entered this school as freshmen, tightened our bonds as sophomores and juniors, but as we prepare to leave and venture into our lives beyond high school, we are all mustangs. As Medford Mustangs, we can do anything! We can take so much from these four years, and use it however we chose, to shape our future. So as you continue through highschool, or before you exit the lobby doors for the very last time, take in all that you can. Only you can shape your future. What will you do, and where will you go? The possibilities are endless...

Messages From Your Loving Supervisors

Congratulations! Your hard work and learning have earned you a right to be called a graduate of Medford High School. This distinction places you alongside many fine individuals before you who have gone out into the world and made their mark. Throughout your twelve years of schooling, you have gained knowledge, skills, and attitudes that that will prepare you for the future. Each day will bring obstacles and opportunities that will challenge what you have learned. You must be ready to build upon your experiences at Medford High School and continue to grow.

Graduation from Medford High School does not end the learning process. Learning must be a life-long endeavor and each of you should utilize the world outside of school as a classroom. Your friendships developed here at Medford High School can be a great resource to you as you move beyond the twelth grade. Don't forget your friends; add to them. You never know when one of them will become part of your life down the road.

Be an optimist; pessimism is a waste of time. Contribute to your community because it is through community that we find our true identity and achieve the most worthwhile goals.

I wish all of you the best, and trust that each of you, in your own way, will make the world a better place.

~ Mr. Roy Belson, Superintendent, Medford Public Schools ~

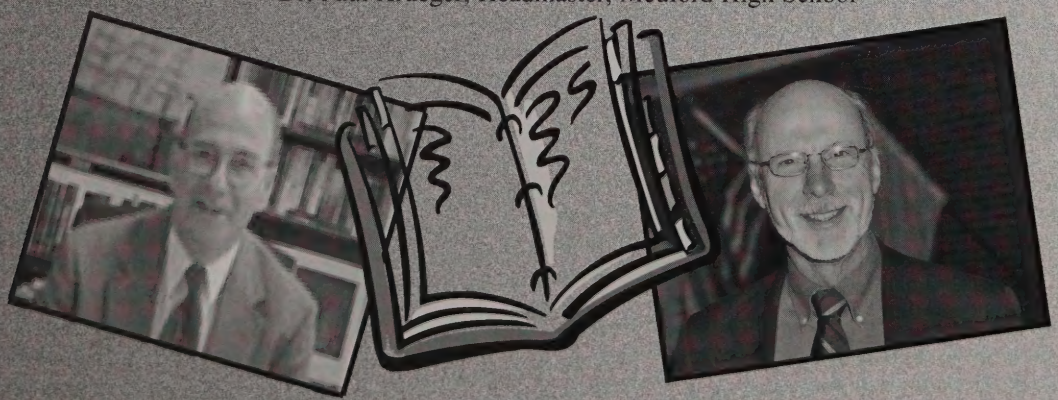

Every graduating class has its distinct personality and demonstrates a variety of strengths. Although in that way the Medford High School Class of 2004 is like many others, you also have one quality that is truly unique. In my twenty-six years as a high school teacher and administrator, I can't remember another class that has done as much to build school spirit. Through the leadership of your class, we now have an extraordinary cheering section at our athletic events. Not only do we have lots of traditional cheers, but there is also well-rehearsed humming to the theme from Rocky and the strains of "We will, we will rock you!" punctuated by our own stomping percussion section. This sort of spirit is refreshing and unusual and, in this way, your class is second to none.

Perhaps the most colorful and dramatic display of school spirit comes in the frequent performances of Medford High's own "superheroes." Although their antics are always appropriately entertaining, the real importance of their appearances at Medford High and beyond is their symbolic significance for our graduates. These students show their willingness to demonstrate their individuality in a unique and positive way--something that is clearly representative of the personality of your class as a whole.

As you continue to discover and uncover the superhero in yourself, you will do things that you once thought impossible, making the world a much better place, and having a lot of fun in the process. You'll find that wearing tights and a cape is strictly optional.

Thanks for all that you as a class have done for Medford High School. And best wishes for a lifetime filled with close friends, family, and fond memories of your high school years.

~ Dr. Paul Krueger, Headmaster, Medford High School ~

It is with a great sense of pride that I am able to offer the Class of 2004 my warmest congratulations upon its graduation from Medford High School. Your hard work and accomplisments during your four-year matriculatuon have provided you with the foundation to pursue future endeavors.

The experiences each of you has gleaned during your tenure in high school will have relevance in your decision-making process for years to come. Unique circumstances will require each of you to delve into your wealth of knowledge and personal encounters in order to turn negative situations into positive outcomes. Yes, you will encounter situations that at the initial point of contact will seem insurmountable. When that happens, I feel confident that each of you will rise to the occasion with the confidence of knowing how to handle the situation and resolve it to your satisfication.

Life, as we know it, is guided by goals, achievements, and accomplisments to be pursued in our lifetime. I encourage each of you to establish meaningful and worthwhile goals in light of your ability and willingness to achieve them. Goals without commitment and personal sacrifice will be nothing more than whimsical and wishful thinking, which will have no lasting results. In order to fully realize your established priorities in life, direction will be needed to find that exclusive pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

The future is yours to conquer with family and friends. The open-minded person will view the future and all that it offers, as a challenge to improve the quality of life. I strongly urge each member of the class to seek the best the future has to offer. By doing this, you will experience a lifetime of excitement and new found happiness at the turn of every corner.

In closing, I should like to leave the Class of 2004 with a thought expressed by Theodore Roosevelt, the 26th President of the United States:

> "The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again; who knows the great enthusiasm, the great devotions, and spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the trimph of high achievement; and who at the worst, if he fails, at least he fails while daring greatly."
> ~ William C. Mahoney, Director, Medford Vocational-Technical High School~

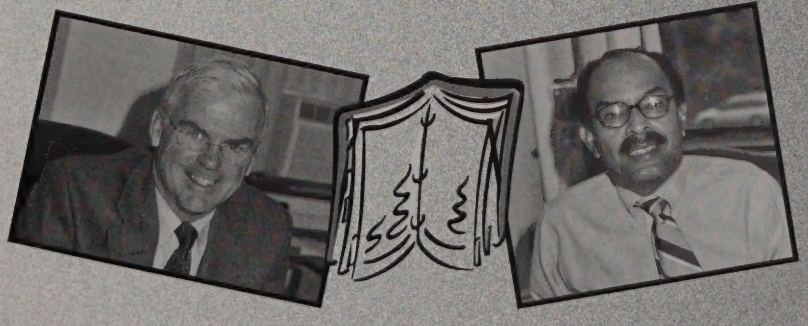

It is a pleasure for me to offer my sincere congratulations at this very important time in your lives. You have been the recipients of many valuable experiences that are the strong foundation on which you have built for your future. You have accepted my challenge that I gave to you four years ago: to be a success and to graduate from Medford High School.

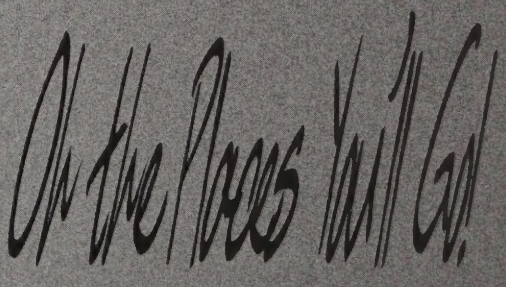

When you first entered Medford High School, I said to you, "Aim for perfection." I can remember when you were freshmen and very apprehensive about being in high school. This class has become one of the best that has ever entered MHS! Your growth has been outstanding. Your teachers have molded you into creative, unique individuals, who can think for themselves and make sound decisions. Your accomplishments in the classroom and on the athletic field have been exemplary.

When you look back on your time in high school, you will have many great memories: memories to cherish forever. Dances and proms are high on your list. You will treasurer the time you spent in school, but also the time that you spent outside the classroom. You have made sound decisions that made you mature and brought you to the point that you are at today--graduates.

As said by George Bernard Shaw, "Some men see things as they are and ask why; but I dream things that never were, and ask why not!" It has been my pleasure to be at your side to help prepare you for the next phase of your life. I am proud of the young men and women that you have become. Congratulations on your many accomplishments from the past four years, best wishes as you continue on your lifelong journey, and always remember to "aim for perfection!"

~ Stephen A. Mascoll, Class of 2004 Submaster, Medford High School ~

Dedicated to the First Ladies of the Class of 2004

Mrs. Rita DiCarlo

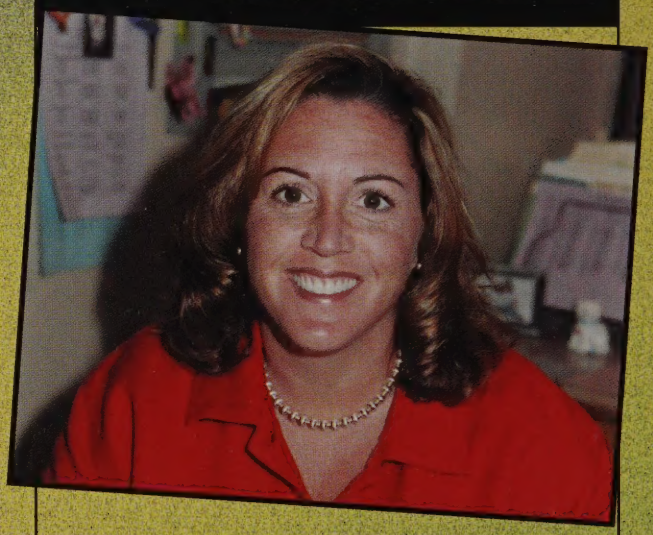

No other woman has guided and nurtured our class the way Mrs. DiCarlo has. Through all our obstacles these past four years, she has stuck by us and without her, high school would not have been as memorable. Mrs. DiCarlo has worked around the clock planning our proms, dances, fundraisers, and other class events, but never asked for anything in return.

Mrs. DiCarlo is one of those teachers that brings her subject to life for her students. Many remember the delicious homemade Italian food that she brought in to make the pain of MCAS week a little less severe. She brings warmth and understanding into her classes and carries a genuine love for teaching her students. There is no doubt that high school can become monotonous, but Mrs. DiCarlo always knows how to keep us interested.

You can always count on seeing her smile in between classes, every day of the week. Walking into her classroom is like walking into your grandmother's warm, inviting house. Her door is always open if anyone ever needs to talk to her. Mrs. DiCarlo will always hold a special place in our hearts, and is one of those teachers that will have many students come back to visit her in the years to follow.

Ms. Lisa Bowler

We the class of 2004 would like to dedicate our yearbook to one extrodinary person. Ms. Bowler is not only a secretary but a mentor. On top of all the work she has to do she always takes time to listen to us.

More like a psychiatrist she always knows what to say. Her door is always open, and she always welcomes us with the famous saying "Where are we supposed to be." We always knew if we were in trouble, with a Dunkin Donuts coffee cup in our hands-- cream, no sugar-- we'd be set for the rest of the week.

Ms. Bowler is like our best friend: caring, kind, funny, helpful, understanding, energetic, charming, outgoing and...LOUD!

No matter how stressed she is feeling. You can always find Ms. Bowler cracking herself up. Perhaps this is why it is so easy to go to Ms. Bowler when you need someone to talk to. She always knows the right things to say, and how to cheer someone up. It's almost impossible for any one of us seniors to say that Ms. Bowler hasnt been here for each and every one of us. We'll never forget how much she did for our class, and how close she became to each one of us. Ms. Bowler will be remain in our hearts as our hard working secretary, but more importantly as our friend.

Students at Medford High School tend to live life in the fast lane. As they speed down life's highway, they feel the wind in their hair, take countless sharp turns, and hardly ever screech to a halt at stop signs. Ah, the life of a student. Catch them if you can!

Weekends are a time to PARTY!

During the weekend the students at MHS kick back, relax, and more often than not finish a huge project due Monday morning. However, we still always manage to have fun. We go to the movies, hang out with friends, or if we're really lucky we get to party. Or paaarrtttaaay, depending on how you look at it. A party is the perfect way to have a great time after a long, hard week.

THROUGHOUT THE DAY THE MHS STUDENT BODY WAS BUSY SPOOKING THEIR WAY THROUGH THE SCHOOL AND MOST OF THEM WEREN'T EVEN DRESSED UP! HOWEVER, COME MONDAY MORNING THINGS WERE BACK TO NORMAL. ALMOST.

MHS SURVIVOR

There's a Survivor T.V. show? We at MHS completely forgot. Our show was much more interesting, anyway. At our very first MHS survivor students tried to outwit, outplay, and outlast in a variety of games. The audience watched in amazement as the survivors competed in balloon-popping challenges, hula challenges, and, yes, a food challenge. Hopefully MHS Survivor will become a yearly tradition of embarrassing students.

LIGHTS CAMERAS ACTION

This year the MHS drama club chose to perform Stand and Deliver for their fall production. MHS teachers Mr. Douglass Bowen-Flynn and Ms. Nikki Bruno directed the three-night performance of the play by Robert Bella. The play tells the tale of a school of underprivileged students who try to pass the AP calculus exam. Included in the show was a worried school principal (Chloe Reison), the teacher who steers the kids towards glory (Susan Brash), and an assortment of difficult students (Tim Gilligan, Jessica Paradiso, and Bernie Faucher, among others). The drama had laughter, sadness, surprise, and many characters that MHS students could relate to. Says director Ms. Bruno, "It was the most professional high school production I've ever been involved in." Based on this production we can say the drama club definitely stood and delivered a great performance.

Behind the scenes

In Business Without Really Trying

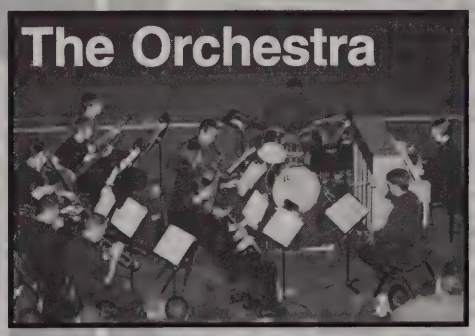

This year's spring musical, How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying, definitely succeeded in business! How to Succeed was first performed in 1961. Medford High's 2004 version was directed and choreographed by Mr. Johnny Woodnal with music direction by Mr. Todd Cole. It starred Tim Gilligian as J. Pierrepoint Finch, an ambitiuos window washer who goes from rags to riches at the World Wide Wicket Company. Drama president, Chloe Reison co-starred as Secretary Rosemary Pilkington. The musical is a satire on the world of big business and had the audience rolling in the ailses. All of MHS jumped at the chance to be in the production, both students and faculty were in the play, served as stage crew, and played instruments. The cast tried its hardest and the results were a success!

AND THE CROWD GOES WILD!

The second year of Medford High's revamped talent show flew past, leaving a trail of talented MHS students. Both nights were sold out and were bursting with energy. The show started off with three hosts and followed them as they ran back and forth across the stage. Then the talent began to flow. As the night went on the audience was thrown singers, musicians, dancers, and poets. There was even a strange, although very entertaining, performance by the faculty. During the show the audience forgot about the packed auditorium and the fact that they couldn't move. However, this is one case where the students actually wanted to stay still. So they could take in all the amazing talent. Who needs "Star Search" when you have Medford High?

it's your night

This year's class has managed to stay within the lines-the conga line that is.

"Oh those [Senior] Nights!"

Pablo boogies down in his full Hawaiian gear.

Monique declared war on O.J. Wolfe and shown here mid-battle between friends.

Holly Bates and Jennie DeStefano show off their Hawaiian best.

The Luau is one of the seniors' last events spent as a class. Many people felt that this night , filled with amazing memories, brought us closer together.

Even the teachers showed their Hawaiian pride; Mr. Wadness, Mr. Duca, Mr. Wilson and Mr. D'Alleva pose for a picture with the senior guys.

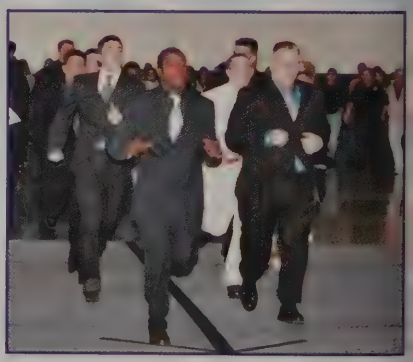

We've got Spirit!

Every year students come and go, the color of the halls of Medford High School change, and yet another construction project develops. However, one thing that never changes year to year is the Medford-Malden Thanksgiving game rivalry and the pep rally that precedes it. Medford battled Malden for the 116th time this past Thanksgiving. Although victory was not ours, one thing which was evident was the overwhelming amount of pride Medford had for its football team and to be Mustangs as a whole. Students and Faculty show their support in everything they do. From Fighting off ghosts to impersonating the Governator of California, the blue and white bleeds through.

Kevin Braxton plays one thrilling role in this year's skit.
Mike Ibrahim takes it one step beyond outgoing.
Nikki Sanford and Teeny Enos show their pride by playing the notes they learnt at band camp.
The Mustang Cheerleaders build school spirit.

" Who you gonna call? Ghosbusters."
Natasha Van Cole shows her moves with the MHS Step Squad.
Kevin Christensen and Craig Halford let their true colors show.
The Cheerleaders prove that people can in fact fly.
Right: The Medford Mustang football team stampedes in as they make their grand entrance.

ABOVE MIDDLE: Malcolm Andrews stares down those Tornadoes.

"Onward Mighty Mustangs. Our hopes are pinned on you. We'll stampede the foe as onward we go. Onward to victory. Go! Go! Go! Onward Mighty Mustangs. We want a touchdown, hear our cry. Go galloping on to victory for Medford High."

FAR LEFT:
Chris Richard is ready is to rumble.
LEFT:
Jimmy Swift pauses for a water break.
BELOW:
Ryan Martinallo runs like a true Mustang.
"Let's give a cheer for the Medford Mustangs."

BELOW:
FAR BELOW: Mark Coughlin sends that ball flyin'.

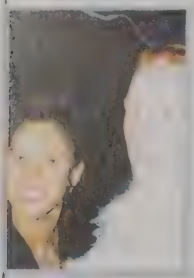

Following Tradition

FRIENDSHIP
MHS students are friends forever!

Samantha Smith and Chloe Reison strengthen their freindship while burning the midnight oil meeting yearbook deadlines

Eddie Degurski and Alaina Mitrano -- what a cute couple!

Heather Coe-Smith and Tania DiVirgilio are gettin' their groove on.

Bryan Connor and Jon Sencabaugh duke it out.

A new friendship begins to form as freshman Andrew Dischino helps classmate Daphney Valburne with a difficult text.

Laura Hoberg, Jackie Callahan, and Brittney Drapaniotis are best friends for life.

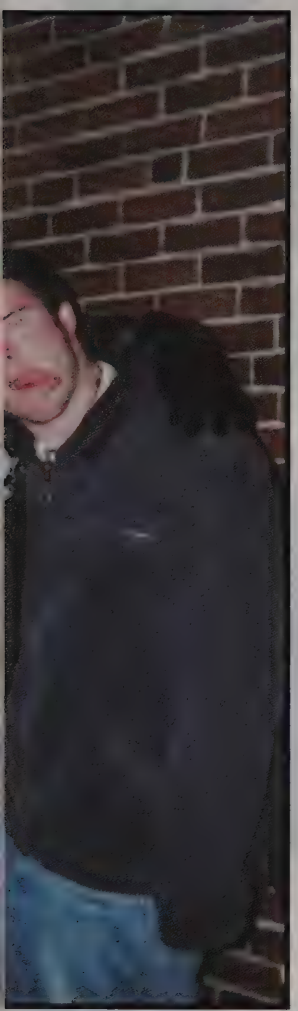

FRIENDS FOREVER

FOR EVER

Buddies, amigos, pals, homies, chums. No matter how you want to put it, they all mean the same thing. It's a person who will help you when you're down, look out for you when you're in trouble, and will never make fun of you for having a bad hair day. Some of us have known our closest friends since kindergarten, while others are still making them. However chances are you will leave high school with more friends that you started with.

Christine So and Annie Vong take a bite.

So what do you picture when you think of friends? Yes, some of us think of a certain T.V. show. But most of us picture the people we can't live without. Our friends will be there for us no matter what. Anytime, anywhere, day, night, in the freezing cold, or the burning heat. And just remember MHS friendships are forever.

ABOVE:

LEFT:

LEFT:
Chris Couglin gets some lovin' from Billy Powers.

ABOVE:
Jared Melilo, Kate Phillips, Megan Richard, Jes Krasco and Jen Krasco are all bundled up, ready to go to the soccer game.

Love & Romance

Kristen Moura and Matthew Guerrero take a break at the Prom.

Erin Mills and Chris Richard celebrate her sweet sixteen party.

At MHS love is in the air, everywhere you look around. For many of us it's the first time we've had feelings for that special someone, and for most of us it won't be the last.

Everyone remembers the first time they saw that person and the butterflies they felt. The couples pictured here are just a handful of the students romantically involved at MHS. However, they all have one thing in common, and that's each other.

Wherever you go and whatever you do, just remember: love lifts us up where we belong, love is all around, and most importantly, love is all you need.

Jon Hunter and Jess Piotrowski get ready to celebrate their Junior Prom.

Chris Coughlin and Michelle Enos share a kiss.

ABOVE:
Julian Munilla and Stacey Williams grab some grub together.

ABOVE:
Kim Tustin gives Nick Sweetser a love bite.

ABOVE:
Andrea Cielo and Marissa Pescatore have fun at the Junior Prom.

Kristy Grandt and Chris Ventura chill out together at the Class of 2004's Junior Prom.

Oh The Places You'll Go

Seniors

Oh, the places we've gone! Throughout our high school career we've been going at top speed. Sometimes we've stopped and picked up new passengers. Other times we've simply run out of gas. In any case, you can say our time here has been a wild ride!

President: Chris Coughlin

"Mustang pride was probably the best part of being in the High School. I wish everyone could know what it is to truly be a mustang."

Vice President: Jimmy Swift

"High School has been the greatest time of my life. It has been full of good times and good friends. I would like to tell the underclassmen to enojoy this time because it only comes around once. I am proud to be a Mustang. I'm going to miss this place."

Secretary: Bryan Connor

"Medford High School has played an important part in helping us all become better individuals. I am truly proud to say that I am a Mustang. I would like to wish everyone the best and remember live life to the fullest and always stay true to yourself."

Treasurer: Kate Phillips

"Truely great friends are hard to find, difficult to leave, and impossible to forget."

-G.Randolph

"Good Luck Class of 2004! Thanks for all the memories I'll miss you!"

Student Committee Rep: Chris Murphy

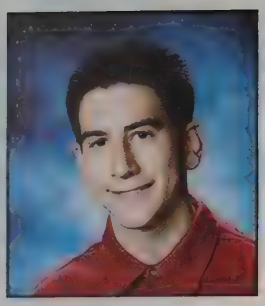

"With dedication and heart you can succeed. The price of victory is high but so are the rewards."

-Paul "Bear" Bryant

"Aim high, and follow your heart!"

Class of 2005

Junior Portraits

Joseph Coppola, President

"With our junior year coming to a end, the class of 2005 looks at next year as being a year filled with fun and many memories. Though it will be our last year of high school, we are all excited and await it eagerly!"

Jenna Petrigno, Vice President

"Over the past three years, I think we have all grown as a class. I think everyone has learned something about someone else and more about themselves. Next year is our year and we'll make it worth while."

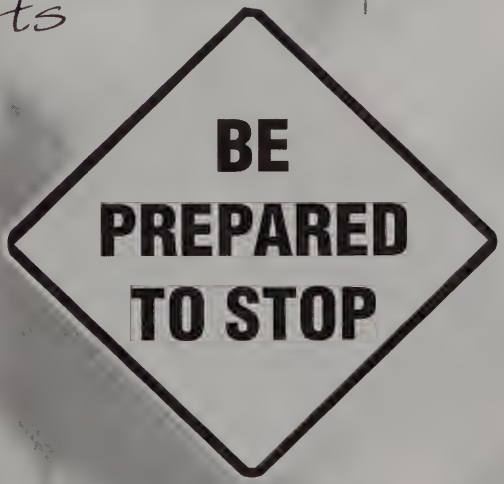

Lindsey Reid, Secretary

"Being class secretary sophomore and junior year, I have watched our class grow as a whole. We have participated in many fun and memorable events. I have high hopes for our senior year."

Erin Mills, Treasurer

"The past three years have been exciting. Next year is our year, I'm sure we will make it even better."

Ah, juniors. The little engines that could. Be happy, you have finally reached your destination. All you have to do is make it over that mountain. Put more coal in the furnace, get someone to give you a shove, but whatever you do, don't overheat yourselves. You know what they say, slow and steady wins the race.

Come on say it, you know you want to...I think I can...I think I can.

Oh The Places You'll Go

Class of 2006 Sophomore Portraits

Sophomores, so far it's been smooth sailing. However, soon you will be passing into rough waters. One wrong move and you could be sleeping with the fishes. Around May, you may even need to send an S.O.S. signal out. Don't worry, before you know it you'll be yelling, "land ho!" and before you know it you'll be docking safely.

"Although it was only our second year at MHS, we have many memories and new friendships and hope to keep making more."

Thomas Statuto, President

"At the start of our freshman year, we were not yet united as one. Now, moving on to our junior year, we are like a family, full of diversity and respect."

Kathryn Fishman, Vice President

"I believe the class of 2006 is looking foward to the greater responsibilities of being an upperclassmen. We have plans for many functions outside of the school."

Michael Cugno, Treasurer

"After completing our freshman year, I think our class grew together. We are all looking forward to having fun

Oh The Places You'll Go

Freshman Portraits

The freshmen of Medford High have just filled up their tanks with gas and are starting to move down the open stretch of road that is high school. Being the youngest class is tough. Sometimes you feel like you've stopped at a diner where everyone calls you "Hon". Other times you feel like someone gave you the wrong directions and you're now on a street that's under construction. Just remember, keep drinking that coffee, you still have a way to go!

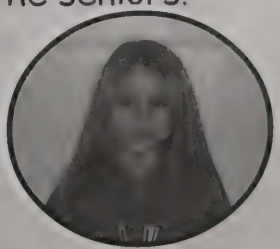

John Howard, President
"Even though it is my first year at Medford High, I can still say that is has so much to offer."

Larissa Santos, Vice President
"Just beginning at Medford High, this year has been a great experience."

Jessica Walsh, Secretary
"As a freshman at MHS, I still don't know that much about it, but it's great so far. Best of luck to the seniors!"

Julia Yanakopulos, Class Treasurer
"I think Medford High is a much more interesting place than middle school and is filled with opportunities."

Oh The Places You'll Go

Faculty and Staff

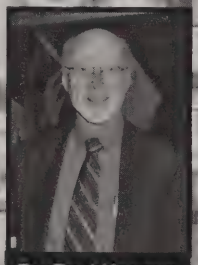

Everyone knows the faculty and staff are the real movers and shakers at Medford High. They continually push their students down life's bike path, no matter what obstacles may be in their way. During freshman year they put their students on training wheels and steer them in the right direction. Over the duration of three years, as more traffic approaches, the MHS faculty makes sure everyone wears their helmets, has their reflectors on, and doesn't go too fast down a hill. In senior year, the faculty finally lets go of the bicycle. And even though the students can then ride on their own, they'll never forget the help that they have received from the MHS faculty. After all, no students would reach their destinations if a teacher had not given them the parts to build their bike with.

Cafeteria Staff

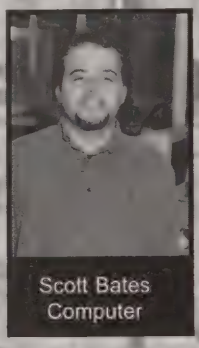

At Medford High School the lunch staff is serving it up hot. Each day the men and women of the cafeteria work at top speed: mixing, cooking, boiling, and cleaning--all for the sake of the students. Their job is not easy, but, as one senior pointed out, "They always serve with a smile." Each member of the MHS community appreciates the hard work and care that the staff puts into making this school run smoothly. The cafteria staff is an intricate part of this never ending mission.

Clubs and Organizations

In Medford High's various clubs the students run and jump and sing and play...and act and go on trips! With meetings, parties, and community events the clubs are always on the go. The journalism staff is always putting out the paper at top speed while the Hispanic Club salsas through the school. Clubs push us to realize our full potential. After running on empty throughout the school day, the MHS clubs provide outlets for students to let out their excess energy in order to shape personality and contribute to the community.

2004 Yearbook Staff

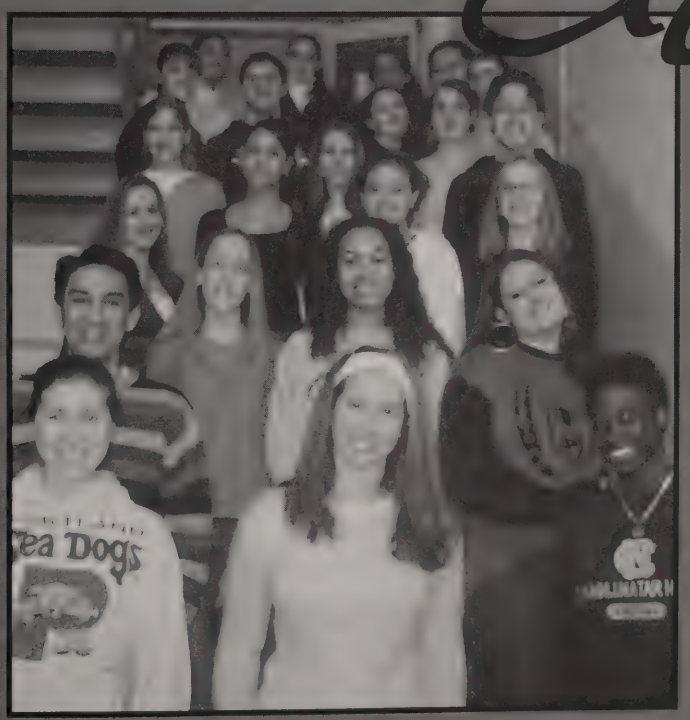

Editor-in-Chief
Chloe Reison

For most students, summer vacation is a time for relaxation and the anticipation of the upcoming year. For the yearbook staff however, this past summer was spent focusing not on September, but rather on May of 2004: the time when you would be receiving your yearbook. The creation of the 2004 yearbook was a long and exciting process. It all started last July when a group of ten staff-members, including Mr. Woodnal and myself, attended a two-day yearbook camp. We were shown countless examples of award-winning yearbooks, and left camp totally ecstatic and full of ideas. Our goal for this year was to create an amazing and unique 2004 yearbook. Although we were not able to do everything that we had hoped to, we are all very proud of the final product and feel that we well surpassed our goal. We created 48 pages of color, which is more than any recent Medford yearbook has had, included new and interesting page layouts, and increased the representation of our diverse student body. It is my staff's and my hope that you greatly enjoy this year's book. And for the class of 2004, I hope that this book brings back all of the great memories that we have shared, and captures the unique spirit of our class. Congratulations to you all--we finally made it--and best of luck in the future!

our playgrounds...

The athletes of MHS eat, breathe, and sleep sports. Their dedication and enthusiasm make the experience of our sporting events unforgettable, for both the participants and the fans. When Medford teams play, the race to the finish line is always thrilling; ready, set, GO! and they're off! Leaving run and reaching their potential. These are the moments when our athletes try their hardest: making a basket or a hole in one, scoring a goal, a homerun or a touchdown, and winning a first place title. Of course we do not always win first place, but in the eyes of the school and the community, MHS athletes are always victorious.

When people think of MHS they think with the noble Mustang. We definitely have a They even named a car after us. According to one student,

Everyday, herds of students stampede through our halls, displaying pride for our school's sports teams. Some do this by wearing blue and white many students go to the extreme by painting their faces or dying their hair. Participating and being a fan of the Mustang sports teams are two ways of your devotion. But, many students show their Mustang Pride in other ways-participating in plays and clubs, working hard in school and attending social events, crowding students and theaters, attending pep rallies and worshipping our school mascot despite some accusations that it has a giraffe-like appearance. As one student said of their pride,

"Blue and White runs through my veins. Mustang Pride will always be a part of me. No matter what." This is true for all of matter how the students of MHS show their pride, one thing is true: Mustang pride affects all of us in some w another. We all can identify with the symbol of the Mustang: wild and free.

2003 was a great year for Mustang Football. Unfortunately, MHS doesn't always get the touchdowns. However, the leadership and commitment the players displayed was exceptional. Each year the football team gives us some of the most exciting moments in MHS sports, and this year was no different. From the first day of double sessions to the final Thanksgiving Day game our football athletes served as role models for all their followers. Throughout the season the team played their hardest. The support they received was evident at this years elaborate pep rally. The next day, countless fans braved the weather to see the Mustangs beat those Golden Tornados. Okay, so they didn't win the Thanksgiving Day game. They were still winners in our hearts. And don't forget...there's always next year.

GOLF

This year Medford High's golf team putted their way to a match-winning season. In fact, six of the team's members swung their clubs all the way to States. Golf takes a lot of concentration and determination and the team tried their hardest during each match. They always made sure to never get caught in a sand trap and always aimed for a hole in one. Who knows? Maybe we could see the next Tiger Woods emerge from one of Medford High's most popular sports teams. With golf, anything can happen. Just watch out for your car windows. Fore!

2003 proved to be one of the most spectacular and exciting seasons for boy's soccer. The team followed the thrill of the 2002 season by kicking their way to a terrific, goal-making year. Miraculously, that ball continually made it through the goal posts. The defense wasn't too shabby either as the team repeatedly kept the other team from scoring the most points. Thanks to the Mustangs, the constantly spinning ball mesmerized fans. And it wasn't just MHS students and faculty who were spellbound. All of Medford sat on the edge of their seats during each equally intense game. The team even got a special pep rally due to their amazing performance. Despite not winning every game this year, the JV Girls Soccer team fought their hardest on the field. The season also proved to be a great learning experience. InDoor TRACK

The indoor track team ran as fast as they could this season. After they were done doing that they continued to run...and after that? You guessed it. They ran some more. The team may have run circles on the track, but all that paid off, allowing for their great accomplishments this season. This past year marks the first time the girls beat Peabody in a fantastic relay match. The boys also did very well, running some of the best times in the GBL. Indoor track is a demanding sport that takes a lot out of the team members. The sixty-three members should take a break with all the work they do. Instead they put all their enery into crossing the finish line. All this dedication makes Medford High's indoor track team the best in the state, according to many school members. That's right, they're grrrrreat!

The 2003-2004 swim season went swimmingly for Medford High. Nope, no floundering around for the twenty-odd members of the team. This season marked the first time Medford swimming has ever beaten Somerville in a sink or swim match up! The team also competed with drive and determination at the GBL All-League Meet in early February. The crew learned the true meaning of team-work due to their spirit and enthusiasm. Throughout the season, the swim team had pasta parties, superbowl parties, and truly became a family. With the help of our coaches, Mary Judge and Mary Hoarty, the 2003-2004 season gave way to an extremely energetic, dedicated and hard-working team. We really made a splash this year!

CAPTAINS of 2004

This year the boy's lacrosse team was under construction. The eam faced the loss of several graduated seniors and a beginning season taht was a little rocky. However, the remaining players and the many new teammates have shown 2004 to be a rebuilding year. Starting all over again can be difficult. Fortunately, athletes will never give up. Theam was built back up again piece by piece until boys lacross was ready for action. Despite not always winning, the boy's lacrosse team has definitely proven to be a valuable source of pride for MHS!

TRACK &FIELD

Ah, running outside with the wind in your hair can be so peaceful! That is until someone from another team is on your heels. These are the thoughts that run through the heads of the members of the track and field team. In order to beat other teams they must use cunning strategies, clever tactics, and of course, they always have to run as fast as they can. Remarkably, the track team always makes sure they're ahead of the game no matter who the competition is. However, if you want to tell them how great they are, you'll have to catch up to them first!

Oh The Places You'll Go

Advertising

The following pages are dedicated to people who jump through hoops. However, unlike Medford's athletes, these people belong in a different hall of fame althogether. These people are the business owners of Medford! Each day they run back and forth for the sake of their customers and citizens of Medford. They zig-zag, dash, and sprint to benefit the commmunity and often go unappreciated. But think about it. Where would we be without all the caring dentists, policeman, and shop owners of Medford? (I'll tell you where we would be: Malden.) But seriously, without the ads the businesses of Medford purchased, this year's yearbook would have been impossible. so thank you Medford business, you came in first and you got the gold.

OH! THE PLACES YOU'LL GO!

You'll be on your way up!
You'll be seeing great sights!
You'll join the high fliers who soar to high heights.

You won't lag behind, because you'll have the speed.
You'll pass the whole gang and you'll soon take the lead.
Wherever you fly, you'll be best of the best.
Wherever you go, you will top all the rest.
