Through the Years...

Past, Present, and Future

Seniors Nicole Repetto, Courtney Dwyer, Jessica Walsh, and Jenn Hunt at their eighth grade graduation (left) and again during their senior year of high school (below).

For the class of 2007, our time at Medford High has been a long journey, from locker troubles during Freshman year, to trying to get that coveted independent study as Seniors.

We've spent the past four years walking these halls just like hundreds of others did before us, and hundreds more will.

With this year's book, we hope to honor the rich tradition and memories of Medford High's past, the students who attend MHS today, and what's ahead for the class of 2007. We will leave this building with unforgettable memories of the past and great ideas for the future.

MHS Old and New

Can you just imagine having to wear those short shorts today?

1959

It seems like even styles for formal occasions from back in the day haven't changed that much.

1967

Big hair and overalls? That's something we haven't seen at Medford High in a while.

1989

Students only five years older than us lead the way to the dance floor.

2002

Now, the girls we all know and love approach the end of their high school careers, all smiles.

2006

Wait. That can't be... No. It's not...Is it?

Your high school teachers, of the past and present

A Message from the Administration

Mr. Belson

Congratulations to each of you on your achievement of a Medford High School diploma. This is an important step for you in the transition from youth to adulthood. However, in today's competitive global economy a High School diploma is not enough. You must continue to pursue education throughout your life. You cannot drop out after High School. Challenges will keep on coming and you will only be ready for them if you are committed to life long learning.

There will be many opportunities to keep on learning, but you must take responsibility for continuous progress. It will not be mandated to you through compulsory attendance. The choices you make will determine the quality of your life. In essence, you are investing in yourself when you continue your education. It will be the best investment you ever make, but you must make it yourself. Don't miss out. Please accept my best wishes for a healthy, happy, and prosperous future.

Dr. Krueger

The Medford High School Class of 2007 has shown a distinct personality, has demonstrated a variety of strengths, and has made a series of contributions to your school and to the Medford community as a whole.

In academics, you can be justifiably proud of your many achievements. For instance, with strong MCAS scores, you have added considerably to the positive reputation of MHS. Your commitment to academic excellence has also been evident in a wide range of college acceptances and in Advanced Placement scores that may indeed break another Medford High School record.

In addition, with regard to student activities, you have brought excitement and new life to our school in your pursuits outside of the classroom. As an illustration, the participation of our seniors has been, in part, responsible for the growth of the drama program, which now includes the fall play, the competition play, a night of one-act plays, and the annual musical comedy. Furthermore, your involvement has improved the spirit of your class in the Scooter Soccer Tournament, Boston Harbor Cruise, Pep Rally Skit, Powder Puff Football Game, Parent Pizza Night, Holiday Dance, Spirit Week, Senior Luau, Mr. MHS Pageant, and Senior Prom.

Throughout your years at Medford High School, your athletic prowess has led our teams to tournament play in a variety of sports, and your high level of integrity has earned you the distinction of winning the MIAA Sportsmanship Award three times. In both victory and defeat, you have been exemplary ambassadors for Medford High School and excellent role models for our underclassmen throughout the building.

Thanks for all that you as a class have done for Medford High School. And best wishes for a lifetime filled with close friends, family, and fond memories of your high school years.

Paul H. Krueger, Ed. D.
Headmaster

To you we owe it all...

Ms. Trainor

These two women have been there these past four years to help us with our problems, to give us advice, or just to listen to us complain. We thank you for everything you've done for us!

- Class of 2007

When you arrived at Medford High School those four not-so-long years ago, could you have imagined what was in store for you? Remember the classes, the friends, the sports, the organizations, the drama, and the studying? Now another chapter in your life begins. As the great American Author Dr. Seuss has written, "Oh, the Places You'll Go!"

As you go forward into this world, find something that moves you and become involved. Be brave, be bold and take action. Defy the gods. You will be astonished how many of them turned out to have feet of clay. Be guided, if possible, by your better natures. You may not always be popular, but you will be part of something greater than yourself.

Before you go I want to offer you a few peices of advice: first, being pre-approved for a credit card does not mean you have to apply for it. Second, do something great. Sometime in the future I want to hear about some incredible thing you've done and be able to say that was one of my students!

May your future be worthy of your dreams. Good luck and many congratulations to you all.

Love, Rosemary Trainor, Submaster, Class of 2007

Ms. McCarthy

When we first met I did not realize how much you would all mean to me in the years ahead. I have laughed and cried with you, seen you through good times and bad, listened when you needed an ear and I hope that somewhere down the road when you look back, as I will, and remember your years at Medford High you will include me in those memories. I wish you all the best in everything you do.

Curtis Tufts

A Student's perspective:

The Curtis-Tufts Alternative High School at a glance looks like a small outlet of other school systems for students unfit to attend their schools. On the inside, it is much more. It is not a school of delinquents. It is a real community of students who have the opportunity to succeed in school while getting their needs met and their lives together; sometimes getting a second chance that other schools would not give. Between the teachers and the counselors, we have the support we need and can meet our unique goals. The classes are much smaller, and allow for individual attention and independent work for people of different ability levels. Our community is small, and no one is just a face in the crowd. You are a person at the Curtis, as opposed to an ID number at a larger school.

Hey Underclassmen...

Sign my yearbook!

A New Beginning

"When I entered Medford High School, I was nervous about how different things would be. I thought the work would be hard and I wouldn't have time for fun, but I soon realized that was not true. The upper classmen have been really welcoming and we have begun to grow together as a class. I am excited for the next three years and the time we will spend together."

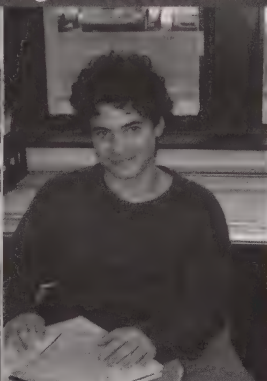

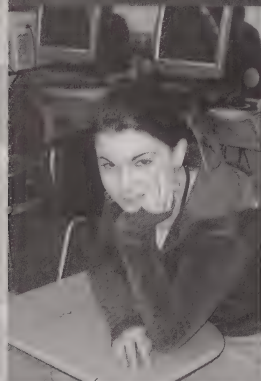

-Briana Crowell

Friendships that will last a LIFETIME!

Freshman classes, and you thought middle school was hard!

The class of 2010 gets their first taste of MHS tradition by taking their class photo in the courtyard!

On their first day of school, students show their interest in the activities offered at MHS.

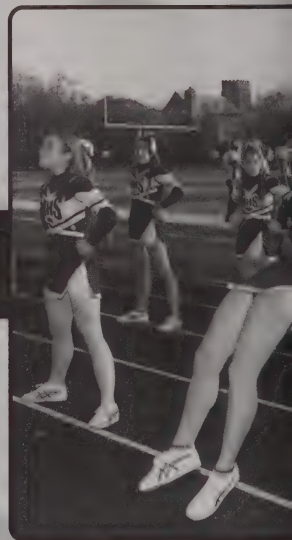

Freshmen Cuties!!

These new students enter the school ready for class, sports, and a new experience.

Medford High School takes great pride in its sports and in its athletes. The Medford versus Malden football rivalry is one of the oldest in New England, and this season the Mustangs were able to beat the Malden Golden Tornados in one of the most exciting games in years. Last year, our own Boys' Hockey team were the Greater Boston League Champions, and were the only public school to enter the Super 8 Tournament. Every year, both the Boys' Soccer team and the Girls' Cheerleading squad excel in their athletic performances, making them eligible for various tournaments that result in numerous awards. Every student that participates in sports at Medford High School truly knows what it is to be a Mustang.

Outdoor Track

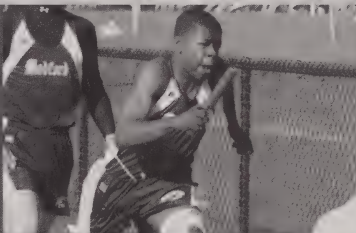

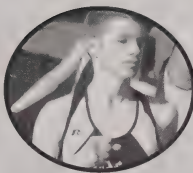

Track and field has allowed me to travel all over the world and meet all different kinds of people. It has been the source of some of my greatest memories and experiences so far in my life. In track you are your biggest competitor and teammate and there is no greater satisfaction when you are able to overcome your own expectation.

-Arantxa King

sure no one I was racing against went hungry; they had a nice helping of dust."

Captain Charles Roche
"Track is like a box of chocolates....you never know what you're gonna get."

Boys' Lacrosse

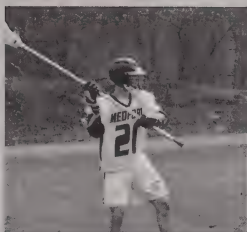

The players of the Boys' Lacrosse team will enter a difficult season after losing key players to graduation and the loss of Coach Gianleo Duca. The team must work hard to recover from the major changes they have had to undergo this past year. Although they have their work cut out for them, the boys feel confident in their ability and in their players to be able to win games and do well in their season.

Girls' Lacrosse

"This is the closest group of girls that I've ever had the honor of playing with and leading. Whether there is a problem about the game or in general, I know that I can count on my teammates for anything."

~ Senior Captain Sam Guigli

"I am eagerly anticipating this lacrosse season. We have great leadership in our captains, Elys Traverse, Sam Guigli, Lauren Santini, and Brittany Gunn. Hopefully our hardwork and dedication will pay off and land us a spot in the state tournament. We have talent to accomplish great things; only time will tell."

~ Coach Matt Galusi

Girls' Softball

"Don't let the fear of striking out keep you from playing the game"

Captain Carla Andre

"Our coaches have always told us that we did not need to be best friends with our teammates, as long as we played together on the field. I always thought, 'how could I not be best friends with my teammates?' The friends I've made at softball are the best I have."

Captain Bridget Sousa

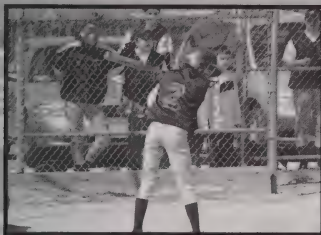

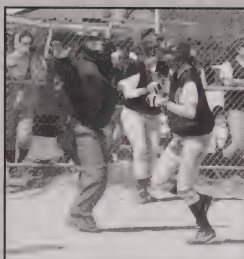

"This being my fourth year on varsity and second year as a co-captain, I've seen how well a group of girls could make a close-knit team and overcome differences. I hope it's the same way this year and that they realize when it comes time to play, it's just you and the eight other girls you have playing the field with you. Trust, hardwork, diligence, and a good time; those are my hopes."

Captain Patrice Buccieri

"Each player on this team, despite their age or ability, has taught me something and made me into a better player and person. No matter where this season takes us, each team member holds a special place in my heart."

Most think softball is an easy sport, but think twice; the Mustang Girls' Softball team spends the winter season preparing for the spring in the batting cages. When it is time for the season, finding the right person to drag bunt or that person to slide into second base safe for a stolen bag is key to making a good team. Taking grounders indoor at the High School, you're sure to get a ball somewhere off your body. While working hard, the girls involved in softball get the job done, whether it is making a double play, laying down a key bunt, or hitting a triple into right-center field. The team has a good time, gets some good hits, and play the field. There is no time for quitters when a player step between those foul lines. When playing softball at Medford High School, it is you, your teammates, and your opponents--you bet it's on.

"Although I am unable to play due to my knee injury, I am still going to cheer on and support a team that I have been with for four years. This year our team will need to dedicate lots of time and hard work, but we are capable of achieving anything."

~ Senior Cayla Ford

Waiting for Spring...

The Boys' Baseball team is anxious for the spring. With constant practices in the batting cages and high hopes for the spring season, the members of the Medford High baseball team are ready to play. The team not only foresees a successful season, but they also expect to become united as a true team.

"The team demonstrated an excellent work ethic over the winter. Many people stepped up to fill in open positions."

Mustang Captains

"I've been playing sports all my life, and I've never had a coach like coach DeFelice. He taught us a lot about life, not just football. He never gave up on us and always believed, no matter what happened."

This years' Medford Mustang Girls' Volleyball Team was a great one! Nearly everyone got along, and if they didn't, they never showed it while on the court. There were fewer girls than in previous years, but this just brought the team closer together as a whole.

Coaches Leah Saxton and Christine Virgillio worked their girls very hard to bring them to what they wanted. They may not have won every game, but they strived their hardest at all times. They even brought themselves to take a win from one of the matches against the Peabody team, something Medford hasn't seen in a long time from the volleyball team.

Although the 2006 season for the Girls' Soccer team may not have been the most successful, it sure was a memorable experience. If the team was not on the field practicing, then they were spending quality time joking around with each other. Basketball is a game of not only endurance and strength, but hardwork and talent. These combined make up the Medford High School Girls' Basketball team. This season, although one with critical injuries to crucial teammates, was an extraordinary accomplishment for the team. For the first time since 2002, the Lady Mustangs were able to make it in the first round in the tournament; a huge honor for the team. The girls' had an incredible season with an extremely close-knit team, and have the same expectations for next winter.

To the world of sports, Gymnastics is known as an individual activity. Though this is true, it has been the tradition of the Medford High Gymnastics team to alter this to a team-based sport. Year after year, the team enters the gymnastics room ready to improve previous routines and gain new skill. This is all done under the influence and supervision of the team coach and three senior captains that have helped mold this team into a family. We have learned that it is not about winning or losing, watching or competing, but about the time spent together and the memories made.

Students at Medford High School are lucky to be part of a diverse environment. From athletes to artists, math mavens to mad scientists MHS has a club for everyone. For many students the school day doesn't end at 2:18, with meetings after school and tons of activities it would be hard to find a club that didn't cater to your passions. Whether your interests lie in culture, academics, art, or music, MHS has it all!

year book staff

The yearbook staff is among the most dedicated clubs in the school. This entire yearbook was designed and created by students. Together, the staff works hard to ensure that the yearbook is a memory book for both students and faculty members to look back on for years to come. This year's staff was smaller than that of previous years, consisting of thirteen students (a majority of which are seniors) that worked rigorously to make the book as perfect as possible. Also, in order to raise money for the yearbook, the staff hosted the first annual Black & White Affair, which turned out to be a huge success!

The MHS Drama Club is a large group of students that successfully three productions each year. Under the guidance and direction of Mr. Johnny Woodnal approximately fifty students are involved in a fall play, one act productions, and a spring musica each year. This year the Drama Club presented its darkest and most dramatic fall play, The Visit; displayed the true meaning of "the show must go on" to present its second annual night of one acts, and broke records by selling out nearly every show of the spring musical production of Sugar.

The National Honor Society is the home of some of the hardest working students in Medford High. Members of the NHS show exemplary skills in academics, leadership qualities, and boast a long list of community service hours. NHS members tutor MHS students as well as coordinate many projects in the community. This year the NHS read to daycare age children and put on a puppet show to raise disability awareness.

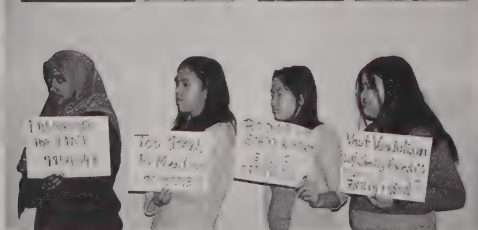

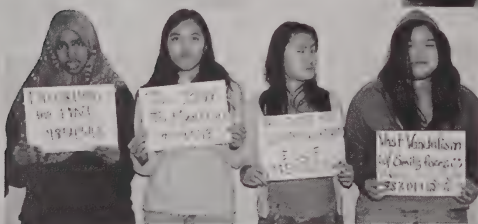

The Mock Trial Team is composed of students who learn to try a case from the perspective of the prosecution and the defense and compete against other local high schools. This year the topic of the trial was vehicular manslaughter. The Mock Trial Team is a great educational club that teaches it's members the value of teamwork as well as prepares them to pursue their interests in both law and public speaking.

The Hispanic Culture Club brings together students that are interested in displaying pride in their Latino heritage, or those that would like to learn more about their culture. Each year, the club choreographs its own dance to perform in front of a large audience of students at the annual talent show. The Hispanic Culture Club hopes to spread information about Hispanic culture and remain active in the community.

The Asian Culture Club is composed of students who are passionate and interested in aspects of Asian culture. From Chinese New Year to Anima, the Asian culture club celebrates it all. One major way the Asian Culture Club has been active in the Medford High community is by selling Chinese fighting fish for various holidays, including Valentine's Day. Our very own Mr. Ambrose even indulged by buying his very fish named William Shakespeare.

The purpose of the Medford High School Art Club is to foster a spirit of fellowship and social interaction for those students interested in the arts; to provide creative opportunities; to enhance and enrich the visual environment; to promote the visual arts; and to encourage community involvement with an awareness of high school visual art. Membership is open to any and all students and is determined by your attendance and participation in club activities.

The MHS band is a wonderful part of the music department. Students in the band spend class time working on their musicianship as well as musical skills and they are always ready to hit the field during marching season. Whether they are playing from the stands at Hormel, or onstage in the Little Theatre, the band always sounds great.

The Key Club is certainly one of the most caring clubs at MHS. Members of the Key Club work tirelessly throughout the year to organize tons of fundraisers and community service projects such as, toys for tots, Christmas caroling, winter coat drives, and the Mystic River clean up.

The Step Squad is one of the most entertaining clubs at MHS. The Step Squad was named Diamonds this year and performed unique and creative routines at many events. It is always thrilling to watch the squad step and dance to great music, the energy these girls bring always gets the crowd excited!

The African Culture Club gathers to celebrate and inform the community about African culture. During Black History Month, the African Culture Club makes announcements over the PA honoring major figures in Black history. The club also joins with Tufts University to participate in the Emerging Black Leaders program where club members meet and listen to college students speak on issues of racial identity.

The MHS orchestra consists of over fifty students ranging from grades nine to twelve. Students meet regularly during class to perfect their pieces as well as several days after school. Throughout each school year, the orchestra holds two concerts on the stage in the Little Theater and also volunteers to entertain patients at the Lawrence Memorial Hospital and local nursing homes.

Throughout each school year the Mustang News staff works extremely hard to publish issues on a quarterly basis. Each edition informs the students and faculty about current events in and around the school community, as well as entertainment news and reviews both in and out school.

The MHS student council plays an important role within the high school, planning dances, organizing fundraisers, and raising school morale in general. The student council works hard to honor leaders within the school and find worthy causes for which to raise money. The student council also strives to make MHS a better place for everyone, taking a genuine interest in the ideas of students of what can be improved. The student council is truly the voice of Medford's students.

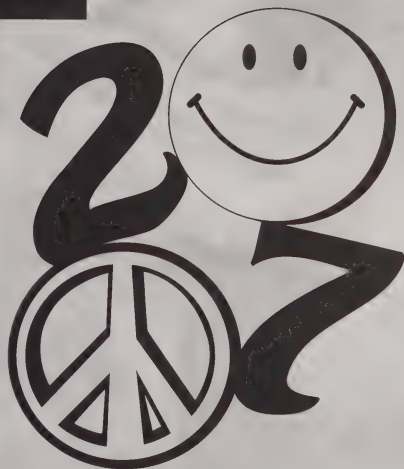

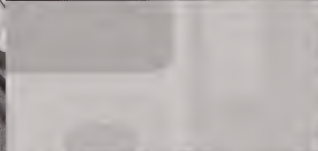

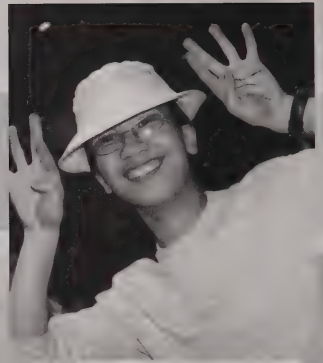

MHS Student Council Advisors
Mrs. Nancy Donlon and Mr. Kevin Cullen

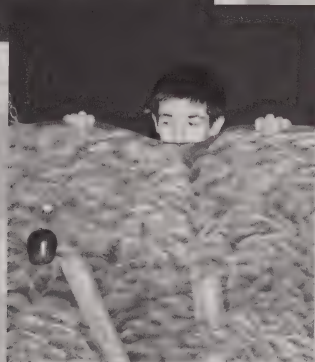

The Gay Straight Alliance is a vibrant club whose mission is to raise awareness about gay and lesbian issues and to create a sense of tolerance in the community. Each year the GSA hosts a number of fantastic events such as the day of silence and coffee houses that showcase students' musical and poetic talents.

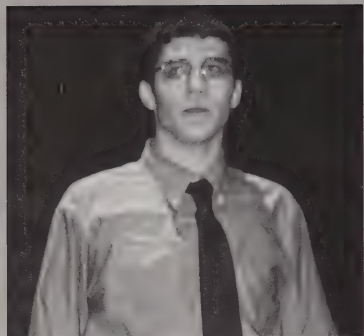

The Ambassadors to Change is a fantastic group of students that strives to create community ties throughout the school. A new club for the 2006-2007 school year, the ATC has hosted guest speakers for its members and hopes to host activities in the future to help bring the student body of MHS together.

Each year the Medford High School Drama Club produces three productions: a fall play, the new annual one acts, and a spring musical.

This year the drama club put on the largest fall production in years, consisting of a cast of thirty-six students. Amazingly this show was produced in a short five weeks.

The entire cast and crew devoted enormous amounts of their time to ensure that this production went off without a hitch. This was an easy task with Mr. Johnny Woodnal at the helm.

The play revolves around a wealthy woman, Claire Zachanassian (Sarah Fingerman) who returns to her childhood town seeking revenge against Anton Schill (Louis Rocco), her former lover. The rest of the play focuses on the town's dilemma of deciding between loyalty and wealth.

behind the scenes with the MHS Drama Club

2nd Annual One Act Play Festival

For the second consecutive year, the Medford High Drama Club produced a night of one-act plays. This year, the event revolved around three separate plays. The shows were under the direction of veteran director, senior Sarah Fingerman, and also two new directors to the club: senior Timothy Gilligan and first-year English teacher, Ms. Bevin Shagoury.

Sarah directed the comedic farce Black Comedy about a young couple preparing for a dinner party when there is an abrupt blackout. The play revolves around Brindsley (Durney) who is a struggling artist attempting to sell his work and gain the approval of his potential future father-in-law (Gilligan) at the same time.

Ms. Shagoury directed The Diaries of Adam and Eve, which offered a twist to the traditional story of the first days in the Garden of Eden. In this version of the tale, Adam (Howard) and Eve (Mazzone) write in the diaries about their daily activities. With only two cast members and forty pages of monologues to memorize, Adam and Eve was a difficult production, but proved to be a success.

The last show of the evening was Medusa's Tale, which depicts the legend of the woman with snakes for hair and her life after.

From the Directors...

"This was my first experience directing and I hope to be able to direct again. The show dealt with some tough themes, but luckily I had a cast who was very mature about it. The actual competition at Weston could not have been a better experience. The whole day was filled with very enjoyable theater and everyone was extraordinarily friendly. My only regret is that I won't have a chance to do this again."

- Timothy Gilligan, Medusa's Tale

"Directing Black Comedy was scary at first because it was such a challenging show, not to mention directing my own director! But that only made me 20 times more excited when it turned out fantastic!"

- Sarah Fingerman, Black Comedy

"It was a nerve-wracking and exciting experience. I was working with such talented actors and stage managers and I was truly fixated on working as hard as possible to create something really wonderful. I was captivated when watching the final performances; they were in their element, and everyone's combined effort made me extraordinarily proud."

Pep Rally!

On November 22, 2006, the entire school came together to show support for the Mustang Football Team. Speeches were given by Dr. Krueger, Mayor McGlynn, Mr. Mattatall, Mr. Belson, and Coach Defelice. Both the Junior Varsity and Varsity cheerleading teams performed their award-winning routines. The Step Squad showed their skills and brought the audience to their feet. Of course the top secret senior skit was one of the highlights of a very sucessful rally. It's clear that the support provided by the students of MHS was inspiration enough for the Mustangs to bring home the trophy on Thanksgiving Day!

Onward mighty Mustangs
Our hopes are pinned on you
We'll stampede the foe
As onward we go
Onward to victory
GO! GO! GO!
Onward mighty Mustangs
We want a touchdown
Hear our cry
Bring victory to Medford High - The Medford High School Fight Song

For the first time in Medford High history, the sophomore class of 2009 held a fashion show for all to enjoy. They did a great job in putting it on and everyone who participated, or attended, will agree that they had a very good time. The idea of a fashion show is probably something that Medford High will embrace and put on again in the schools future.

FACULTY

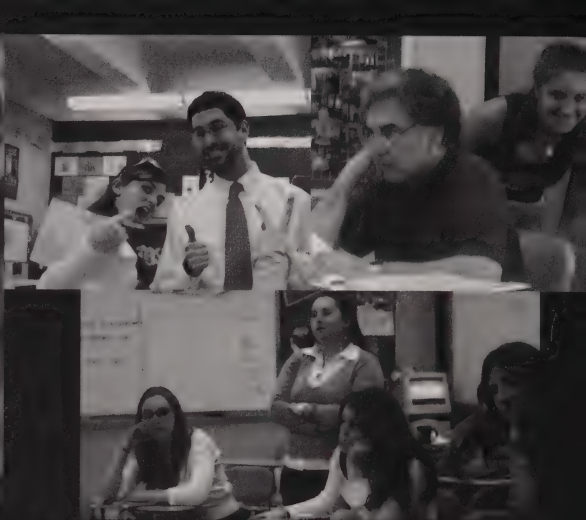

Cicero once said...

"What nobler employment, or more valuable to the state, than that of the man who instructs the rising generation."

Students at Medford High know that Cicero wasn't too far off! In fact the teachers here at MHS are almost as wise as Cicero himself. As students at MHS, we've been lucky to have such an amazing faculty helping us throughout these past four years. Everyone employed at Medford High, from the teachers to the submasters to the secretaries, is incredibly efficient and caring! As freshmen when we chose our classes it seemed like the upperclassmen always had glowing reports about each and every teacher; no matter the subject, everyone had a favorite. The class of 2007 owes the faculty of MHS a huge thank you because it's safe to say that without having them here to guide us, we wouldn't even be graduating in the first place!

To the Class of 2007,

We have shared the last four years of our lives here at Medford High School. I know that most of you are moving on to further your education or to begin a new career after MHS. I am confident that the future holds success for all the members of our class. As young men and women in the world, keep yourself safe, healthy and look to your family for love and support. Each and every one of you has the power to "rock the world."

Good Luck and I will miss you!

Maria Ceddia (Cedds)
Guidance Counselor
Class of 2007

I became class advisor for the first time my second year teaching at MHS. I had no idea what to expect. I can honestly say that I have genuinely enjoyed advising each year and that is because of the cooperation and dedication I continually received from this class. Watching the students come together as a class and enjoy their time together really made everything worthwhile. I feel very lucky to have had the opportunity to really get to know this class as students, athletes, thespians, humanitarians, and individuals. I feel all the emotions of a proud parent watching her children grow to be young, successful, mature adults. I believe that all of you are talented and can achieve the greater things that you deserve. Thank you for a remarkable, memorable, and gratifying four years that I will truly cherish. I will miss you all! Good luck with your future endeavors.

Ms. Christina Virgilio

Seniors:

As you go out and find your places in the world, you should remember that it's always okay to be a nerd at what you love! (Especially if it is math...)

GOOD LUCK
GRADUATES

Medford High School's Illustrious English Department Faculty

Wood and Associates

Congratulates the Medford High School Class of 2007 on graduating and wishes the best of luck on their future endeavours.

The staff of the MHS English Department would like to congratulate the Class of 2007 by saying farewell to excellent leaders & role models. The department wishes continued success to our Seniors. We will cherish your contributions throughout the years. The future is yours.

Voke Farewell

*Don't be dismayed at good-byes.
A farewell is necessary before you can meet again.*

*And meeting again after moments or lifetimes,
is certain for those who are friends.*

*Always cherish these four years,
it's where you found yourself.
-Dannyelle Hudson*

*Faces of old and faces of new.
People we know and people we knew.
Growing together then drifting apart.
Always an ending and now a new start.
At graduation we all grow nearer, and all of our friends seem to much dearer.
And as we say our final goodbye,
one last embrace and one more cry.
A "keep in touch" and a "promise I will,"
a "remember when"
but, better still:
a place in my heart, you'll always stay.
This is what's said as we go our own way.*

*We've had lots of good times,
and some bad times.
But no matter what,
this place is going to stay in our hearts forever.
I never thought the day would come that I would have to say goodbye to all of my friends. These were the best four years I have had, and I will never forget you guys.*

*Congratulations Class Of 2007
We Made it!
Theresa Banks*

Congratulations Class Of 2007!!!

*So much has happened,
So many memories shared.
Most of them were happy,
But some made us sad.*

*Classes and Teachers,
Passes and books.
Some'll become writers,
Some'll become cooks.*

*Some'll become couples,
Some old news.
Some'll become heroes,
Some'll have to lose.*

*Friends were made,
and lives were saved.
Hearts were broken,
And some words were left unspoken.*

*But through it all,
we somehow didn't fall
and we as a whole,
Became stronger and stood tall.*

Congratulations Voke Class of 2007

We Made It!!!!

-Alison Juliano

June: the month most seniors live for.
The end of one life and the beginning of another.

Farewell, Seniors...

Friendship is the hardest thing in the world to explain. It's not something you learn in school, but if you haven't learned the meaning of friendship, you really haven't learned anything.

- Muhammad Ali

True friendship consists not in the multitude of friends, but in their worth and value.

- Ben Jonson

Don't be dismayed at goodbyes. A farewell is necessary before you can meet again. And meeting again, after moments or lifetime, is certain for those who are friends.

- Richard Bach

I wanted a perfect ending. Now I've learned, the hard way, that some poems don't rhyme, and some stories don't have a clear beginning, middle, and end. Life is about not knowing, having to change, taking the moment and making the best of it, without knowing what's going to happen next.

- Gilda Radner

You have been my friend. That in itself is a tremendous thing. I wove my webs for you because I liked you. After all, what's a life, anyway? We're born, we live a little while, we die. A spider's life can't help being something of a mess, with all this trapping and eating flies. By helping you, perhaps I was trying to lift up my life a trifle. Heaven knows anyone's life can stand a little of that.

- E.B. White

Don't cry because it's over. Smile because it happened.

- Dr. Seuss

How lucky I am to have something that makes saying goodbye so hard.

- Carol Sobieski and Thomas Meehan

Wherever you go, no matter what the weather, always bring your own sunshine.

- Anthony J. D'Angelo

Today you are You, that is truer than true. There is no one alive who is Youer than You.

- Dr. Seuss

You are educated. Your certification is in your degree. You may think of it as the ticket to the good life. Let me ask you to think of an alternative. Think of it as your ticket to change the world.

- Tom Brokaw

We'll miss you, Class of 2007!
