Franklin Elementary

Family Newsletter

Dear Franklin Families,

November is the perfect time of year to pause and practice gratitude. On behalf of the Franklin staff, I would like to express appreciation to you. Thank you for the continuous support and partnership, together, we are creating the best learning experience for Franklin students.

Parent-teacher conferences were a success, the conversations were enthusiastic and student focused. Staff carefully plan for each meeting with you because we know students are more successful when we value and nurture the strong school and home partnership. Your dedication to a solid educational foundation for your child is so evident because of your support through; great attendance, continued communication, volunteering, social, emotional and academic based conversations and extracurricular involvement. Again, thank you for everything!

I hope you are enjoying the changing colors and the brisk air that November brings. As we prepare for the winter season and the weather turns cooler, I kindly request your help; would you please talk with your child/ren about the cooler temperatures and have them dress in warmer clothes for school recess?

Sincerely,

Denise Tetzlaff

Sienna has been wonderful at participating in class. She is consistently following expectations and encourages her classmates to follow along as well. Sienna is always doing her best! Keep it up Sienna!

Kyler is always willing to clean up our classroom when others leave a mess behind. He is so considerate of the other students in our class

Meilani is such a great friend who goes out of her way to make sure that her friends are ok. She displayed this the other morning and it was truly wonderful of her :)

Great job keeping the bubble in your mouth to ensure that you are always at a zero in the hallways Amelia!

Jamison took time to help two classmates who sit near him to help them with their math assignment. He offered to help them when he noticed they were struggling. I am so proud of his helpfulness and responsibility! Keep up the great work, Jamison!

She is doing such a great job with her school work! Her determination and positive outlook makes such a positive impact on those around her! I am so incredibly proud of her growth this year!

CORNER

Welcome!

Dear Family,

We are excited to tell you that we will be using PurposeFull People this year, a program that teaches skills to help students be successful in school and in life.

We believe that students should have safe, predictable places to learn where they feel included. Students should have healthy and helpful connections with teachers and classmates. They should also experience learning that will help them tackle challenges inside and outside of school. PurposeFull People is more than a set of lessons - it is a partnership between schools and families to create a place where students feel like they belong and learn skills that will help them be the best they can be!

The path forward is full of growth! We cannot wait to partner with you in this work...

- To teach students how to build strong friendships
- To work together to solve problems, big and small
- To grow skills for life
- To become PurposeFull People

November–Diabetes Awareness Month

Diabetes is a chronic condition that occurs when the body can't produce enough insulin or can't use insulin properly, resulting in high blood sugar levels.

Where does insulin come from and what role does it play? Insulin is a hormone produced by the pancreas. It helps move sugar from the bloodstream into the body's cells to be used for energy. Think of this whole process like a lock and key system. Imagine that the body's cells have locked doors and insulin is the key that opens the locks to allow the sugar in. The pancreas is the company that makes the keys.

What happens to insulin in diabetes? There are three types of diabetes: Type 1, Type 2 and gestational diabetes. Type 1 diabetes is an autoimmune condition where the body mistakenly attacks the cells in the pancreas that create insulin. Eventually the pancreas can't make insulin anymore or can't make enough to keep up with the body's needs. The company has stopped manufacturing keys so there are little to no keys available to open the locks. In Type 2 diabetes, the body produces insulin but cannot use it properly. The company is still making keys but the locks are rusty so the keys don't open the locks as well. Gestational diabetes is a type of diabetes that occurs when a pregnant person is unable to produce enough insulin or use the insulin effectively. There are not enough keys and some of the locks are rusty.

What are the common symptoms of diabetes? Per the American Diabetes Association, some common symptoms of diabetes include:

- Urinating often
- Feeling very thirsty
- Feeling very hungry even though you are eating
- Extreme fatigue
- Blurry vision
- Cuts/bruises that are slow to heal
- Weight loss even though you are eating more (type 1)
- Tingling, pain, or numbness in your hands/feet (type 2)

Can diabetes be prevented? There is currently no known way to prevent Type 1 diabetes. Things that can help to lower chances of developing Type 2 diabetes include eating healthy, being active, and maintaining a healthy weight. The American Diabetes Association offers a free 60-second Type 2 Diabetes Risk Test.

For more information about diabetes, possible long term complications and how you can help, please visit the American Diabetes Association website.
