The Mount Olive Township School District is proud to announce that Mr. James Carifi, Director of Security, has been honored with the prestigious New Jersey School Boards Unsung Superheroes in Education Award in the category of School Security Personnel. This distinguished recognition celebrates educational professionals who work diligently behind the scenes to create safe, nurturing, and efficient learning environments for students.

Mr. Carifi, who joined Mount Olive Township School District in 2019, has demonstrated exceptional leadership and innovation in his role as Director of Security. His strategic vision and implementation of comprehensive security measures have significantly enhanced the district's safety infrastructure, benefiting students, staff, and the entire school community.

"Mr. Carifi's selection for this award is a true testament to his dedication, hard work, and unwavering commitment to ensuring the safety and security of our school community," stated the Board of Education. "His efforts have not gone unnoticed, and they are extremely appreciated by everyone in our district."

The New Jersey School Boards Unsung Superheroes in Education Awards program recognizes outstanding staff members who contribute significantly to the daily operations of their schools while often working outside the spotlight. Mr. Carifi's selection for this award highlights the essential role that security personnel play in modern education.

Thanks to Mr. Carifi's leadership and dedication, the Mount Olive Township School District maintains its reputation as a safe and secure learning environment where students, staff, and families can focus on education with peace of mind. His proactive approach to security and commitment to excellence exemplify the high standards that the district strives to maintain.

The Board of Education, administration, staff, and students join together in congratulating Mr. James Carifi on this well-deserved recognition and thank him for his continued service to the Mount Olive Township School District community.
