Foreword

MEMBERS of the Class of 1938: Our brief, busy days at Medford High School are over. Never again shall this class be united by the common tie of work and play! But as we go our separate ways in future years, it is the sincere hope of the editors that we shall relive our happy experiences, smile at our old selves, and find again our former friends when we wistfully peruse the worn pages of our Blue and White.

“DISRAELI”

Disraeli

The Senior Class encountered a difficult problem in the production of its annual play this year. Faced with the prohibitive expense of hiring any legitimate theater on the one hand, and the sharply restricted fire laws on the other, the class was compelled to choose between producing its play under extremely simple arrangements or foregoing the custom altogether. It was finally decided to venture a production regardless of any handicaps. Accordingly, all scenic realism has been deliberately avoided; in its place is employed an idealized Victorian background aided only by costumes, lighting, and music, the entire purpose of which is merely to suggest the mood and the setting. The class of 1938 submits Disraeli as an experiment in a hitherto untried field.

This footnote which appeared on the program of the Senior Class Play was the explanation of, not the apology for, conditions under which the senior class of 1938 offered "Disraeli" to its public. With no exceptions this play was one of the finest productions which has ever been sponsored by the Medford High School.

Early in the season, Mr. Carey, with his usual keen-sightedness, saw in Walter Griffin the makings of a splendid Disraeli; with this choice for a nucleus, a supporting cast was selected with care, justice, and fine judgment by Mr. Carey, Mr. Finnegan, and Mr. Ricker.

Perhaps the highest compliment that one could pay Walter Griffin would be to say that he was Disraeli. From the slightly stooped shoulders of this lovable and dynamic man of history to his short, clipped speech, he carried through his entire characterization a sense of realism. Every individual of the supporting cast, by the excellent interpretation of his or her part, aided and abetted by the sharply critical eye and skillful direction of Mr. Carey, helped to build up this impression of realism. This play has a dominant character to be sure, but a dominant character that depends upon other characterization for success.

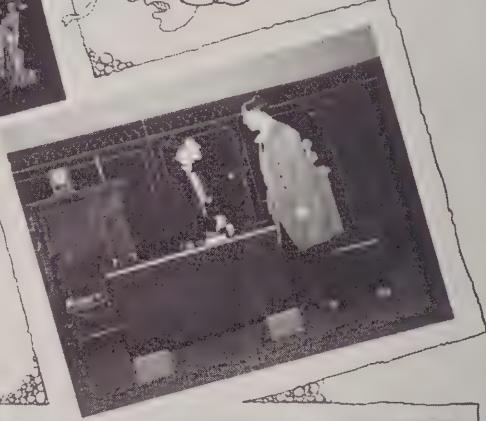

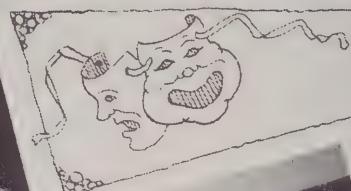

It is an impossible task to present these players in the order of excellence of performance.

The adorable Clarissa, so dear to the heart of Disraeli and so in sympathy with his ambitions for England, was portrayed by Dorothy Harris who held the attention of her audience from the beginning, by the loveliness of her portrayal. A winsome Clarissa and a spirited one! Small wonder that Charles, Viscount Deeford, so ably played by Frank Squires, undertook his hazardous commission in India for love of her and his beloved England.

Mrs. Noel Travers, the beautiful but inquisitive lady from Russia, was superbly interpreted by Fannie Gemellaro; the Sir Michael Probert of Gordon Hart was the convincing portrayal of a conscientious, conservative Englishman. One of the highlights of the performance was the scene between Disraeli and Mr. Hugh Meyers (Robert Weston), whose splendid acting placed him definitely in the minds of the audience as another able, far-sighted Jew, conspicuous in the shaping of England's history.

The Duke of Glastonbury (Robert Hayton), a gay bit of British aristocracy, not averse to a spot of philandering, was held strictly to account by his handsome Duchess (Helen Keough). She was in direct contrast to the sweet, self-effacement of Lady Beaconsfield as played by Beverly Phillips.

Each of the minor characters contributed his or her share to the excellence of the performance; credit is due to Robert Davidson for the bits of humor with which he interspersed his role of Lord Brooke, a typical English Bertie, with his feminine prototype Lady Brooke played by Norma Neill. Lord and Lady Cudworth (Stanley Wyatt and Bennieca McRae) added their share to complete the family group. Mr. Foljambe, played by Victor Barton, was a convincing villain; Mr. Tearle, played by John Corley, was a most discreet secretary to Mr. Disraeli. The butler and footman of Glastonbury Towers (Frank Kitsis and Russell Stokes respectively) lent considerable atmosphere by their austere dignity in the many of their brief appearances. Baseot (Frank Chamberlain) as Mr. Disraeli's butler, filled his necessary niche very satisfactorily; Potter, the gardener (Russell Vetterlein) and Flooks, the postman (Raymond Flynn), making the most of small parts, held the stage while they were on it.

The fourth and final act of the play, laid in the ballroom of Glastonbury Towers, afforded a background for a scene that has never been rivaled in a Senior Class Play. The cotillion, which was under the direction of Ruth McDevitt, comprised a group of twelve dances. The mingling and intermingling of the gorgeous coloring of the Ladies' gowns with the hightone of the Lords' velvet and broadcloth coats and waistcoats, made a picture that will stand out as another highlight of this remarkable production of "Disraeli."

Ruth Farr headed the group of ushers; Evelyn Boyle headed the group of candy girls; their quaint period gowns of gossamer fluffiness were, like all the beautiful gowns of the players, the clever output of the Household Arts Department.

Because so many groups functioned so competently in the production of this senior play, one may write with all sincerity that it was as great a privilege to have played even a minor part of the whole, as it was a privilege to have witnessed the finished performance.

Class Gift

John P. Manley, President of the Senior Class, Barbara L. Baker, and Edward McCarthy were chosen to select an appropriate gift for the school.

After considerable thought, the committee decided to give a piano to be used in the lunch room. What a strange place for a piano we thought! But what a blessing it will prove to be! Because of the crowded conditions in the school, rehearsals in the Assembly Hall were not always convenient. Now the choir may use the lunch room; certain sections of the band may continue undisturbed; and other groups may meet for a period of work.

The key for the piano was presented by Evelyn R. Boyle, Secretary of the Senior Class, to Headmaster Ralph L. Kendall who accepted it in the name of the school.

Ivy Oration

JAMES WHITE

We have just witnessed the planting of the ivy. We have watched our important-looking class officers convey it to the planting-ground. We intrust the care of it to the juniors in the hope that the ivy will live as an evidence of the loyalty and good will of the class of 1938. This ivy will henceforth be concerned with its development, just as for the past three years we have been largely occupied with growth.

Like any entering class, we were inexperienced. We knew not what to do nor where to go. In the early fall, a sophomore brought a huge lunch to school every day. When asked why she provided herself with such a tremendous amount of food, she replied, "I have to bring enough for all three lunch periods, don't I?" And then she asked a question. "Do you know where I am supposed to go between recesses?"

As juniors, we coveted the Senior privileges. Their multitudinous assemblies, for example, in comparison to the juniors' meagre total, seemed very unfair. We envied them their busy life, their air of superior accomplishment.

Still we gazed, and still our wonder grew
That Seniors' heads could carry all they knew.

A junior is a middle child, scorning his younger brothers, the sophomores, and envious of his elders, the Seniors.

And now we have completed our high school course. It has been a period of growth; indeed, our progress has been astounding. A problem in mathematics that would have been completely bewildering to us in the past no longer is. If we are confronted with  $(m \frac{1}{2} n \frac{1}{3} r - 2 - 6)$  over  $(m \frac{1}{3} n \frac{2}{3} r - 2)$  we are able to arrive at a solution. Well, some of us are. We have passed the veni, vidi, vici stage in Latin. We can translate lengthy passages with comparative ease. Well, some of us can.

But the principal thing that we have learned during the high school years is to adjust ourselves to conditions and take them in our strides. When Seniors find themselves the possessors of twenty-one English books, they are faced with a real problem. How to keep these and other books in a locker which is shared by another is rather a puzzle. One classmate was forced to carry his top-coat to his classes! The ingenuity that such a predicament inspires cultivates good nature. We learn to get along with people and to thrive despite all inclinations to the contrary.

The ivy adjusts itself to conditions. With something on which to climb, it clings wherever it can. This vine needs no great amount of cultivation. It requires no hot-house care. Whether fast or slow-growing, it is sturdy, strong, shining. It does not crowd other plants. Under favorable circumstances, the ivy expands and extends profusely in all directions. This vigorous growth may also be characteristic of an individual. A mind is never full. It always has something to learn, and "if there are no teachers, it can teach itself."

The ivy and we have a common goal. We seek the heights. The heights that we attain will depend on our adjustment to the degree of our cultivation.

Vocational School

It is the aim of the Vocational School to fit boys for useful employment through the development of the occupational skill required for the performance of satisfactory work under actual employment conditions in the following trades: automobile, cabinet making, electricity, machine shop, painting and decorating, printing, and sheet metal.

One half of the time is devoted to actual shop work and the other half to related and academic work. The laboratory method of instruction which is used in the related classes is very closely correlated with the shop work. This close tie-up assures a thorough training in shop and technical information.

The school attempts to prepare the boy morally, intellectually, and physically for the vocation for which he seems to be best fitted by nature, ability, and opportunity; at the completion of his course the school places the student in the industry trained for, keeps in touch with his progress, and encourages his promotion.

Eleventh Annual Prize Speaking Contest

THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 12, 1938

On Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, May 4 and 5 two hundred and thirty-four contestants took park in the Trials of the Eleventh Annual Prize Speaking Contest. With few exceptions the speeches were deserving of credit. The competition was close, so close in fact, that forty-eight were chosen for the Semi-finals. Again the judges had a task to reduce the field. Eighteen reached the Quarter-finals. Here the question and extemporaneous answer feature was used. Four boys and four girls entered the Finals which were open to the public.

The entire contest gave evidence of a whole-hearted cooperation of the pupils with their instructor. A surprisingly wide range of subjects was used. The variance of themes gives the lie to the thesis that the high school pupil thinks of nothing but shows, dancing, and frivolity.

Headmaster Ralph L. Kendall was chairman of the contest. Mr. Frederick Smith, Headmaster of New Hampton School, chairman of the judges, made the awards. Lincoln A. Smith won first prize for the boys. Norma H. Neill took honors in the girls' division. Robert G. Hayton received second prize among the boys, and Catherine Coppinger was awarded the same for the girls.

CLASS DAY MARSHALS AND USHERS

Class Day

Ushers and Marshals for the Class of 1937 on the great occasion of its Class Day were chosen from among the Juniors. The marshals, stunning in pink and blue, were dressed in long, picturesque gowns. As a crowning feature, they wore little Juliet caps to match. Many sighs of admiration they elicited from the spectators as they marched, bearing chains of laurel beautifully intertwined with daisies, at the head of the procession of Seniors from the Medford Theatre to the lawn of Medford High School. Here the marshals stood in alternating colors, forming a lovely frame for the speakers. Again at the reception they were much in evidence as they escorted the happy couples through the receiving line. With the ushers, they bade a final farewell to the Seniors.

Class Oration

LOOK WELL TO THIS DAY

JOHN D. CORLEY, JR.

Education has been defined as the forming of good habits. Good habits denote upright character and high standards. Our diplomas, stating that we have satisfactorily completed Medford's prescribed course of study, should indicate that we have acquired a certain degree of intelligence and character. I believe that our methods of applying our learning and standards to the problems of each day will largely determine the measure of true success that we may hope to achieve.

Since, before long, we may be separated from the guiding influences of home and school, then it is that we must depend solely upon our own judgment. It matters not whether we go directly into business or on to further educational training, we shall be met by problems more perplexing and difficult of solution than those faced by our fathers and mothers when they were graduated from high school.

You and I are entering a turbulent world. A two-year, civil war, cruel and devastating, has been raging in Spain. The World Court has failed to prevent wars of aggression in Ethiopia, China, and Austria. Fear, hatred, and suspicion are prevalent. Those nations not actually engaged in war are rushing to arm themselves for—shall we say—defense. The great democratic countries, the United States, England, and France, have among their people conflicting factions, broadly termed as conservatives and liberals.

Our own country has suffered a disastrous business depression with widespread unemployment for nine years. Even more serious is our moral depression, or as J. Donald Adams expresses it, "The Collapse of Conscience." Tremendously strong are the differences of opinion as to how our government should function. Some are determined to disregard our Constitution, maintaining that it has become inadequate for modern times; others hold firmly to the belief that in our constitutional government rests the safety of American liberties. Should these vital principles of government concern us? Shall we not soon become voters? Our privileges will then be responsibilities that we can not ignore!

This so-called "Collapse of Conscience" or decline of moral and social standards means that we are now forced to formulate our own standards to direct us in the solution of problems, common or weighty, which are bound to confront us from day to day. We may expect to be influenced by conflicting conditions, groups, factions; we must trust that our ideals and standards will determine that which is right rather than that which is expedient.

I doubt if we fully realize the far-reaching importance of making right decisions. In many cases, after obtaining from reliable and unbiased sources all the available facts, we may then judge both sides of the question, weighing each fact against the other, slowly, carefully, and coolly. "One cool judgment is worth a thousand hasty councils," as Woodrow Wilson wrote. However, there will be times when our decisions will have to be made upon the instant; even upon chance. Long practice in wisely-disciplined will-power will prove invaluable.

Bear this in mind: It is not the big problems alone to which I refer; those, seemingly insignificant, require the same painstaking, conscientious deliberation. We are convinced of the truth that, if we take care of the little things in life, the big things will take care of themselves. You and I, today, are the results of all the choices we have made.

General John J. Pershing, when but a chore-boy on a Missouri farm, decided to acquire the best possible education. When he made known his intention of trying for West Point, his mother, dreading war, heartily disapproved of his decision.

"Mother, there won't be a gun fired in a hundred years. It is the education I want."

Because young John persisted in his decision, he was graduated from West Point in 1886. Later, in 1906, President Theodore Roosevelt promoted Pershing over 862 superior officers. Again, in April of 1917, he was appointed to lead the American Expeditionary Forces in France. Both these honors were due largely to his remarkable ability not only to make wise decisions but also to abide by them.

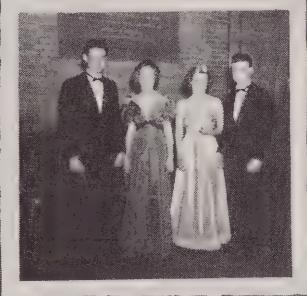

You and I should profit by his example. When we reach a decision, we, too, should have the courage to stand by it, even though we stand alone.

The importance of giving the problems of each day our careful consideration can not be too forcibly impressed upon us. We can well afford to give ear to the wisdom of the lovely poem translated from the Sanskrit, the ancient language of India. Frederick Stevenson has set these words to music in a song entitled "The Salutation of the Dawn":

Look to this Day—
For it is Life, the very Life of Life.
In its brief course lie all the
Realities of your Existence:
    The Bliss of Growth;
    The Glory of Action;
    The Splendor of Beauty.
For Yesterday is only a Dream,
And Tomorrow is only a Vision:
But Today well lived makes
    Every Yesterday a dream of Happiness,
    Every Tomorrow a Vision of Hope.
Look well therefore to this Day."

The staff of "The Blue and White" wishes to express its deep gratitude for the assistance and guidance given by Miss Lyons. She has helped to make our Year Book one to be cherished forever.

1938

The Senior Prom

The Senior Prom was held in the Lawrence Armory on January 28, 1938. This is the first time in the history of our school that the Senior Prom was held in so large a hall.

The ballroom was attractively decorated with blue draperies, used as a sky effect. At the end of the room, opposite the main doorway, was the platform for the orchestra. Above the heads of the musicians was an attractive large Medford Seal, outlined with alternating blue and red lights.

The young ladies were presented with hammered silver bracelets, with "M. H. S. '38" raised in the center. The young men received programs, with hammered silver covers, on which was cut the Medford Seal.

The guests were ushered in to the ballroom and introduced to the patrons and patronesses: Headmaster and Mrs. Ralph L. Kendall; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin V. Weldon; Mr. and Mrs. Eric Harrison; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Connor; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Manley; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph I. Schoonmaker.

Although everyone helped toward the great success, we must not forget that the ushers, committees, aides, and class advisers also contributed a large part in "putting over" our Senior Prom.

Senior Reception

One of the most gala affairs of the year, presented by the Class of '38, was the ever-popular Senior Reception which took place in the Drill Shed of the Lawrence Light Guard Armory, Friday evening, June 3rd. The hall was attractively decorated to resemble the deck of a ship. The walls were covered with ships and oil paintings to represent the ocean. The entire ceiling was covered with a solid blue sky.

This occasion is long to be remembered as outstanding, for the syncopation of the orchestra was so good that one could imagine really dancing on the "lido aft" of a ship.

The grand march was particularly colorful with the aid of the Junior Class Marshals, dressed in figured blue organdie.

The Class is indebted to the faculty aides for their valuable service in keeping this affair strictly a Senior one.

MEDFORD HIGH SCHOOL BAND

1938

Medford Senior High School Band

The present Medford Senior Band was founded in 1935 under the able leadership of our director, Mr. Ralph I. Schoonmaker. Through his untiring efforts, the band attained a position of first place in the New England Music Festival, held at Portland, Maine, with a rating of 99 percent. This was followed in 1937 with a rating of first division for pure intonation at Gloucester. In 1938 the band went to Fall River, where it was awarded first division once more with a standing of all A's, thus becoming eligible to compete in the National Regional Contest to be held at Albany, N. Y.

The band, however, does not confine itself to mass endeavors as there are many of the members who try for honors in solo and ensemble work. There are outstanding soloists on the cornet, baritone, and tuba as well as a splendid brass sextet. All of the entrants received excellent ratings in the State Contest.

In addition to contest work, the band participates in many school and municipal functions. In the fall the band plays at the football games. Throughout the year it takes part in many parades and public events. The Music Festival, held at Cousens's Gym, gave the public an opportunity to see the result of the year's work of this organization.

In view of the increasing competition, Mr. Schoonmaker hopes to form two senior bands in the future, thus retaining the high standard already set.

Music Festival

BAND NIGHTS

The 1938 Music Festival saw a great outpouring of Medford citizenry to Cousens Gymnasium at Tufts College to witness the third annual event of musical organizations of Medford schools.

Evidence of the training and work which had gone into this undertaking, under the direction of Ralph I. Schoonmaker, was prevalent throughout the program on both evenings. The Medford High Band heaped honors upon its already famous reputation, with the Junior A and B bands not far behind.

The M. H. S. Girls' Glee Club added variation and pleasure to the program. Furthermore, the work of the Misses Golden, Bigwood, and Espinola, and Mr. MacKillop was evidenced in the splendid rendering of selections from the Junior High and Elementary groups.

MEDFORD HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

Medford High School Orchestra

The Medford High School Orchestra, consisting of fifty-four players, is under the supervision of our Director of Music, Mr. Ralph I. Schoonmaker. This organization plays for many civic programs as well as for numerous school assemblies, including Memorial Day exercises and Class Day. Among the many other school functions for which the orchestra furnishes music is the Senior Class Play.

In addition to these activities the orchestra provides many fine ensembles for various club and social activities in the city.

In order that the orchestra may demonstrate its musical ability, one night of the three-day Music Festival was turned over to the orchestra. This was its crowning achievement. Outfitted in white jackets with dark pants for the boys and dark skirts for the girls, the orchestra made a very fine appearance as it played many enjoyable numbers. The smooth way in which the program was run was evidence of the fine training of the organization.

Orchestra Night

This exhibition took place before an enthusiastic audience in the M. H. S. auditorium.

The evening began with the presentation of an operetta by the pupils of the primary schools, under the direction of Kathleen Howard, Assistant Supervisor of Music.

With enthusiasm and self-forgetfulness seldom seen in adult performances, the young members of the cast sang their way through delightful songs with sweet, clear voices, and their unaffected histrionics were a high spot of the evening.

Part two of the program was opened by the Osgood Deseant Singers. The Junior Festival Orchestra, with Kenneth MacKillop, Jr., conducting, offered delightful selections. The program by the Senior Festival Orchestra was conducted by Ralph I. Schoonmaker.

The entire festival exemplifies the fact that Medford High School has a promising future in the field of music.

Class History

JOSEPH BELLE, BARBARA KIRKPATRICK, AND MARIAN E. KNIPP

Three years ago we came to Medford High,
Exulting in the thought that we, perhaps,
Had won enough repute, the years before,
To herald our approach along the way.
With this in mind we conquered our first foe
As we the maze of halls and classrooms solved.
That done, as sophomores, we set about
Our fame and honors ever to maintain.
To upperclassmen, versatility
In work and sports with credit we displayed.
We earned respect; in truth, made all esteem
Our eagerness to learn; our aim, to win.
Directly, on our entrance that same fall,
Those who among us were most talented
Won worthy recognition for our class
When they began our honors to heap high
Till these did reach their present lofty height,
Donations to the glories of our age.
Les Bennett was the first to win renown
Upon the field; he later gained
The captaincy of next year's football team.
He and Valas, too, our fondest dream fulfilled
Of being represented in this sport
By eminent proclaimers of our fame.
Del Ninno with Cervone, his apt mate,
Contributed to thirty-eight's success.
That winter, when 'twas time for basketball,
These soph'mores joined the fray and "went to town";
With speed and dash the foe they did astound.
In scholarship we rated with the best.
We conquered books; the teachers did their part
In supplementing schools from which we'd come.
Our rank in studies soon increased the role
Of honors which distinguished, day by day,
Our group from ev'ry sophomore class before.
In studies, that first year, we may recall,
A number of us highest honors won.
Miss Bowman and Les Bennett and Joe Belle
With Charles Mistretta first revealed the skill
And mental quality, so rare and fine,
That typified us then, and ever will.
As writers, too, have some of us excelled.
Without delay, that year, we cast aside
Our fears and meekness; we began, that fall,
With all the rest to write some stories short.
Some poems, essays, for our school "Review";
These added to our laurels, rich returns.
That year, the most distinguished in this field
Were two contributors of growing fame:

Ruth Mitchell wrote for us uplifting verse;
 Miss Jacqueline Hall extended far and wide
 Our literary power and lyric art.
 That winter we were asked to choose with care
 Our candidates from whom we did elect
 Four officers to represent our worth
 And lead us at the annual sophomore dance.
 To these we now extend the honor due;
 For, to their trust they truly faithful proved.
 Bob Weston we selected President;
 As his chief aid Dot Watson wisely served;
 Cirinna and Ann Ketchum we then chose
 To make complete that governmental team.
 Throughout the year these four efficiently,
 With heraldry and pomp, proclaimed our class.
 Quite hopefully we bravely labored on,
 Our skill increasing as the months slipped by;
 Our zeal not once abating all the while;
 Our noblest precepts ever held in mind.
 Meanwhile —

We lifted eager, yearning eyes to glimpse
 The Junior Hills, then not so far away.
 The summer fled, we turned our thoughts once more
 To work which we had left the year before.
 That fall, to reach our goal, we knew full well
 That we must strive with all our strength and will
 To add more zeal, that we might yet attain
 Those far-off heights more blue, more lofty still.
 A year's experience had taught us that
 The better things of life were ours to have
 If we but worked with diligence and pride.
 This thought was brought to us again this year
 When we were called upon to celebrate
 The fine achievement of a scholar rare
 Who, with the student ever in his mind,
 Sought to develop in more permanent form
 A broader learning in our public schools —
 By organizing just a century
 Ago — within our state, a group which we,
 Today, the board of education, call.
 Once more we do salute you, Horace Mann!
 So eager were our athletes to begin,
 They fretted through each crippled, halting hour.
 The football field so claimed their hearts and minds
 They could not wait to show that very power
 That is the badge of all our Medford teams.
 Bands playing, cheering crowds, with echo clear,
 Hailed long the vict'ry that oft blessed our arms.
 Among the warriors in the helmets blue,
 Let trumpets' silver fanfare loud proclaim
 Our Valas bold and Evans fleet of foot,
 A modern Mercury of Roman days.
 John Anderson, a mighty end, who feared
 No enemy however large or small,

Brought stout defense to many a gallant fray.
 On basket courts, with brilliant lights amassed,
 Packed to the floor with maddened, shouting crowds,
 Cervone and Del Ninno patterns wove
 Of swiftly changing poise that won delight
 And shed new glories on our Medford High.
 In stature small, but with a heart as brave
 As that of bold Horatio at the bridge,
 Our John Meoli often saved the goal
 When agonized ice shrieked at the scraping skates.
 An able comrade, Jackie Riley, rushed
 Now up, now down, the lists with hockey stick
 As lancee, his courage holding every foe at bay.
 A chief, of course, each army needs must have:
 Joe Belle we called to wear the general's stars;
 "Barb" Putnam fitly entered from the ranks
 To figure as "first lady" of the class;
 George Campbell of the Vocational School did keep
 Our money coffers filled with welcome dues;
 Virginia Bowman, poising ready quill,
 Took up the duties as our trusty scribe;
 Our famous French Troupe, mast'ring foreign tongue —
 To most of us a stumbling block of woe —
 Presented on our mimic stage a scene
 Of France in all her charm and colors bright.
 Our junior year passed all too rapidly,
 Remembered pleasantly for class events;
 With these retained as happy memories
 Of gladsome days that we together spent,
 We jolly juniors parted for a while,
 All eager to return another year
 As Seniors, solemn, serious, and staid.
 When rose the curtain on our Senior year,
 We mourned for one whose face did not appear;
 A pal — whose loss was greatly felt by all
 When Vic Clemente answered God's roll call.
 We wept as Milton for his Lycidas;
 Then — turned our thoughts from memories sad, to plans
 For our last year at dear old Medford High.
 As class affairs moved swiftly on their way,
 We felt the need of an election day.
 For president, John Manley won the vote,
 A fearless lad with charm to guide us well.
 To aid him in his task, we picked Ruth Farr,
 Whose grace the class did fitly recognize
 By choosing her as one most dignified.
 Frank Squires, being honest, tried, and true,
 As treasurer, a noble work has done;
 And, as a secretary, who could toil
 With notes and minutes, we chose "Evie" Boyle.
 Elections o'er, we learned a history club
 Had, luckily, come to life in One-Sixteen;
 Also, a camera club had loomed in view.

Straightway these clubs began to prove their worth
Which, from that time, has steadily increased.
Ere long, the pigskin season rolled around,
And, searching earnestly, we soon did find
Our captain, Valas, flanked by Anderson
And Glynn, who, trained in football's intricate rules,
Full many of our games did justly win.
To add to all our records of success,
Del Ninno and Cervone took the floor
With honor, as they shared the captain's berth.
In hockey, track, in baseball, too, forthwith
We counted Senior players not a few.
Meoli headed our hockey team this year —
More for that boy, whom we all hold so dear,
We need not say, since he no equal has.
For track, at length, we found two leaders swift:
"Ike" Evans' speed surpassed the boys' in the gym;
Upon the field, Dick Herlihy took the lead.
In baseball, both the Glynn Twins, Fran and Bob,
Brought baffled glances from our fiercest foe;
For as to who was Fran, and who was Bob,
Our opponents did not know. (Nor scarce did we.)
If you imagine sports the only thing,
Which held our interest here at Medford High,
May I with pleasure, keen and true, announce
The Student Council, guided by Frank Squires,
Assisted in his work by Marian Knipp.
Ours was the privilege to entertain,
Last fall, the Student Councils from nearby,
Whose purpose was that we might here discuss
The problems which confront the average lad
And lass of modern secondary schools
With faculties alert enough to know
That every student problem, student-solved,
Bids fair to show to us, both one and all,
That part which we in every school must play,
If we will honor bring to those who share
The right a public high school to attend.
A play we undertook our Senior year,
"Disraeli" our ambitious coaches chose
To be presented by our "belles and beaux."
So true to life Walt Griffin played his role,
George Arliss' very self seemed standing there!
Dot Harris, as Clarissa, earned acclaim;
And Lady Travers made a charming spy!
As Lady Beaconsfield, Miss Phillips hid
Amazingly her own identity
In that of great Disraeli's cherished wife;
Since minor parts important ones became,
The training with attention to details
Explained the perfect acting of this cast
To whom again we tend a vote of thanks.
Scholastic prowess still was evident

CLASS HISTORY (Concluded)

When honor-lists were posted on the boards:
The three outstanding students proved to be
The Misses Bowman, Ferris, and Koury;
To Barb Kirkpatrick, special praise belongs
For editing, so well, our school "Review";
Our "Teadie" Strunk, whose fertile brain produced
A "refreshing" historical essay, an award received.
With our achievements drawing to an end,
We must not close till we have mention made
Of the annual Senior Prom, a gay affair —
This year, we think, the gayest of them all!
Now as we turn from punts and plays and proms
To serious thoughts of our last days at school,
We're conscious of the debt we owe to you,
Kind parents, and all other citizens
Of our beloved, historic Medford town;
With fortitude and bravery, known so well,
Despite depression's dark discouragements,
Our priceless education you have given!
We promise you — this from our hearts we speak —
That in the future we shall hold aloft
This Torch of Freedom which you, through sacrifice
And love most true, have handed on to us.

To Miss Daggett and her girls, who have so kindly written the sayings under the pictures, the Staff extends its sincere thanks.

President ..... BRUCE MACDONALD, '39
Vice-President ..... MARGARET HOGAN, '38
Secretary-Treasurer ..... KATHLEEN O'REILLY, '38

Although meetings have been irregular for many reasons, the Dramatic Club has been active in assemblies and outside activities.

A venture in moving pictures is to be undertaken soon after college examination period. An amateur camera man is ready to "shoot." Such an experiment, sponsored by the club, will be watched with interest.

In addition to the members of the club who took part in "Disraeli," remarkable success engineered by the Senior Class, others took part in plays for the Armistice and Christmas Assemblies.

Pen, Paint, and Pretzels, dramatic group at Tufts College, were our hosts at productions in their theatre. The mechanical intricacies of scenery, lighting, and setting were explained after the performance.

Public Speaking groups contributed to the celebration of holidays by brief speeches delivered in rooms throughout the school.

Miss Jacqueline Hall greeted Paul Revere at the Lawrence Armory on the nineteenth of April.

On May 9, 1938 a cast gave a play at Hillside Universalist Church for the Federated Women's Club. Also, Jacqueline Hall gave monologues for the occasion.

"Mistletoe"

One morning we, Seniors, went into the Assembly Hall for our annual Christmas play presented by the Dramatic Club. On the stage were six members of the band. This sextet, playing several Christmas carols and selections, inspired us with the spirit of the season.

Then came the play! It was a hilarious comedy, "Mistletoe." The theme concerned a young married couple who were on the verge of getting a divorce. For a Christmas present, the husband presented his wife with a ticket for Paris so that she could get a divorce there. The father of the young man, Judge Brewster, was deeply concerned over the situation. His attempts to reconcile the couple, who were really in love, led to many mirthful scenes. His romance with his housekeeper brought forth much laughter from the pupils, who were most appreciative of the humor so aptly developed by each character.

Ruth McDevitt, the leading lady, was charming and pleasing. Frank Squires, who portrayed the young husband, was excellent. Walter Griffin, the Judge, made his characterization real and amusing. He proved himself a finished performer. Our praises cannot be too high for Betty McRae who played the old housekeeper.

Armistice Play

WHEN GRANT SURRENDERED TO LEE

An apparent hatred for one another motivates blustering debate and seething repartee between Johnny Rebb, Lee Confederate veteran, and that "dum Yank," Union survivor of the Civil War, throughout the action which takes place just after the Armistice Day parade.

Buddy, grandson of Yank and grandnephew of Reb, is the mediator in two heated arguments which promise to cripple one or both old gentlemen. A World War veteran, Buddy mediates on his lot and that of his contemporaries. His musing prompts the discussion of a worthless Confederate War Bond whose face value Yank redeemed from his own pocket. He sent the money to the widow of the Confederate lad who died in his arms on the battlefield.

The northern veteran claims that the South never intended to pay, but Yank Grant, after a terrific ridiculing at the hands of Lee, surrenders to Reb Lee when the Confederate War Bond is redeemed in CONFEDERATE CURRENCY!!

Safety Contest

Award night with exhibition of the Safety Slogan and Poster Contest was held at the Roberts Junior High School on May 11. The Medford Kiwanis Club, in cooperation with the Medford Safety Council, sponsored this contest in connection with its worth-while safety program.

Among the Seniors, an award of ten dollars went to Ernest Ruelle for the best combination of a safety slogan and poster. This poster also merited a ribbon as being best suited for reproduction throughout the city.

Ribbons denoting honorary mention were awarded to Lloyd Bryan, Ralph Nelson, Ernest Ruelle (for a second poster), Tremaine Smith, and Ulrica Stromwall.

Two juniors received prizes for the winning slogans: "The highway is as safe as you make it," was submitted by Jeanne LeClair. "Horse-sense behind the steering wheel is more important than horse-power under the hood," was submitted by Francis Caldwell.

Student Cabinet

President ..... FRANK SQUIRES
Vice-President ..... JOHN MANLEY
Secretary ..... EVELYN BOYLE

Membership in the Cabinet is given to presidents of all recognized school clubs, and the Senior class officers.

The following clubs are now represented in the Cabinet:

Band, Boys' Club, Boys' Debating Club, Business Girls', Cum Laude, Dramatic Club, G. A. A., Girls' Club, Girls' Debating, History, Household Arts, Italian, "M" Club, Nautical, Protective, Stamp, Senior President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer.

The Cabinet receives its general business from the House. It acts upon these reports and then refers the matter to the Headmaster. Many routine affairs have been handled.

Several special projects are handled during the year, and some are here-with listed:

SCHOOL BANKING:

A survey was made as to the need and desirability of such a project. It was found that a large percentage of the pupils would take part. The plan is in form now so that when the time seems right, such a banking project will be instituted.

CONVENTION OF ASSOCIATED BODIES OF STUDENT COUNCILS:

The Cabinet members found real enjoyment in their supervision of convention plans. It has been said by the members who attended that this was the finest Convention so far held.

CONSTITUTION:

The Constitution had to be changed somewhat due to the fact that more members are now represented in the Cabinet.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES

House of Delegates

1937-38 has seen the House of Delegates a much more active and more effective body than ever before. Under the leadership of the officers, Frank Squires, Marion Knipp, and Vera Lang and the guidance of the advisers, Miss Webber, Miss Flanagan, Mr. Pidgeon, this body of students has done much for the betterment of the school.

Last fall the time of meeting presented a difficult problem which was soon solved with comparative ease when Mr. Kendall decreed an Assembly Period once every third week in which time the House could meet.

With meetings once underway, the Delegates proved their worth in passing such bills as one which awards to sophomores numerals in recognition of their athletic activities; one which calls for the establishment of a class in "Safety Driving;" and one which suggests a school "banking" system. Besides being active in their own meetings, the Delegates act as agents for the school magazine, ticket agents for the senior class play, and advertisers and assistants in many school projects.

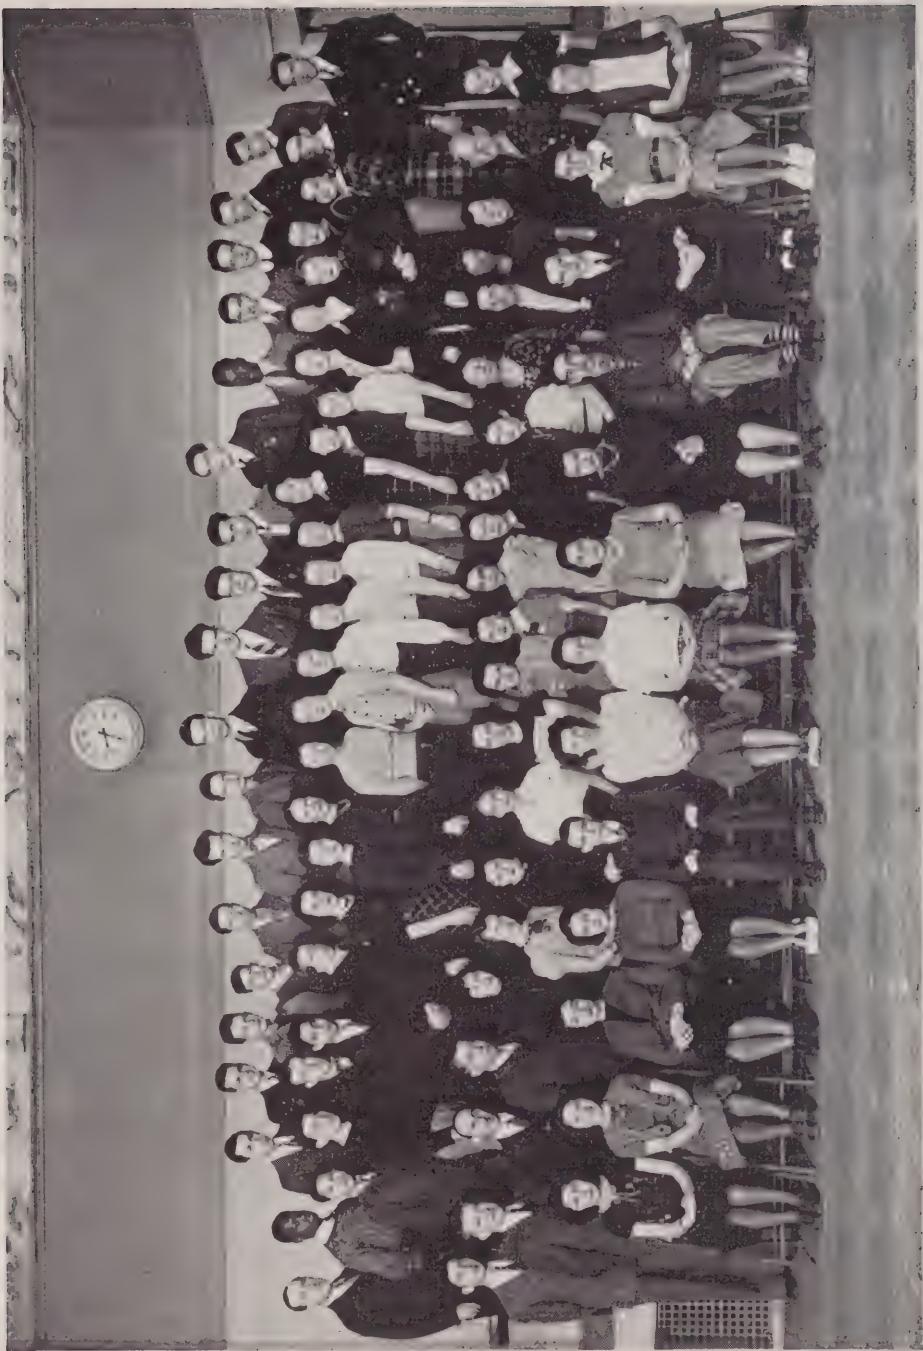

One of the largest projects undertaken this year was a Spring "Clean-Up" Campaign. Mr. Kendall set aside one whole week for "cleaning" the school. A definite place to clean each day was assigned: lockers, one day; desks, another; lunchroom, still another; etc., until the entire school was done. The pupils made Medford High "shine" during this week.

On December fourth, the student body was host to student councils from a number of schools throughout Eastern Massachusetts, at a convention. Discussions on divers topics, reports of student activities in the various schools, a catered banquet, a concert by our own Medford High band, and a business session, followed by dancing made up the day's activities.

Delegates from here also have been sent to conventions held at Dedham and Rindge Technical High Schools during the spring season.

Another year has seen the Delegates fulfill that clause of their constitution which states, "Each member must cooperate to his utmost with the government which he has chosen."

"REVIEW" STAFF

1938

M.H.S. Review

New style in the M. H. S. Review made it, we hope, better. The diligence and cooperation of the students and teachers resulted in a magazine rich in literary and artistic quality.

In honor of our country's greatest document, we dedicated this year's Review to the Constitution of the United States. An appropriate and exceedingly striking blue and silver cover, containing a reproduction of the document and quill, was designed by students of the art department.

No less fine was the work within. Two articles about the Far East, by students who have had the good fortune to visit the Orient, were of special note.

A thoroughly new idea was introduced: a picture crime, in which the students participated. Much credit is due the Camera Club and Mr. Horwood, who made possible such candid camera pictures.

Excellent articles, both serious and humorous, intelligent stories, poems containing beauty and thought, and clever illustrations served to reflect the willingness and ability of the Medford High School students.

Girls' Athletic Association

President .....	DORIS WILEY, '38
Vice-President .....	BERTHA SILVER, '39
Secretary .....	VIRGINIA BURRELL, '39
Treasurer .....	BARBARA KIRKPATRICK, '38

The purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association is threefold: to promote friendship among the girls who are interested in athletics, to aid each member to realize her greatest athletic ability; and to teach good sportsmanship in all activities.

The first event of the year was a combined Varsity "M" and G. A. A. dance. This was held in the gym and proved to be a great social success.

The Annual Alumnae night was held in January. The event of the evening was a basketball game between the Alumnae and the Varsity. The Varsity won by the score of 19-14.

In May the Club sponsored a Splash Party at the Somerville "Y," which was a success in every sense of the word. All who attended seemed to enjoy every minute of the evening.

The club is now anticipating an outing in conjunction with the Varsity "M" in June.

The faculty advisers are Headmaster Mr. Ralph Kendall, Mr. Herbert Collins and Miss Myra Luce.

PROTECTIVE DEPARTMENT

1938

Protective Department

A bigger and better Protective Department has been in service this year. Another department has been added now making three different divisions in the organization.

The first group, under the guidance of Mr. Osgood, consists of boys who, during their study periods, are stationed at various posts throughout the buildings. It is the duty of these pupils to watch lockers and coat rooms, and to guide and inform visitors. Stanley Wyatt holds the office of "Chief" this year and Winslow Fuller of "Officer of the Day," who "checks up" on the rest of the boys in this particular division.

Mr. Phelan's boys, who make up another group of "P. D.'s" with George Brittain as their chief, are door monitors. They must tend the doors while classes are passing and during times of emergency, such as a fire drill. For identification the boys of these two departments wear blue armbands with a white "P. D." on each.

The third and newest division is one organized this year with Mr. Pidgeon faculty adviser. To distinguish this group from the first two, white armbands with a blue "P. D." are worn. These boys and girls are on duty during the lunch periods every day. They must keep pupils out of restricted corridors; keep all "lunchers" in the lunchroom; and keep a general watch over the coatrooms and lockers during recess time. There are also a few boys in this division who have charge of the stairways between buildings A and B while classes are passing.

Instead of having an office of "Chief" in this division, there are floor captains on each floor. On the third floor, Doris Watson and Elmer Stedfast; on the second, Marian Knipp and Bob Davidson; on the first, Virginia Bowman and John MacGowan.

Each member of the Protective Department, which now has more than eighty pupils, does his share to make and retain a "safe, clean, orderly school."

BUSINESS GIRLS' CLUB

1938

The Business Girls' Club

The Business Girls' Club of the Medford High School is one of the newer organizations, being but one year old. Its purpose is to stimulate higher ideals of business education and social procedure among those girls who are enrolled in the business courses.

The present members wish to take this opportunity to acknowledge their appreciation of the work done last spring by the following six girls of the class of 1937:

Ina Barbour
Ruth Berry

Lillian Butler
Theresa Callahan

Marie DeSmet
Charlotte Doucet

These girls are responsible for the early beginning of the Club, and their plans met with the enthusiastic approval of Mr. Kendall. Before they left the Medford High School, the Club was well on its way, and the following officers had been elected:

President .....	RUTH HOWLAND
Vice-President .....	MARY KELLY
Secretary .....	KATHLEEN KENEFICK
Treasurer .....	KATHLEEN O'REILLY

Very appropriately, it would seem, the first activity of the Business Girls' Club was to handle the distribution of tickets and collection of receipts for the Pop Concert. When this work was completed, the members felt themselves to be, in a small way, a cooperative unit in the club life of the Medford High School.

The Club has suffered somewhat from "growing pains" during this, its first year, and has had to learn much from experience. Its progress is favorable, however, and even the difficult struggle of molding a constitution into a simple yet satisfactory form did not prevent the girls from devoting considerable time to the delightful task of making Christmas gifts for the children of Medford. These gifts included twenty-three dolls which the girls dressed, many other toys, and articles of clothing. Into the homes where these gifts went, each child in the family was remembered.

One of the aims of the Business Girls' Club has been to bring to the club, men and women who are authorities on the demands made by the business world. This year Mr. Allan Furber of the Chandler School and Mr. Albert Fisher of the Fisher Business School were guests, and the messages they brought were both interesting and helpful.

The social side of the Club has not been entirely neglected, although this is and will always be of secondary importance. A Christmas party and a special meeting which welcomed the new members were both greatly enjoyed.

The Business Girls' Club hopes to succeed in its ambitious aim and preparation, both socially and vocationally for the business world which the members hope to enter.

Vice-President .....	KATHLEEN McINTIRE
Recording Secretary .....	CATHERINE BICKLEY
Corresponding Secretary .....	HELEN KEOUGH
Treasurer .....	CLAIRE MARCH
Advisers .....	MARY M. BAGLEY, MILDRED C. JUNKINS

The Medford High School Girls' Club has concluded another successful year under the able leadership of the president, Ruth McDevitt, assisted greatly by the one person who holds in her hand the success or failure of the club. We speak of Marian Knipp, chairman of the Program Committee.

This year the club has had many interesting and instructive meetings. The Christmas Party, which, perhaps, has always given the most pleasure, has now, we are glad to say, been made an annual event. At this party, the club entertained a group of small children from one of our Medford schools.

No account of the Girls' Club would be complete without some mention of the annual induction, installation, and banquet, this year, held at the Belmont Country Club. The sincere solemnity of the induction always makes a lasting impression on those who witness it. This year the club was privileged to welcome twenty sophomores as new members.

All club members, old and new, have joined for the expressed purpose of strengthening friendships and giving service to those less fortunate.

Ths Household Arts Club

President .....	EMMA DOLL
Vice-President .....	JEAN BLOODSWORTH
Secretary .....	RUTH O'HEARN
Treasurer .....	ALICE ASTON
Club Adviser .....	MISS KATHERINE BAKER

The Household Arts Club, which has been active since the first of the year, has had little time for outside activities. The entire months of November and December were spent in securing funds for the needy at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

During the year costumes were made for various school functions. At the Senior Class Play our girls, acting as candy girls and ushers, were picturesque in their old fashioned bustle costumes of black and white. We have also made available money for clothing for needy girls so that they might be included in class activities.

The annual "get together" was in the nature of a scavenger hunt in the Fells with a picnic supper, a happy ending to our school year.

The Pop Concert

On Friday evening of December 3, a gay and entertaining Pop Concert was held in the High School Gymnasium. The Gym of countless basketball and track team memories was attractively decorated in blue and white with brightly colored caricatures hung upon the walls. Arranged about the sides were tables bedecked with green pine branches and red berries. Pretty waitresses, daintily dressed in small white tea-aprons served ice cream, cake, and tonic. The three hundred persons in attendance enjoyed dancing, to the smooth tunes of Mr. Horwood's popular orchestra. Intermingled was varied performances by talented entertainers, among whom were Patricia Putnam, Theresa Callahan, Louise Farley, Thomas Drohan, Ann Nigro, Ruth McDevitt, John Corley, and Virginia Bowman. This very colorful affair was under the direction of Mr. Edward Pidgeon and Miss Gertrude Roughsedge, supervisors of the Student Council.

Adviser ..... MISS MARIANNA LACASCIA

In the third consecutive year the Italian Club has been successfully organized under the direction of Miss Marianna LaCascia, who teaches Italian at our high school.

In December the Italian Club assisted in making the Pops Concert, in our school, a great success.

Also the Christmas holiday was celebrated with a party, to which members of all the Italian classes were invited. Gifts were given and a good time was enjoyed.

Later on in the year, a visitor from Harvard College gave an interesting talk on the enchanted Isle of Capri. His talk was illustrated by slides.

The Italian Club is looking forward to the Italian Evening at the Pops Concert. All details are being taken care of by Miss LaCascia. This will be the last function for this year.

The Class of 1938 regrets that it cannot publish the Class Poem. Our Class Poet, Hellen C. Keough, who captured this honor in a competitive contest, was so critically ill that the poem could not be written before the Year Book went to press. We extend to her our congratulations and are glad she can be with us Class Day and Graduation Night.

The History Club was organized this year by students interested in modern European history for the purpose of providing an opportunity for closer contact with world affairs.

The meetings were held twice a month and a number of speakers contributed to the enjoyment and value of the club. Among these were two members of the Medford High School faculty, Miss Adams and Miss Porter, who gave interesting lectures on European travel.

Ruth Pyke, an honor student of the sophomore class, whose home is in China, gave an excellent talk on her life in that country. She was dressed in Chinese costume and illustrated her speech with beautiful articles which she brought back from China. Henry Der, of the junior class, also added much to our study of China.

A former pupil of Medford High, Mr. Benjamin Durkee, and a former teacher, Mrs. Marion Raymenton Callahan, returned to the school to talk to the club. Mr. Durkee discussed what is new in Europe. Mrs. Callahan described conditions in Czechoslovakia and entertained the members with native songs.

The club had the great privilege of viewing Abraham Lincoln's autobiography and hearing its story told by Mr. Richardson.

Dr. Arthur I. Andrews completed our year by contributing a fund of information concerning central Europe.

Stamp Club

President .....	RICHARD BIDDELL
Vice-President .....	IRVING McDOWELL
Secretary .....	PHYLLIS EVERETT
Treasurer .....	WILLIAM NELSON

The Medford High School Stamp Club was formed in 1934 by a group of enthusiastic stamp collectors. This club was organized, under the guidance of Miss Adams, in the hope of giving the High School philatelists a chance to have some place in which they might further their stamp activities. During the meetings, stamp auctions, stamp games, and lectures by outstanding philatelists are given. During this year three parties have been held in the High School by the club.

Since the club has been formed, it has grown into a well-formed group of stamp collectors, who wish to gain something of interest from their association with the club. In the past few years the club has had many distinguished lecturers including Mr. Sanguinetti of the Boston Transcript, Mr. Bell of the State Teachers' College, and Mr. Percy Laskey, well known for his collection of fine ship covers. The organization issues a monthly bulletin containing original articles and excerpts from magazines, and also sponsors a yearly stamp exhibition in the School Library. The High School Stamp Club has worked steadily to promote good fellowship and interest in world affairs in postage stamps. Many members have participated in exhibitions held in Malden, Arlington, and Boston, where several have received prizes.

The Ski Club, now in its third year, enjoyed a very successful season, although participating in only one major meet. Mr. Reid proved his ability as a coach by the showing of his team in the Mount Hood Carnival. Many honors fell to our participants. Don Reid for the second year won the four mile cross country race, with Warren Dumas placing third. Doris Watson took second place in the girls' cross country. Second place honors were taken by both boys and girls in the down hill ski run. Harry Brown and Frank Oxnard did well in the jumping.

With the present spirit and favorable weather conditions, the Ski Club is looking forward to a pleasant and successful season in 1939.

Treasurer ..... CLEMENT BURT

The Medford High School Camera Club was founded this year by a group of camera-minded students who had a serious plague among them called "photoloria" or just plain "nuts."

The membership of the club was necessarily made small when it was organized in order to maintain an active interest. This season there were no novices allowed in the club, but the club officers plan to admit new-comers in the hobby during the coming year.

The major activities for the current year included organizing the club, building a dark-room, submitting pictures for the Review, and entering the Newton High School's State-Wide Camera Club contest.

The members are Edmund Burke, William Josey, William Fitzgerald, William Bennett, George Hoell, Richard Herlihy, Donald Reid, Donald Kent, James Knox, Sidney Shear, Bernard McGoldrick, and Warren Delaney.

The club is sponsored by Mr. George Horwood of the faculty.

Remember?

How as Sophomores
You crept into the building
And upper-classmen looked at you
As though you weren't living?
Now as mighty Seniors
You look and say pooh, pooh!
To any of the fears, that as a Sophomore, you knew.

Remember how first in school we did meet,
Remember how we all ran for back seats,
Remember how with chagrin we did bear
Those same front seats when alphabetical lists
Put us there?

“Clean-Up Week” was in full swing
With the opening breath of Spring.
Remember how all the books fell on the floor
The day we went to our locker to explore,
And found papers due in far September
Remember the mark you should have had,
Remember?

Remember the day you felt so glum—
The day you tried to chew five pieces of gum?
When you were called on to recite
You parked the gum left and you parked it right.
Remember then you were told to
Park it elsewhere—
Right in the waste basket
Beside teacher's chair
Remember?

CATHERINE T. KEEFE.

"Clean-Up Week"

Recalling the ultra-harmonious yellow and green chalk glaring on every blackboard in the school, how could any of us forget the famous week of March twenty-first?

Startled, we read:

COOPERATE
MAKE M. H. S. "SHINE"
"CLEAN-UP WEEK"

Greeted on Monday by the command to clean out our desks, a few of us were sufficiently inspired to dig out the various and sundry collections of six months.

We were truly very much bewildered on Tuesday morning to find the extraordinary amount our desks could contain. Anything from bobby pins to outmoded dime thrillers paid tribute to the waste baskets.

That brief interlude during Wednesday's Assembly Period, when we were ordered to ransack our lockers, was, unfortunately, to most of us, merely a brief respite from the harrowing study hour.

On Thursday, there were nearly as many milk bottles left on the lunch-room tables as usual. No one ever bothers about picking up after social gatherings anyway.

The corridors appeared a little cleaner on Friday; but whether it was due to some energetic spark, or merely to the daily sweepings, we are unable to say.

Although the actual good of the scheme was not too far-reaching, psychologically the idea was sound; for the subtle compliment that we were negligent in regard to neatness was perhaps strong enough to make us keep the school perpetually a trifle cleaner.

Student Councils Convention

The Convention of the Associated Bodies of Student Councils, Eastern division was held at the Medford High School, Saturday, December 4, 1938.

The meeting was called to order at ten o'clock by the President, Donald Cay, of the Milton High School.

The President of the Student Council of our school introduced:

Mr. Kendall, who extended the hospitality of the Medford High School to the delegates.

Doctor Kadesch, Superintendent of Schools, welcomed the delegates and spoke on the student council movement, explaining how results of great merit can be obtained by means of such organizations.

A tour of our buildings was made by the delegates who then gathered in the Cafeteria for an excellent catered luncheon.

Directly after luncheon the Medford High School Band entertained the visitors with a concert, which thrilled every person present, and aroused comment all around for its excellence.

The afternoon session opened with a series of round table discussions, with representatives of the following schools acting as chairmen:

1. Watertown High School.
What plan has Student Council in Social Activities?
2. Medford High School.
Organization of Student Associations.
3. Natick High School.
Safety Organization.
4. Milton High School.
Purpose and Importance of Student Bodies.

(Stenographers from the business department of our school took notes on these meetings).

The business meeting of the convention was held in the Assembly Hall.

Thirty New England high schools sent delegates. High schools from Ipswich to Provincetown were represented.

The delegates from Dedham High School extended an invitation to all present to attend the Spring Convention to be held at the Dedham High School in April.

The business meeting adjourned to the gymnasium where dancing was enjoyed until 5:30.

The officers of the Eastern Division of Associated Bodies of High School Student Councils of Massachusetts:

Donald Cay, President, Milton High School.

Rita Reagan, Vice-President, Somerville High School.

Marian Knipp, Secretary, Medford High School.

Football! The very name brings us memories of mellow autumn afternoons or days when there is a chill in the air, of laughing crowds dressed in gay colors or wrapped in blankets, shivering with cold and excitement, of noise, bands, cheers, and most of all, of a glorious struggle between twenty-two men on the field!

Our first game of the season with St. John's Prep., started things off with a bang. In the game with Melrose, notwithstanding the fact that our team was pitted against championship material, our boys managed to prevent them from gaining a higher score. Our enthusiasm reached a new high at the thrilling games with Brockton and Somerville where we held both powerful teams to scoreless ties. Our hopes began to soar! Although the Everett game was cancelled, due to heavy rain, we still had worthy opponents to face in Waltham and Lowell, both of which were held to a low score. In spite of the difficulty encountered in the Lowell game because the rival players wore no numbers on their jerseys, our team permitted them to squeeze out only one touchdown. On the following Saturday we triumphed over Beverly; then came the Lynn Classical game. The field, a slippery sea of mud, was in the worst possible condition, but our faithful heroes doggedly played on to victory. On Thanksgiving Day the traditional rivals met at the Fulton Street field. The spectators went wild with excitement as the teams fought to gain ground. Malden managed to win the victory, but we take our hats off to Captain Valas and his team.

Medford opened the hockey season with a win. Bobby Glynn and Roy Schena scored for the "Blue and White." The game was featured by the defensive play of the Glynn twins.

MEDFORD 1 — STONEHAM 3

Stoneham handed Medford its first defeat. The game was fast and hard fought. Jack Riley starred for Medford, Art Donaghy played a standout game in the Stoneham nets.

MEDFORD 1 — NEWTON 0

The hockey team won its second shut-out game by defeating Newton. "Snookey" Hughes scored in the second period. "Bob" Rosenblad scored two goals that were not allowed.

MEDFORD 1 — ARLINGTON 2

Arlington pinned a defeat on Medford by a 2-1 count. The game was one of the fastest of the season. The winning shot resulted in a freak goal.

MEDFORD 3 — BELMONT 2

The game proved to be Medford's last win of the season. "Bob" Rosenblad made a league record by scoring in five seconds. The improving Belmont sextet was defeated by an accidental clearing of the puck into the net.

MEDFORD 0 — CAMBRIDGE LATIN 1

The Latin game started Medford on a losing streak, although the game was hard fought. Frank Briand leading scorer of the league, scored the only goal. Captain Johnny Meoli turned in a good performance in the Medford strings.

MEDFORD 2 — RINDGE TECH 3

Rindge Tech, league champions, defeated Medford in one of the best games of the season. Medford led 2-1 in the third period but the Rindge manpower was too great. The winning goal was protested by the entire Medford team.

MEDFORD 3 — MELROSE 4

Melrose made up for the early season loss by taking Medford into camp, 4-3. For Medford, "Wally" Devoe made his best showing of the season. Leo Turner scored three Melrose goals.

MEDFORD 0 — CAMBRIDGE LATIN 3

The season closed with another shut-out at the hands of Cambridge. Though Medford, led by "Jack" Riley, threatened throughout, the team could not beat a strong Cambridge defense. "Mort" Buckley, Cantab leader, scored two goals.

The Medford players chosen to play on the All-Scholastic team were Jack Riley, John Meoli, Bob Rosenblad, and Roy Schena.

Co-Captains .... THEODORE CERVONE AND NICHOLAS DELNINNO

Manager ..... LAURENCE BOMMARITO

Coach ..... HERBERT L. COLLINS

The Basketball Team of this year had another very successful season under the direction of Mr. Collins. Ted Cervone, who was the captain of last year's quintet, was co-captain this year with Nick DelNinno. The season opened with victories over Stoneham 33 to 19 and Melrose 35 to 15. Then followed the annual game with the Alumni. This was a very interesting game, but the older boys won in over-time by the score of 51 to 49. Revere was the next victim by the score of 51 to 24. Lowell came to Medford and proved too good for our team, winning 36 to 26. North Quincy bowed to our team, 45 to 28, and then we journeyed to Chelsea only to lose a very close game 18 to 16. One of our keen rivals, Everett, met defeat in a score of 35 to 21. This was followed by the return game at Lowell and once again our team lost in over-time 40 to 38. During these games experiments with the team were being made, and about this time the regular first team consisted of DelNinno and Cervone as forwards, Valas as center, with Fennelly and Margarita as guards. The first team subs who performed well in all of these games were Webster and Jordan as forwards, Purbeck as center, and Squires and Miele as guards.

The team struck its stride, and with Cervone leading the scoring, the following games were won:

Medford 39 .....	Woburn 18	Medford 41 .....	Everett 33
Medford 36 .....	Somerville 30	Medford 38 .....	Chelsea 22
Medford 42 .....	Revere 27	Medford 33 .....	Woburn 21
Medford 41 .....	Somerville 17	Medford 42 ....	North Quincy 37

The last game of the season was played at Rindge and again Medford lost in over-time 35 to 33.

Following this, the team received its second successive bid to the Tech Tournament. The team defeated Weymouth in the opening round by a score of 34 to 27 and lost a very close one to Quincy in the semi-final round 32 to 30.

The fine spirit of the team was outstanding and the sportsmanship of the boys in all games was a credit to Medford High School.

DelNinno and Cervone were outstanding in practically all contests, Cervone being the highest point scorer with over 200 points to his credit.

The work of the second team must not be overlooked, for it won 15 games and lost 2. Outstanding on this team were Fortin, Coleman, Murray, King, McIsaac, Berberian, and Paturelli.

Charles Counter	John Martis	Charles Seret
Capt. Warren Evans	Louis Murphy	Walter Sherwood
Jackson Fogarty	Paul O'Hare	Joe Solomon
Richard Herlihy	Ray Parham	Peter Sullivan

ALUMNI 42 — HIGH SCHOOL 26

“Eddie” Dugger and “Coffee” Twomey combined their abilities to defeat their old teammates on New Year’s Day to open the indoor season. These two members of the Class of 1937 scored 25½ points between them, nearly enough to win. Outstanding for the high school was “Dick” Herlihy, with a win in the 300 and places in the dash and broad jump.

MEDFORD 55 — SOMERVILLE 22

Medford had little difficulty overcoming Somerville on the outdoor board track at the Everett High School Stadium. Medford took every first place except in the shot and the 1,000.

MEDFORD 41 — HUNTINGTON PREP. 27

Huntington proved a somewhat sterner opponent although Medford won by a convincing margin at the Boston Y. M. C. A. “Dick” Herlihy and “Ike” Evans were high scorers.

MEDFORD 47 — MALDEN 30

Malden proved an easy “nut to crack” for the “Blue and White” tracksters. Eleven of the local boys contributed to the scoring.

MEDFORD 32½ — LAWRENCE 44½

Medford bowed to Lawrence High in a dual meet held in the indoor cage at Andover Academy. In this meet the team was without the services of “Dick” Herlihy, who was nursing a sore foot. Capt. Evans was high scorer for Medford, placing in the dash, 300, and anchoring the fast winning relay.

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY INTERSCHOLASTICS

Although it possessed a well balanced dual meet team, Medford demonstrated in this first big Indoor Interscholastic Meet that there were few outstanding performers of championship caliber. “Dick” Herlihy’s win in the 300 gave Medford its only points. A spill in the relay against Newton lost points in this event.

1938

MEDFORD 42 — EVERETT 35

Everett proved a tougher proposition than anticipated in a dual meet held at the Everett Stadium. Medford won by a close score. "Ray" Parham was the high point scorer with nine points.

ANDOVER INTERSCHOLASTICS

A third in the short dash and a fast relay quartet composed of "Ray" Parham, "Don" Reid, "Joe" Solomon, and "Ike" Evans gave Medford its five points in the Annual Interscholastic Meet held at Phillips Andover Academy.

MEDFORD 22½ — M. I. T. FRESHMEN 49½

Medford strayed out of its class when it met the Tech Freshmen at its outdoor board track. As a result, the wearers of the "Blue and White" were soundly beaten by a better than average Tech outfit. In spite of the defeat, however, Herlihy and Evans shone with a win and a place to the credit of each.

STATE MEET

We should like to draw the veil over this meet, but as it is on the record, it must be reported that Medford failed to garner a single digit in the State Meet. Although no alibis are offered, in justice to the boys who did well, let it be written that "Don" Reid's 600 came within one-tenth of a second of placing him among the select. "Paul" O'Hare won his heat in the 1000 but again his time was a second too slow to place him among the select four. "Ike" Evans, in vain, performed nobly against a fast field. "Dick" Herlihy's anchor leg spill in the relay while leading Malden and Everett shut Medford out of points in the relay, while Malden went on to win in the second fastest time of the meet.

Outdoor Track

MEDFORD 117 — BELMONT 96

The outdoor track team opened the season on April 14 with a meet at Belmont. This meet was conducted as a sort of interclass competition, that is, Medford sophomores versus Belmont sophomores, juniors versus juniors, etc. In this meet Medford was victorious with a final score of 117-96. In the sophomore and junior divisions Medford's margin was wide, but in the Senior division Medford won by a mere point, 39-38.

INTERCLASS MEET

The next engagement of the track team was the annual interclass meet, which was won by the Seniors, only after stern opposition from the strong junior class. The final score was Seniors 32, Juniors 26, Sophomores 14.

MEDFORD 36 2-3 — BROCkTON 40 1-3

Medford fell victim to a strong Brockton High track team, starred by "Charlie" Caldwell, who alone scored 16 1-4 points.

The outcome of the meet hinged on the relay, which was the last event. This was won by Brockton's anchor man, the capable Caldwell, over Dick Herlihy by a scant two yards.

NEW ENGLAND RELAY CARNIVAL

At the Second Annual New England Relay Carnival held at Harvard Stadium Medford won the Class A sprint relay with a team composed of Dick Herlihy, Louis Murphy, Warren Evans, and Ray Parham; also a second in the shuttle hurdle relay with a team which included Lou Murphy, Warren Price, John Martis, and Dick Herlihy.

MEDFORD 54 1-2 — LYNN ENGLISH 22 1-2

Medford won its next dual meet with Lynn English High at Lynn. The size of Medford's margin of victory is not an accurate measure of Medford's superiority as each event was closely contested. Dick Herlihy, Ray Parham, and Warren Price were outstanding for Medford.

BASEBALL SQUAD

Baseball

Medford's Baseball Team got off to a shaky start at Lawrence, April 19, succumbing to its team by the score of 11 to 8. Medford's downfall was caused by lack of experience. The pitchers, consisting of Paul McCarron, Walter Hughes, and Johnnie Niland, all toiled in vain.

The second game with Woburn was a lively game with Medford victorious, 7 to 2. Walter Hughes pitched a fine game of ball, allowing only ten scattered hits. Frank Hardy and George Beckett followed in that order, and both did a commendable job.

Malden Catholic was the second victim, but it took Walter Hughes, our chief mainstay, to pitch a no-hit, no-run game to win it. Three runs and seven hits was the best Medford could do against the offerings of the opposing pitcher. Bob Glynn was the hero, making two fine catches, and gathering as many hits and scoring as many runs.

Chelsea played host to Medford at the former's spacious stadium, where Medford was victorious 11 to 5. Johnnie Niland pitched good ball for five innings allowing only two runs on four hits. Frank Hardy and Pat Paturelli followed; although Hardy was very effective, Paturelli was hit freely. The offensive gun this time was Bill Cliggott who collected three triples.

Malden High, next to invade our stadium, proving very troublesome, was defeated by the generous score of 14 to 10. This was a free hitting contest in which twelve hits rattled off the Medford bats, and eleven off Malden's. Walter Hughes started for our heroes, but was hit quite hard. Frank Hardy finished up and enlivened Medford's hope of a championship by pitching superbly. Robert and Francis Glynn, and "Bob" Margarita hit homers.

The Girls' Field Hockey Team enjoyed its season, although victories were sadly missing from their schedule. The team was greatly handicapped by the lack of a good practice field and experienced players. Coach Luce, however, quickly remedied the latter condition by shaping the group into a fast, hard-playing team. In recognition of the fact that field hockey is becoming one of the most popular sports for girls, the school has now supplied new and better equipment.

This year marked the first year of two court basketball at Medford. During the season the team played only one three court game, with Salem.

The second team had a very successful season. Many outstanding players were developed, especially Claire Clabby and Winifred Floyd.

At the close of the season the varsity players were awarded letters, and the second team players, numerals.

At the close of the 1937 season, the following girls were awarded letters: Jane Morgan, Marylin Coney, Eleanor Desmond, Constance Del Ninno, Anna Malatesta, and Claire Gibbons.

In the annual spring matches with Somerville, Malden and Newton, Medford defeated Somerville 3 to 2; Malden defeated Medford 5 to 0; and Newton defeated Medford 4 to 1. Medford won 4 matches, lost 1, and tied 1.

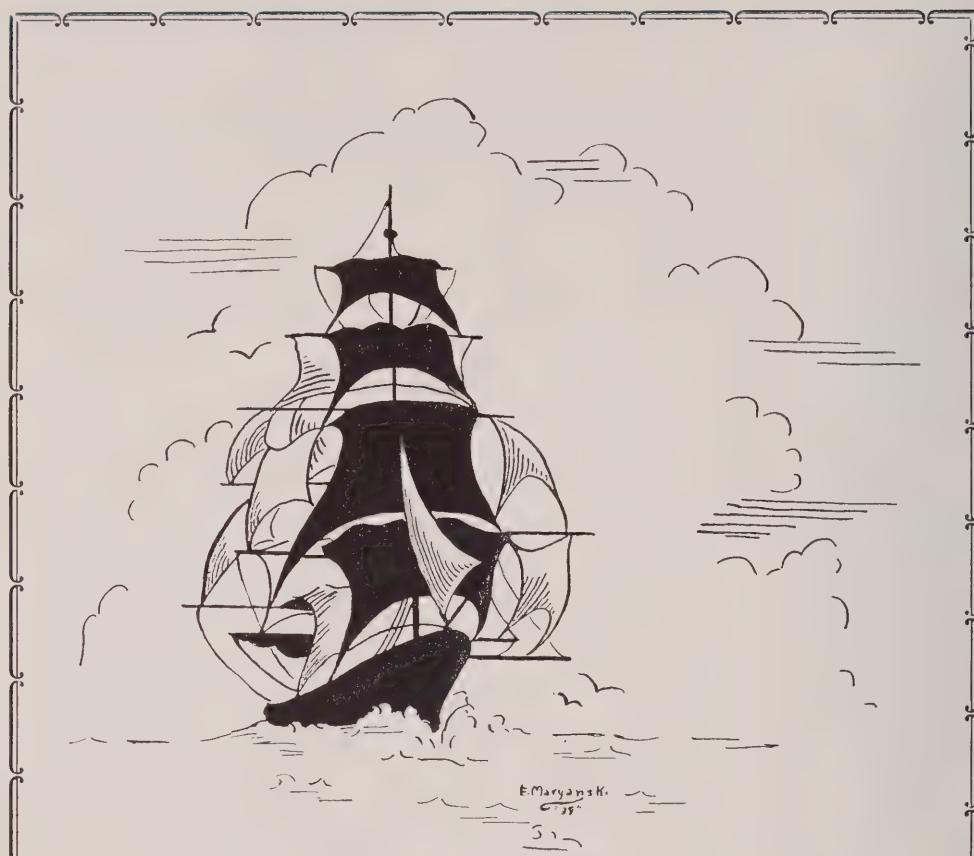

The team did exceptionally well considering the fact that the girls were obliged to practice in the gym and also that their opponents, Newton and Malden, were so formidable.
