

EARLY COLLEGE: A dual enrollment
program for rising
juniors and seniors
in Calvert County Public Schools

Calvert County Public Schools (CCPS) and the College of Southern Maryland (CSM) have partnered to bring CCPS high school students and their families the CSM Early College Program. Open to rising juniors and seniors, this tuition-free program is an opportunity to experience being a full-time college student, save money, and complete college credits while still in high school.

Students will take college classes on the CSM Prince Frederick Campus, while simultaneously fulfilling their high school graduation requirements. This program is open to rising juniors and seniors from all seven of the CCPS high schools for the 2025-2026 academic year

- As an Early College student, you'll get the full experience of being a CSM student taking college classes full time.
- You'll attend class at the Prince Frederick Campus Monday through Thursday, from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., in CSM's fully equipped classroom spaces and labs, with small class sizes.
- You'll have access to CSM facilities and resources, as well as a comprehensive network of support services provided by both CSM and your home high school.
- Most importantly, you'll see the reward for your dedication and effort when you graduate high school with your diploma and one or two years of college credits.
- Rising seniors will complete a General Studies Transfer Certificate and rising juniors will complete a Business Administration Associate degree.

PROGRAM BENEFITS

- Earn a Degree Faster.
- Save thousands on college. CCPS covers tuition, fees, and course materials.
- Experience College. Students will take college classes full time at CSM's Prince Frederick Campus and will experience the pace and rigor of college-level coursework.
- Access Support Services. Students will have access to CSM's top-notch support services, including academic support. Students who hold IEP/504 plans can apply for services at CSM.
