BROAD MARKETS

Three months ago, we were looking at what appeared to be a slowing down economy. At the time, after U.S. GDP grew at a 1.4% annualized pace in first quarter of 2024, the Atlanta Fed's GDPNow model was predicting sub-2.0% growth for the second quarter as well.

Instead, our economy continues to show resiliency, as it generally has over the last few years. Despite the lower predictions, U.S. GDP registered 3.0% growth during the second quarter. Both consumer spending and business investment have been robust. As of this writing, the GDPNow model projects a still strong 2.5% annualized GDP growth for the third quarter, and Deloitte predicts 2.7% total growth for all of 2024 in their Q3 United States Economic Forecast.

DOMESTIC EQUITY

The jobs market is strengthening, which would give the Fed room to go a little slower with rate cuts than the market expects. The last three months of July, August and September have seen 144,000, 159,000 and 254,000 jobs created respectively. As of this writing, the unemployment rate now stands at 4.1%.

Real consumer spending is strengthening as well. In July, real personal consumption expenditure (PCE) rose 0.5% following a 0.3% increase in June. For the second quarter of 2024, overall PCE grew by an annualized 2.9%. Spending on durable goods also increased 4.9% during the second quarter after falling 4.5% in the first quarter. This increased spending on durables can signify increasing consumer confidence. That sign of increasing consumer confidence hasn't completely followed through to the monthly University of Michigan Consumer Sentiment reading, however, which registered 70.1 in September. That is still well below the 100.0 level normalized in December 1964.

INTERNATIONAL EQUITY

The euro area has recently seen a substantial weakening of its economic outlook. The region's composite purchasing managers' index dropped below 50 in September. Readings below 50 indicate expected future economic contraction. The region has been in expansion territory previously, but that now appears to have only been a temporary boost from the Paris Olympics.

The negative outlook is attributable to French political turmoil, a general manufacturing sector malaise and a sluggish German economy. However, note that the euro-area periphery economic expectations in other countries are higher than Germany and France.

FIXED INCOME

After peaking at 9.1% year over year in June 2022, inflation has been on a choppy but downward trend since then. The most recent trailing 12-month reading in August was 2.5%. We are now getting close to the Fed's long-term target rate of 2%, which likely contributed to their willingness to recently cut interest rates for the first time in four years.

After a 50-basis point cut in their September meeting, the current Fed rate range now sits at 4.75% – 5.0%. This compares to the Fed's prediction for the long-term range of 2.75% – 3.0%. Surprisingly, as of this writing, the futures market predicts that we will get all the way to that long term range by this time next year. The Fed itself expects the reduction to be a little more gradual, although even they are calling for a range of 3.25% - 3.5% twelve months from now. Either way, we should expect numerous additional rate cuts soon.

RECOMMENDATIONS and MONITORING DECISIONS

▶ MFS Growth R6

Ticker: MFEKX

Fund Category: LG

Custom Decision (ongoing)

The fund will flag as failing on a three- and five-year basis, but the fund is not on the Watch List as the fund's absolute performance is greater than the category average on a three-year basis.

▶ American Funds Europacific Growth R6

Ticker: RERGX

Fund Category: FG

Custom Decision (ongoing)

The American Funds Europacific Growth Fund was added to the Watch List at the end of Q4 2023 due to performance. In 2021, security selection in health care and technology weighed significantly on performance and an underweight allocation to and security selection in industrials also contributed to relative underperformance; an overweight allocation to Latin America, specifically Brazil and security selection in Japan further dragged performance over 450 basis points below the category average. For 2022, while the fund posted double-digit negative performance, it managed to outperform the category average by more than 250 basis points and ranked near the top third of the category. However, in 2023, the fund slightly underperformed due to an overweight allocation to emerging markets stocks in Asia and security selection in financial services and energy, leading to one-year performance that again ranked behind the category average. Year-to-date, the fund has enjoyed overall positive security selection and allocation from both a sector and region perspective. The fund continues to rank in the top half of the category. The three- and five-year results are still just below median, with the one-year improving. We will continue to monitor the fund.

DISCLOSURES

FOR ONE-ON-ONE USE ONLY

Any recommendations in this report are made with respect only to funds for which StanCorp Investment Advisers, Inc., acts as an ERISA section 3(21) or 3(38) investment advisory fiduciary.

Information for funds for which StanCorp Investment Advisers is not acting as an investment advisory fiduciary is included in this Quarterly Monitoring Report as a courtesy, and its inclusion does not constitute investment advice by StanCorp Investment Advisers or its affiliates. StanCorp Investment Advisers is not responsible for making any recommendations with respect to the inclusion or removal of any investment option that it subadvises or is issued by an affiliate.

Actual results may differ from the performance shown herein. Average annual total return figures include changes in principal value, reinvested dividends, and capital gain distributions. Returns for periods less than one year are not annualized. For funds less than one year old, the Since Inception return figure is not annualized and represents an aggregate total return. Returns presented are net of underlying fund expenses and gross of any recordkeeping or administrative fees charged by Standard Retirement Services which generally include any fees, as applicable, for investment advisory services provided by StanCorp Investment Advisers. These fees would reduce returns. For example, if the gross annualized return for a mutual fund were 6.5 percent, 8.0 percent, and 7.5 percent, for the three-, five- and 10-year periods respectively, and the fees charged to the plan by The Standard were 1.0 percent, the net of fee return for the same periods would be 5.5 percent, 7.0 percent and 6.5 percent, respectively. Additional information about any fees charged by or payable to StanCorp Investment Advisers may be found in the Form ADV, Part 2A. For each investment, this overview also provides a benchmark which enables you to compare the performance of the investment with a broad based securities market index created by Morningstar. Broad based securities market indices may not always correlate well to an individual option. Investments cannot be made directly into an index.

Overall ratings are provided for the specific share class shown. Different share classes may have different ratings. Morningstar rankings represent a fund's total return rank relative to all funds that have the same category. The percentile ranking is based on the fund's total return percentile rank relative to all funds that have the same category for the same time period. The highest (most favorable) percentile rank is 1% and the lowest (least favorable) percentile rank is 100%. Morningstar rankings do not include the effect of sales charges.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. The value of an investment will vary so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth less than their original value. Fees and expenses will decrease investment returns so investors should take them into consideration prior to investing. Gross expense ratios represent the Total Annual Operating Expenses for the fund and do not reflect any fee waivers or reimbursements that may be in effect at the time the expenses are calculated. The net expense ratio reflects the expenses being charged by the fund at the time the expenses are calculated after taking into account any applicable waivers.

Asset allocation and diversification do not ensure a profit or protect against loss in declining financial markets.

Hypens appear in data columns to indicate that data is not available.

CUSIP, Net Expense Ratio and Turnover Ratio for Group Annuity investments pertain to the associated underlying mutual funds.

Some investments require a delayed import and will be available approximately 45 days after month end. Therefore, some of the data may be empty or outdated until it is available.

Peer groups are comprised of all of the funds that match an investment's category as classified by Morningstar. Morningstar Category identifies funds based on their actual investment styles as measured by their underlying portfolio holdings over a three-year period.

Based on Morningstar data, the system calculates data points on: Product History; peer group rankings for Calendar Year, Standard Deviation, Alpha, Treynor Ratio, Sharpe Ratio, and Expense Ratio; and all peer group rankings for money market funds.

Morningstar reports Manager Tenure at the fund portfolio level, while Product History is listed for the fund share class. As a result, more recent share classes may have much longer manager tenures than the reported Product History.

Net Assets reported in this report may be current as of the end of the month prior to the end of the quarter or the end of the last month of the quarter, depending on when net asset data was made available to Morningstar.

Alpha, Beta and R-squared statistics are calculated using the best-fit index as determined by Morningstar.

Morningstar groups mutual funds and exchange traded funds into different fund universes, although the same category types are used in both universes. Rankings are done within the separate universes, so that mutual funds are ranked with other mutual funds within the same category, and exchange traded funds are ranked with other exchange traded funds within the same category. As a result, a mutual fund and an exchange traded fund that share the same category are ranked relative to different peer groups.

Funds that focus on certain sectors may involve a greater degree of risk than broadly diversified funds. In addition to the risks associated with equity investing, investments in small and mid-cap companies and narrowly focused investments typically exhibit higher volatility and are less readily marketable than investments in larger companies or more diversified strategies. Similarly, international investing involves certain risks, such as currency fluctuations, economic instability, and political developments. These risks may be accentuated in emerging markets. Real estate investment funds are subject to special risks, such as tax law changes, and general economic conditions that may affect the value of the underlying real estate assets. Funds that invest in bonds are subject to certain risks including interest-rate risk, credit risk and inflation risk. Derivatives are subject to a number of risks, such as liquidity, interest rate, market, credit and management risk. A fund investing in a derivative instrument could lose more than the principal amount invested. The principal value and investment returns of mutual funds, money market funds and stocks are neither guaranteed nor insured by the U.S. Government. Indices are unmanaged, do not incur fees and cannot be invested in directly by an individual.

Employers and plan participants should carefully consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the investment options offered under the retirement plan before investing. The prospectuses for the individual mutual funds in the group annuity contain this and other important information. Prospectuses may be obtained by calling 877.805.1127. Please read the prospectus carefully before investing. Investments are subject to market risk and fluctuate in value.

Standard Stable Asset Fund is a group annuity product issued by Standard Insurance Company. Amounts contributed and the fulfillment of any guarantees specified in the group annuity contract are insurance claims supported by the full faith and credit of Standard Insurance Company. Standard Stable Asset Fund is neither a mutual fund nor a bank product and is not insured by the FDIC or any other federal governmental agency. Standard Insurance Company provides and periodically resets a guaranteed crediting rate for Standard Stable Asset Fund. However, plan sponsors may instruct Standard Insurance Company to reduce the crediting rate in order for Standard Retirement Services to reduce certain administrative fees for plan-related services. Your plan's crediting rate may be lower than the guaranteed crediting rate once the reduction has been applied. Past interest rates are not indicative of future rates. Standard Stable Asset Fund may not be available in all states.

Information on Standard Stable Asset Fund may be obtained by contacting your Standard Insurance Company representative.

If the plan sponsor selects The Standard Stable Asset fund as the cash equivalent investment option for the plan and instructs Standard Insurance Company to reduce the crediting rate as described above, the Annualized Returns for the fund as shown in this report is net of that reduction.

Please refer to StanCorp Investment Advisers' Form ADV disclosure brochure for additional details. StanCorp Investment Advisers creates general asset allocation models for use when providing investment advisory services. The allocation percentages to the asset classes in each model are set and updated, as necessary, based on certain assumptions made about market conditions, the rate of return for each asset class, average internal fees and expenses of an investment option, etc. No specific investment option was considered when setting the allocation percentage of each asset class. Therefore, the allocation percentage for the cash/cash equivalent sleeve of each asset allocation model does not take into account any specific investment option selected or whether the plan sponsor has instructed the issuer to reduce any crediting rate. Consequently, investment results may vary among investors using the same asset allocation model and the same investment options.
