Each group can play a game (charades, pictionary, etc.) or plan and execute a skit to show the character trait. ● If we video tape the skits, the videos can be used in future lessons (examples and non-examples of character traits). ● Idea for 4th and 5th grade to play the games, and 6th grade could plan and execute the skits to be videotaped. This could also be supported by student council. ● Side note- bringing student council members into Expectation Talks can make the messaging more powerful for students ● Looking forward to next year, the suggestion was made to shift the topic of self-control to earlier in the school year, especially with regard to the hallway noise. This topic could be swapped with Collaboration. We can gather feedback from staff about shifting the order of topics.
