As required by Chinese law NIS has an official set of Articles of Association.

1.105 Annual Review of the Bylaws

The Board may approve recommendation of such changes and amendments which are then presented to the membership of the Association, at the Annual General Meeting of the Association of Nanjing International School for approval.

1.106 Legal Entity - The Legal Person for the School

Chinese law does not recognise the school Board as legally responsible for Nanjing International School. Consistent with Chinese law, one person must take legal responsibility for the school as its legal person. The Board designates the Director of the school as its legal representative. Her or his name appears on the school’s operating licence.

Internally to the school, Board members and the Director share responsibility for the school's liabilities, as per the NIS Bylaws, as a body. Neither an individual Board member, nor the Director, holds responsibility for the school's liabilities as private individuals. In the eyes of Chinese law, the Director holds ex officio legal responsibility for the school's liabilities. The school holds liability insurance.

2.104 Strategy Formulation

In developing the school's strategy, the Board shall ensure adequate opportunity for consultation with parents/guardians before final decisions are made regarding strategic goals.

2.201 School Board and Director Relationship

The Board sets policy. The Director implements policy. Thus, the Director is responsible for the daily operation of the school, and hiring or dismissing of staff, whereas the Board steers the strategic course of the school.

In practice, the Board and the Director must act in partnership, in recognition of the fact that there are many decisions which need to be taken in partnership, falling between the poles of policy decisions clearly to be taken only by the Board, and operational decisions to be taken only by the Director. Such a relationship is only viable on the basis of a foundation of mutual trust.

The Board supports the Director by being aware of the appropriate channels for voicing concerns expressed by the community. To this end, it is important that there is effective and transparent communication on the parts both of the Board and of the Director.

2.202 Director's Selection and Appointment

The Director is selected and appointed by the Board. In discharging this responsibility, the Board shall employ the assistance of a reputable international educational search agency. In selecting appropriate candidates, the Board shall appoint a search committee comprising Board members, faculty members, and parents/guardians without a seat on the Board, to recommend a shortlist for the Board's consideration. The Board shall involve the community appropriately in interviewing candidates for this position. Short listed candidates will be invited to attend interview at the school, at the school's expense.

2.203 Director's Contract and Benefits

The contract and benefits of the Director shall be according to the package agreed by the Board. This package shall comprise a competitive incentive to lead NIS. The Director shall receive a written evaluation annually:

A subcommittee consisting of 3 board members chaired by the Board Chair is formed at the beginning of the school year.

Director Goals are set at the start of the school year by the full Board.

The subcommittee meets with the Director in January for a goal check.

All Board members receive a survey that evaluates the Director against his goals.

The Director submits a written self-evaluation to the subcommittee.

The subcommittee meets with the Director to discuss all evidence– the appraisal is written on that basis. Evidence is gathered from a board survey, a parent survey, a staff survey and a Director self-evaluation.

The written evaluation is presented at the final board meeting of the year to be ratified by Board decision.

2.205 Termination of Employment of the Director

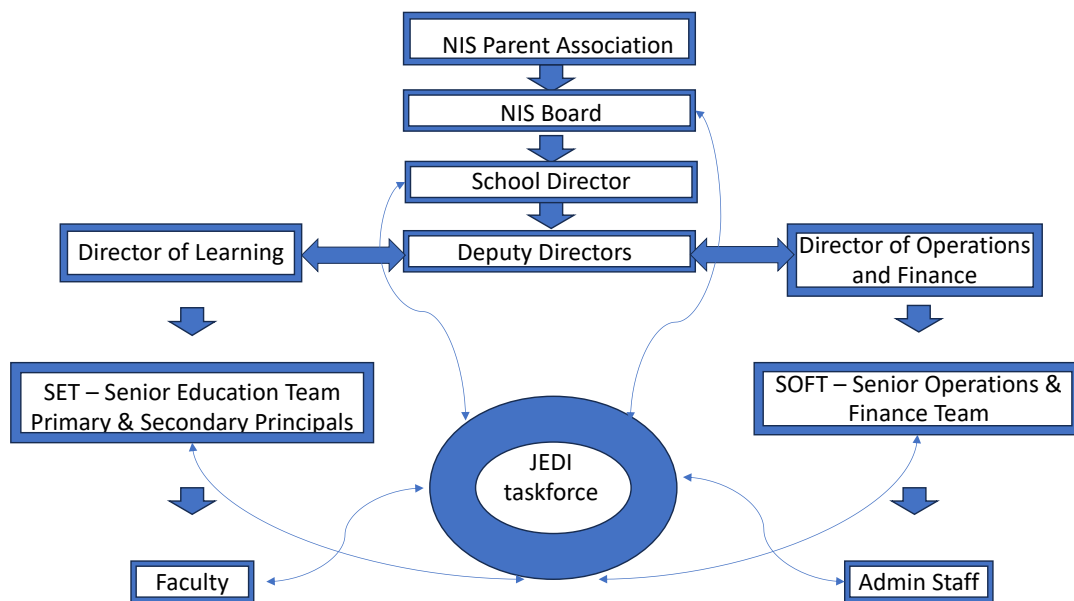

Termination of the employment of the Director shall be in accordance with the contractual agreement between the school and the Director. Termination must be with agreement of all the voting members of the full Board.

In some circumstances, when such a meeting is not feasible, the Director shall consult with the Board regarding the course of action to be taken, and a policy proposal shall be submitted for review and evaluation, at the earliest opportunity.

4.101 Director's Status Report

The Director shall submit a status report before each Board meeting, which gives an account of the activity in the school and its community since the last report was issued. The format of this report is prescribed by the Board. It is submitted at Board meetings for questions only – Board members are expected to have read the report before the Board meeting takes place.

4.102 Financial Statements

The Director of Operations and Finance oversees the preparation of full financial reports following reconciliation of accounts with the school's bank statements, at the end of each calendar month. The financial information is condensed into a one-page format for the purpose of presentation to the Board. This format is prescribed by the Board.

All such condensed financial information must be supported by full accounting information using day journals generated by the school's accounting software.

The full monthly financial report is reviewed by the Director and Director of Operations and Finance and is presented with verbal commentary to the Chair and Finance Committee, prior to submission of the summary sheet to the Board. The Finance Committee should meet on average every two months, to review the financial information. In months when the Finance Committee does not meet, the information must be reviewed by the Finance Committee Chair.

4.103 Director's Annual Report

The Director writes and publishes an annual report at the end of each calendar year. The reports are entitled Annual Report and contain useful information and data about the previous calendar year. The report basically covers the second semester of one school academic year and the first semester of the following academic year. This makes the report relevant to the current school population.
