In Red Clay we believe that children learn best through meaningful play. For a preschool child, play allows for the integration of language, cognitive, social-emotional, and physical development, in the most natural setting.

WHAT WE OFFER

With four convenient locations in New Castle County, the Red Clay Early Years Program offers inclusive learning spaces where preschoolers with special needs learn and play alongside their community peers.

Our dual-certified staff help to foster interactions among children, inspiring language and creativity, while all children gain a greater level of understanding and acceptance of others.

When families and teachers work together, they help children to develop to their full potential.
