Dear Damra,

After reviewing your request and following up internally, here is the response I have:

Zero Emission School Buses	Total vehicles 0
	Annual mileage n/a
	Annual energy cost
	(provide if available) n/a
Fossil Fuel Busses	Total vehicles 4
	Annual mileage 25,000
	Annual energy cost
	(provide if available)
	$23,000
New Busses Planned	Zero Emission (enter number) 0
	Fossil Fuel (enter number) 0

If you require additional information, please let me know. This concludes the response to this public records request.

Hi,

I hope all is well.

We are doing a state-wide study on the transition of school transportation from fossil fuels to zero-emission, and are looking for data on school buses for your school district.

We need rather simple, easily available data, and kindly ask you to share the requested data at the earliest, and latest by August 4th.

I thank you for your cooperation.

Kind regards,

Damra Muminovic

Zero Emission School Buses Initiative

Data needed for your school district - Please share at the earliest, and by the latest within one week from today, August 4th.

Zero Emission School Buses	Total vehicles
	Annual mileage
	Annual energy cost
	(provide if available)
Fossil Fuel Busses	Total vehicles
	Annual mileage

Annual energy cost

(provide if available)

New Busses Planned	Zero	Emission (enter number)
--------------------	------	----------------------------------

Fossil Fuel (enter number)

Why this study?

School buses are the largest form of mass transportation in the US. This 480 000 vehicle fleet is the largest emission source of greenhouse gases of all in the transportation sector. Transitioning to zero-emission buses across the country is an important and significant contribution to our climate goals. California aims to meet Zero Emission targets and to decrease school children's exposure to both cancer-causing and smog-forming pollution from school buses which is a real threat according to research from California Air Resources Board.
