Essential Resources Available for Volusia County Residents Affected by Hurricane Milton

VOLUSIA COUNTY, FLORIDA – In the aftermath of Hurricane Milton, residents are encouraged to make use of the various resources available to address their immediate needs, including food assistance and additional support services. Community organizations and local agencies are standing by to provide help and ensure everyone has access to the essentials during recovery.

Volusia County residents affected by Hurricane Milton can use the Volusia Helps app to quickly access vital resources. This free app provides up-to-date information on services for those in need with disaster relief and more. Users can search for specific services or browse through 13 categories such as housing, food, transportation, and utilities. The app offers detailed information on over 50 agencies, including application processes, fees, hours, locations, and contact details. Available for download on Apple and Android devices, Volusia Helps can also be accessed online at Volusia Helps.

For those searching for food assistance, the Second Harvest Food Bank of Central Florida remains a critical resource. It is dedicated to supporting our community during this time and can provide food options to those in need. To find a location near you or to learn more, visit Second Harvest Food Bank Of Central Florida.
