Basic Facts About Mental Health

- About 1 in 5 adults (ages 18 and older) has a diagnosable mental disorder. (National Institute of Mental Health)
- Mental illnesses are more common than cancer, diabetes, or heart disease. (U.S. Surgeon General's Report)
- Mental illnesses can affect persons of any age, income, race, religion or culture. Mental illnesses affect both males and females. (National Alliance for the Mentally Ill)
- Suicide is the 10th leading cause of death in the United States for all ages. (CDC)
- 4 of the 10 leading causes of disability (lost years of productive life) in the United States and other developed countries are mental disorders, which include major depression, bipolar disorder, schizophrenia and obsessive-compulsive disorder. Many persons suffer from more than one mental disorder at any given time. (National Institute of Mental Health)
- With proper care and treatment, between 70 and 90 percent of persons with mental illnesses experience a significant reduction of symptoms and an improved quality of life. (National Alliance for the Mentally Ill)
- More than two-thirds of Americans who have a mental illness live in the community and lead productive lives. (National Mental Health Association)

BEHAVIORAL

Healthcare Services

Our Mission:

To deliver life changing services to people with behavioral healthcare issues and intellectual and developmental disability services.

Although not a state agency, Texana Center provides state funded services through a contract with the Department of State Health Services (DSHS) following the Texas Resilience and Recovery (TRR) model of service delivery. This model of service delivery is built on evidence-based interventions aimed at promoting recovery and resilience of individuals with mental illness. A primary aim of TRR is to use these evidence-based interventions to eliminate or manage symptoms and promote recovery from psychiatric disorders. The intent is to provide the right service to the right person in the right amount to achieve the best outcome.

These state funded services are available to eligible adults with serious and persistent mental illness and serious emotionally disturbed children and adolescents who meet the eligibility criteria.

Texana Center also provides services to individuals with Medicare, Medicaid, and some managed care plans.

Texana Center provides services to residents of Austin, Colorado, Fort Bend, Matagorda, Waller, and Wharton Counties. Services are provided in outpatient clinics serving each of these counties and in the community as required by the various TRR levels of care.
