Mission Statement

Through House and Harkness, Lawrenceville challenges a diverse community of promising young people to lead lives of learning, integrity, and high purpose. Our mission is to inspire the best in each to seek the best for all.

Define your passion, find your purpose, become empowered in your pursuits. Your Lawrenceville experience is your own, and our dynamic community will support you along the way.

A House where you grow in wisdom and character through caring mentors. A Harkness table where you listen and lead alongside peers from around the world. A heart that actively seeks a life of learning, integrity and high purpose.

Around the Harkness table

At Lawrenceville, Harkness doesn't happen just around the table. Our students roll up their sleeves, ask questions, collaborate, and solve problems. The intellectual inquiry cultivated in our Harkness classrooms manifests in molecular biology research in partnership with a lab at Stanford University, rocketry projects in the Gruss Center for Art and Design, and construction of a life-size canoe during an interdisciplinary study of Boat Building and Botany.

The Hutchins Institute for Social Justice is an academic hub advancing social justice through scholarship, programming, and experiential learning.

Lawrenceville's Harkness Travel Program aims to promote the development of responsible leadership, global citizenship, self-awareness, and interdisciplinary knowledge in our student travelers. Whether through service, scientific research, cultural exchange, artistic performance, historical inquiry, or engagement with the natural world, Harkness Travel offers students the opportunity to develop their personal and global awareness.

When your House becomes a home

Whether it's painting your face before House Olympics, doubling over with laughter during a Saturday night Feed, or knocking on the door of your Head of House and talking through a problem, at Lawrenceville, your House truly becomes a home. In our community of 18 residential Houses, students form lifelong friendships, develop the values of cooperation, tolerance and leadership, and make memories that last a lifetime.

Teacher. Coach. Mentor.

Our teachers are committed to helping you discover and develop your intellectual passions, to think critically and creatively about the world around you, and to come up with solutions to the challenges and opportunities before you. You'll find them everywhere - inspiring debate around our Harkness tables, driving creativity in our makerspaces and studios, creating vital community connections in our Houses, and coaching on our athletic fields. Nearly 90 percent of our teachers hold advanced degrees, and many make direct contributions to their disciplines as published scholars, scientific researchers, and leading innovators in education.

A Sense of Belonging

In the classroom, in co-curricular activities, and through our residential life program, students have the opportunity to learn about and appreciate the perspectives and identities of others, while developing their own. Lawrenceville is committed to inspiring students to live “lives of learning, integrity, and high purpose,” which we believe is enhanced by being in an environment that celebrates difference and is committed to belonging. Lawrenceville encourages students to become global citizens through its emphasis on diversity, inclusion, and belonging in its academic curriculum and community goals.

Arts and Culture

The arts at Lawrenceville seek to inspire and connect. Our lively and comprehensive performing arts department offers musical and dramatic theater, vocal and instrumental music, and dance. Our visual arts program challenges students to develop visual awareness and acuity through classes encompassing historical analysis and creation. We believe the arts are an essential element in broadening students' approach to problem solving, to aesthetic enjoyment, to other people, and to life itself.

Experiential Learning

At Lawrenceville, you will engage in learning experiences that are designed to deepen your thinking and understanding while building your confidence, creativity, and initiative. We believe in “learning by doing,” whether you are in the science lab, at the farm, on the ropes course, participating in educational travel programs, or designing your own independent study. These are just a few of the many opportunities you will have to apply learning to real-life experiences.

Sustainability

Drawing on the legacy of alumnus and renowned ecologist Aldo Leopold (Class of 1905), sustainable living is woven into the fabric of Lawrenceville’s identity. From student-driven farming and ecological restoration internships to campus water quality monitoring and carbon reduction planning, the school motto “Virtue Ever Green” is a way of life.

Gruss Center for Art and Design

If you can imagine it, you can create it at the Gruss Center for Art and Design (GCAD). Lawrenceville's makerspace includes a fabrication lab, digital design rooms, and a large flexible project room for ideation and rapid prototyping. Whether building a guitar from scratch, creating an app to help a local nonprofit, or launching a handcrafted rocket, or simply trying something new, GCAD gives you the freedom and support to experiment and grow.

Big Red Athletics

Our three-term co-curricular requirement gives students the chance to participate in a variety of options, including interscholastic, intramural, or recreational sports, dance, theater, outdoor leadership, and more! Our premier interscholastic and intramural competition dates back centuries and is bolstered by a comprehensive co-curricular and fitness program that builds character, instills team values, and fosters a life-long commitment to positive physical and emotional habits. Our three-term sports requirement gives students the chance to participate in a variety of options, developing citizenship and leadership, sportsmanship and fair play, and relentless pursuit of excellence.

Excellence. Spirit. Teamwork.

Featuring more than 70 teams, including 32 varsity teams across 21 interscholastic sports; as well as intramurals and recreational options, Lawrenceville's athletic program is a true extension of the House and Harkness learning experience. We are equal parts athleticism, intelligence, and passion, and we demonstrate humility and a commitment to teamwork. Big Red spirit extends well beyond the field, permeating our lives as Lawrentians for decades to come.

TSAI FIELD HOUSE

Athletics. Dining. Community.

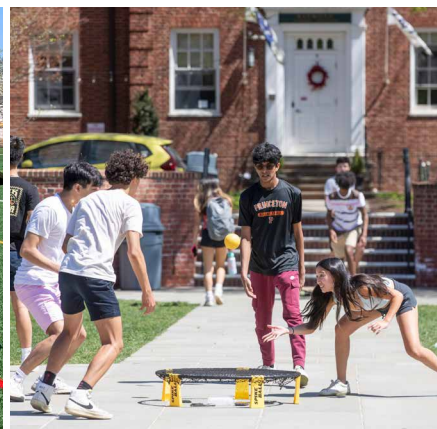

Tsai Field House is a community hub that reflects the spirit of House, Harkness, and Heart, uniting Lawrentians through teamwork, over meals, and in recreational spaces designed to enhance overall wellbeing. This newly unveiled 250,000 square foot facility, unrivaled among secondary schools, includes a pool, hockey rink, gymnasiums, squash courts, indoor track and arena, wrestling room, community fitness center, and a two-level dining hall.

Health and Wellness

Every Student has access to a robust support system - from our Al Rashid Health and Wellness Center. We have a systems based approach to all facets of student wellness, to our athletic trainers who provide comprehensive healthcare to our student-athletes, to our nurse practitioners who encourage proper nutrition. Our 24-hour Al Rashid Health and Wellness Center provides both in-patient and out-patient services, including general health counseling, mental health counseling and assessment, crisis intervention and support, medical evaluations, first aid and treatment of illness or injury, post-operative care, drug and alcohol education, and more.

Religious Life is visible and vibrant, designed so students can deepen their own faith and develop understanding and respect for the beliefs, traditions, and practices of others.

In an effort to further cultivate steadiness in mind and spirit, Lawrenceville also offers an array of restorative activities, including meditation, yoga, and opportunities for spiritual reflection.
