BVMS Student and Staff Member Honored with OMLA Central Region Awards

Buckeye Valley Local Schools is pleased to announce that at the OMLA State Conference last week, Julia Clark, a dedicated 8th-grade student of Buckeye Valley Middle School last year and current freshman at Buckeye Valley High School, and BVMS Library Media Specialist Lindsay Heston both received honors and were recognized for their achievements by the Ohio Middle Level Association (OMLA).

Julia Clark was honored with the prestigious Student of the Year Award for 2024. This award, presented to only two students statewide each year, celebrates young individuals who exemplify excellence in both school and community citizenship, academic achievement, and leadership. Julia was formally recognized for her achievements at the OMLA State Conference, where she received a plaque and a $500 savings bond.

Lindsey Heston was awarded the OMLA Award for Outstanding Contributions in a Support Staff Role. Through her role in the library, Lindsey has forged lasting connections with students, often
