These regulations exempt from minimum wage and overtime pay “any employee with a primary duty of teaching, tutoring, instructing or lecturing in the activity of imparting knowledge and who is employed and engaged in this activity as a teacher in an educational establishment by which the employee is employed.” Id. § 541.303(a). Having a primary duty of teaching generally involves “by its very nature, exercising discretion and judgment.” Wage and Hour Division Fact Sheet #17D.*

Substitute teachers qualify for the professional exemption if their primary duty is teaching and imparting knowledge in an educational establishment. On the other hand, substitute teachers whose primary duties are not related to teaching—for example, performing general clerical or administrative tasks for the school unrelated to teaching their assigned students, or manual labor—do not qualify for the professional exemption.
