The Department of Public Instruction (DPI) is required by state statute (Wis. Stat. 115.385) to generate a school report card and district report card for every publicly funded school and district in the state. The report cards are intended to help schools and districts use performance data to celebrate successes and improve their efforts to prepare students for their futures. These public report cards can be found online at: <http://dpi.wi.gov/accountability/report-cards>.

The current school report card is primarily based on last year's performance during the 2023-24 school year, though multiple years of data are used throughout the report card. DPI encourages caution when comparing scores and ratings from past years as the standards have changed for both math and ELA.

The priority area scores are aggregated into an overall accountability score, from 0 to 100. This score is displayed on the front page of the school or district report cards. It is important to note that the 0 to 100 accountability score is not a "percent correct" measurement and is not aligned with traditional 0-100 grading scales. Based on its score, a school or district receives one of five rating categories, from Fails to Meet Expectations to Significantly Exceeds Expectations, as well as corresponding one to five stars.

A breakdown of the State's four priority areas are listed below:

- Achievement - measured by proficiency in English Language Arts (ELA) and mathematics state assessments. The score is based on a multi-year average. The Glendale River Hills School District scored 59.8, the same or higher than 41.6% of Districts in the state.
- Growth - measured by year-to-year progress on statewide assessments. The growth priority area uses a value-added model that seeks to control for circumstances beyond the influence of educators. The Glendale River Hills School District scored 69.8 , the same or higher than 77.1% of Districts in the state.
- Target Group Outcomes - is designed to promote equity by helping schools focus on learners who need the most support while also improving outcomes for all students. The Glendale River Hills School District scored 60.5, the same or higher than 60.8% of Districts in the state.
- On-Track for Graduation - indicates how successfully students are progressing toward completing their K-12 education. The Glendale River Hills School District scored 85.0, the same or higher than 46.1% of Districts in the state.
