

World Language Supplemental Resource Review

The World Language Supplemental Resource Sub-Committee is presenting a list of 7-12 supplemental resources to be approved for use in PV Schools. This process has been created to fulfill the requirements of ARS 15-721 and ARS 15-722. In addition, we want to create standardized guidance for 7-12 world language classrooms.

PV teachers use supplemental materials in their lessons for various reasons, including catering to diverse learning styles, enhancing engagement, providing real-world connections, addressing varied skill levels, ensuring cultural relevance, offering current information, integrating technology, and promoting enrichment. These materials help create a more dynamic and inclusive learning environment, accommodating the individual needs and preferences of students. By incorporating a variety of resources, such as multimedia, hands-on activities, and digital tools, teachers can make lessons more interesting, relevant, and accessible. The use of supplemental materials also allows for differentiation within the classroom, supporting struggling learners while challenging those who excel, and fostering a more comprehensive and effective educational experience. The use of supplemental materials is a site-based decision; however, schools are limited to the approved list.

Thank you for your time and interest in PV Schools'
World Language Supplemental Resources!
