Tales of the Hollow

November 2024

From the principal's desk...

Dear SHHS Families,

This school year has been off to a busy and exciting start, filled with a wide range of activities and accomplishments at SHHS. In the midst of challenging global events, it is truly a pleasure to be part of such a dedicated and inspiring community.

Every day, our students, faculty, and staff work together to embrace learning, explore ways to grow, and collaborate on new initiatives for the future.

As this issue of Tales of the Hollow shows, a consistent commitment to learning and a spirit of compassion bring about positive outcomes for so many of our students. We hope you enjoy reading about these achievements and encourage your children to make the most of all the opportunities available to them.

With the holiday season fast approaching, we know that this time of year can bring additional stress for some of our families. Please remember that we are here to support you and your child, so do not hesitate to reach out if you have concerns or need assistance.

We wish you a wonderful and joyful holiday season and continued success throughout the school year. Thank you for your ongoing feedback and support.

Warm regards,

Dr. Debbie Brand

Learning from the Library

Newcomers to Sleepy enrolled in the ENL (English as a New Language) program have had a busy fall. They used the library databases to research famous Hispanic people for Hispanic Heritage Month. In addition, students went to Warner Library to get library cards and tour the facility.

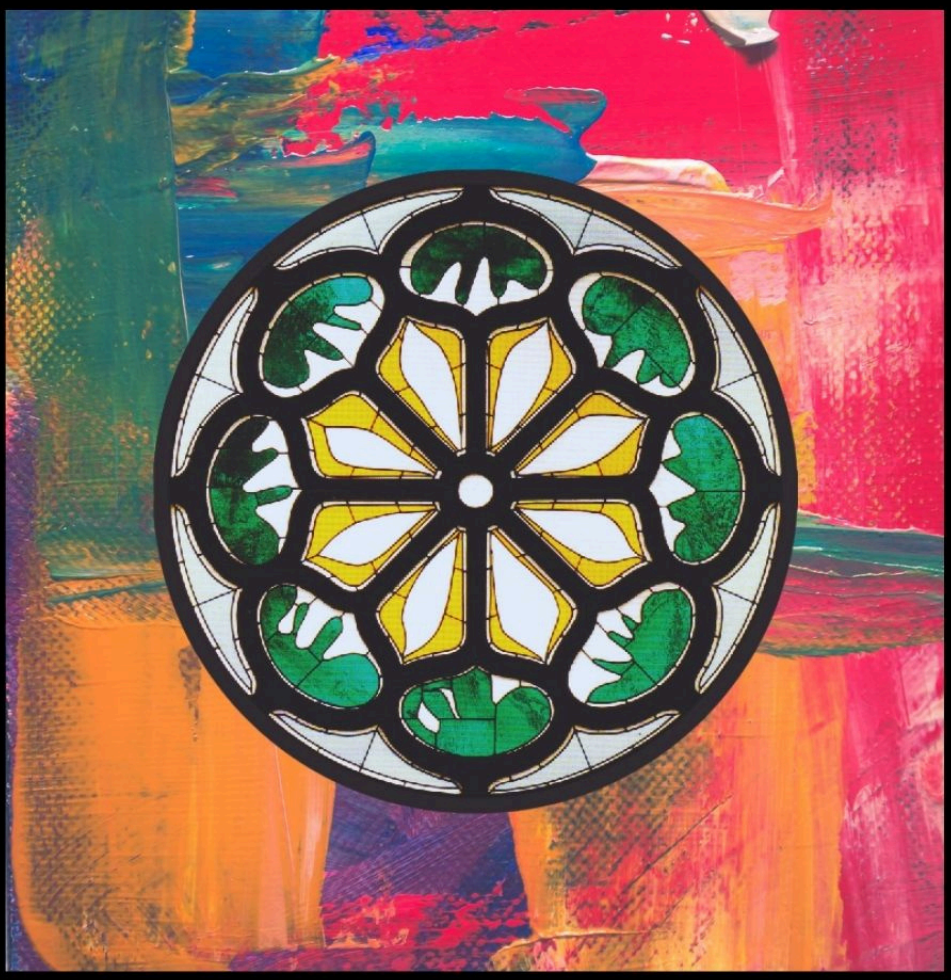

Creating a Sketchbook Collection

Students in Jane Lawrence's 2D art class will have the opportunity to start a Sketchbook Project Collection in the newly revamped library. These sketchbooks are a way for artists to express their new thoughts and ideas with others.

Through a Donors Choose grant, each student received a hardbound watercolor sketchbook filled with high quality paper able to withstand wet materials, allowing for students to use mixed media. Students will fill these sketchbooks with ideas from prompts and choice boards, allowing time for experimentation and discovery. When the semester has ended, the books will be cataloged and added to the school's library for other students and staff to enjoy.

Galloping Gourmet Club

The Galloping Gourmets cooking club believes in the innate importance of culinary skills as part of an independent, healthy lifestyle. Members aim to learn about and engage in cooking together and to give back to the community in special events and sales. The club meets twice a month, first to discuss what members would like to prepare and then to prepare it and share a meal together. The club runs food sales, contributes annually to the Food Bank of the Hudson Valley, donates holiday meals to families in the community, and establishes a kitchen, which is open to the whole school. The Galloping Gourmet Club believes that food is love, and it loves our school.

Portobello Mushroom Stroganoff

Prep Time: 10 minutes Cook Time: 20 minutes
Total Time: 30 mins Servings: 4

Ingredients:

- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1 large onion, chopped
- ¾ pound portobello mushrooms, sliced
- 1 ½ cups vegetable broth
- 1 ½ cups sour cream
- 3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- ¼ cup chopped fresh parsley
- 8 ounces dried egg noodles

Instructions:

1. Bring a large pot of lightly salted water to a boil. Add egg noodles, and cook until al dente, about 7 minutes. Remove from heat, drain, and set aside.

2. At the same time, melt butter in a large heavy skillet over medium heat. Add onion, and cook, stirring until softened. Turn the heat up to medium-high, and add sliced mushrooms. Cook until the mushrooms are limp and browned. Remove to a bowl, and set aside.

3. In the same skillet, stir in vegetable broth, being sure to stir in any browned bits off the bottom of the pan. Bring to a boil, and cook until the mixture has reduced by 1/3. Reduce heat to low, and return the mushrooms and onion to the skillet.

4. Remove pan from heat. Stir together sour cream and flour, then blend it into the mushrooms. Return the skillet to the burner, and continue cooking over low heat, just until the sauce thickens. Stir in the parsley, and season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve over cooked egg noodles.

Cook's note: To add some depth to the flavor, you could use 1 cup vegetable broth and ½ cup of cooking sherry or marsala, or experiment with your own variation.

College Corner

A financial aid advisor walked students and parents through applying for financial aid and answered any questions about this process during Financial Aid Night oin mid November.

On or around Dec. 1, the FAFSA will open for seniors and their families to begin working on. Check out this link for more updates: https://studentaid.gov/h/apply-for-aid/fafsa

The additional aid application some colleges will require is the CSS Profile.

Here are a list of the colleges asking for the CSS Profile: https://profile.collegeboard.org/profile/ppi/participatingInstitutions.aspx

Painting Windows with Halloween Spirit

Partnering with local businesses, students in Kristen Dreher's AP studio art and portfolio classes, along with some members of the art club, decorated windows for the Halloween season.

Connecting to Global Events

In AP Spanish classes, students share current events with the class about current events. They need to relate why it's important to the Spanish-speaking world, as well as to us locally. This activity fosters critical thinking, connections, and global citizenship.

Each class,in order to stay current, 3-4 people are going to tell us about current events that are happening in the Spanish-speaking world. Each person will speak for about 2 minutes. In this case, "current" means within the last two weeks. Use this form to organize your thoughts. You cannot read from it when you speak. Speak from your seat.

Visiting with a Photojournalist Virtually

Pablo Albarenga, a documentary photojournalist based in Uruguay, participated in a virtual visit with Jane Lawrence's digital photography class via the Pulitzer Center. A middle school art class joined the call as well.

Albarenga has been reporting on the Amazon and the Indigenous advocates working to protect it. Students were able to hear his stories and ask him questions.

The classes were reminded that photographers can be the invisible storytellers of underreported stories. Albarenga shared his research and journey through the Amazon rainforest of Colombia, Ecuador, and Brazil. They heard about his focus on the people who have been affected by deforestation. Sharing Albarenga's dedication to social and environmental justice was a must to celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month!

Gaining Insight from Mentors

Four senior girls -- Briscelys Ramirez Pichardo, Elina Veras, Stephanie Sanchez, and Mariely Espinoza -- were selected to be part of the Her Honor Mentoring Program. The program was established in 2006 by Nicole Sheindlin, attorney and daughter of Judge Judy. It matches first generation senior girls with women in business, government, or non-profits.

According to the program's website, it "is a fresh approach to helping young women reach their full potential. The cornerstone of the approach is connecting mentees with dynamic mentors across a spectrum of industries. During weekly meetings, mentoring pairs explore topics related to education, career, and financial literacy." Selected students will benefit by starting to create professional networks and learn pivotal workforce skills.

Spreading Joy in December

The SHHS Student Equity Team is committed to spreading joy and inclusivity throughout our school community, regardless of background or affiliation. To celebrate this spirit, we've created Equity in December, a special initiative recognizing National Days throughout the month. We invite everyone to get involved, whether by participating or making a donation. Let's come together to make this season meaningful for all!

Donations needed:

- Lights to decorate the entranceway (preferably white or school colors)
- Anything covered in chocolate
- Maple syrup-all kinds!
- Hard candy
- Anything you can spare that might help any of the days in the calendar!

Earning All-State Honors

Owen Staley earned All-State honors by finishing 8th in the Class B cross country race.

Writing Nature-Inspired Pieces

Students in Mr. Rogers' creative writing class walked Rockefeller Preserve and applied their observation, imagination, and language skills to capture the imagery they encountered. Students also used sensory language and the creative writing technique, "Show, don't tell," to describe what they saw, heard, smelled, and touched.

Finding the Clue to the Mystery

It was an intriguing and hilarious time at Sleepy Hollow High School Performing Arts' production of Clue this month.

Planning for the future

SHHS 10th grade students joined 10th graders from other school district to learn more about their career interests directly from a variety of career professionals. Students selected their career interests in English classes and permission slips were being sent home for parents to sign.

Watching Othello

English 12 Honors and AP Literature students viewed Shakespeare's Othello at the David Rockefeller Creative Arts Center at Pocantico in mid-November.

Creating a New Zen Den

The Zen Den has a new home. While still located in the guidance suite, the Zen Den is now located in the back of the college center.

Opened last year, the Zen Den is a place of comfort. All students who need a short time to reset, relax, refocus, or regroup are welcome.

The den provides a place of quiet and low lighting as a way for students to take away some of the stresses of their day. The room also provides fidgets, journals, Play-Doh, reading and materials, and manipulatives.

Students Iry Ferreras and Noor Ibouzir helped in the decorations of the new space.
