FROM THE VICE PRESIDENT

Dear Alumni and Friends,

Four years ago, I welcomed the class of 2009 to Central Catholic, fifty years after I myself had been standing in their shoes as a freshman at Central Catholic. I told them that when they graduated, I would be celebrating my golden jubilee as a Central Alumnus, but little did I know then that I would be graduating with them! However, in my case, I will not be leaving Central Catholic, but simply will be moving a few feet down the hall to the new Office of the Vice President for Mission Effectiveness.

The class of 2010 knows little of what lies before them, as did we of the class of 1959, but our accomplishments have far surpassed anything our wildest imagination could have conjured up. As much as I hate endings, I have found that they always open up opportunities that would have remained dormant. The current graduates are on the threshold of unlimited possibilities as they leave Central and take their talents, goodness, and intelligence to the next level.

On the threshold of the 75th Anniversary of Central Catholic, I now find myself with an unlimited opportunity to provide leadership in the domain of Central's mission, that is the deepening and enhancing of our identity as a Catholic, Marist School. My experience, passion, and gifts are best suited to this. In addition, I have promised Mary, our Good Mother, that I will use them to bring our students, indeed all segments of the Central Catholic Community, to Jesus through her. Families in the future will choose Central over other schools, not just because of her academic, athletic, or fine arts programs, but because of the solid foundation and formation in our Faith their children will receive here.

Again, I look to St. Marcellin and Br. Florentius for their example as humble men of faith, who, despite scoffing and opposition, poverty and politics, followed the direction of the Holy Spirit under Mary's protection and intercession to accomplish the impossible. Impossible, according to the logic of the world, but possible, always, according to the logic of God.

On the threshold of the 75th Anniversary of Central Catholic, I now find myself with an unlimited opportunity to provide leadership in the domain of Central's mission, that is the deepening and enhancing of our identity as a Catholic, Marist School.

As I take leave of this space in The Emblem and yield it to the pen of our new president, Br. Thomas P. Long, FMS, '73, I see this logic at work and applaud his appointment as well as the competence and vision this Brother and friend will again bring to Central.

With your help, we will mature and expand even further the vibrancy of spirit that leaps off these pages, that defines Central Catholic, that animates every class reunion, and that empowers every graduate. We have been presented with a wonderful responsibility and opportunity. Let us seize it with gratitude, passion, and confidence.

Sincerely,

THE CLASS OF 2009

Comprised of 321 graduates from 25 cities and towns, the Class of 2009 has given over 8,000 hours in community service, won state championships (girls basketball and boys outdoor track in 2009, boys basketball and girls outdoor track in 2008), raised over $35,000 for breast cancer research (through the Catwalk4Cancer), and led many spiritual and leadership retreats. They have earned a well-deserved reputation for serving the least favored, striving to truly live out the mission of Central Catholic in every way, as a class and as individuals. During graduation week, the Class and the entire school community suffered a tragic loss: classmate and cherished friend Rebecca 'Becca' J. Solomon '09 died in a car accident on Wednesday morning on her way to school. Honoring Becca's memory was an important part of graduation activities.

GRADUATION!

'In the midst of Lawrence city'; graduates sing the Alma Mater as a class, Matthew J. Kirkham '09, Michael Manzi '09, Danielle C. Letayf '09, and Kathleen E. Murphy '09.

Members of the Class of 2009 are congratulated by the faculty after processing out of the Memorial Gymnasium.

BY THE NUMBERS

COMING HOME TO CCHS:

Br. Thomas P. Long, FMS, '73

Returns to Lead Central Catholic as School Approaches 75th Anniversary

Chairman of the Board Thomas M. Burkardt is pleased to announce that the Central Catholic Board of Directors has elected Br. Thomas P. Long, FMS, '73 as President of Central Catholic, effective Monday, August 17. This decision was approved by Br. John Klein, FMS, Provincial Superior of the Marist Brothers.

Br. Tom is a dynamic leader who defined the role of President at CCHS while serving as the school's first President from 1999 to December 2003. He implemented a strategic planning process and fundraising initiative that resulted in the new South Wing and significant renovations to existing facilities. These improvements allowed for continued enrollment growth and greatly enhanced the educational experience of students – academically, athletically, socially, and spiritually. Br. Tom brings a wealth of experience to the position, having served as President of three additional Catholic schools since his previous tenure at Central Catholic, including his most recent position as President of Nolan Catholic High School (Fort Worth, Texas), the largest Catholic high school in Texas.

Br. Rene D. Roy, FMS, '59 will assume the role of Vice President for Mission Effectiveness. In this new position, he will work hand-in-hand with Br. Tom and the school's alumni, supporters, faculty, and staff to further strengthen the Catholic identity, Marist charism, and mission of our school.

"Br. Rene has made invaluable contributions to CCHS during his four years as President," notes Chairman Tom Burkardt. "A man of deep faith and conviction who possesses many talents, Br. Roy has earned the respect and appreciation of the Board of Directors and the entire Central Catholic community."

During his four years as President, Br. Rene oversaw many improvements and achievements. The area surrounding the school has been transformed by the reconstruction of the school parking lot and the creation of a softball field and a community park through an innovative partnership with the city. These projects incorporated several environmentally-sensitive features that improved drainage

*"I am delighted and honored to return to Central Catholic," states Br. Tom.
"The opportunity to be of service to our students and their families - indeed to the entire Central Catholic community - is a source of special joy"* in the Spicket River flood plain. Additional environmental initiatives undertaken during Br. Rene’s leadership include a significant expansion of the school recycling program.

As President and as an alumnus, Br. Rene has exhibited a contagious esprit de coeur and passion for the mission. Under his stewardship, Central Catholic has maintained and built upon the school’s excellence in preparing students for college. In recent years, virtually 100% of graduates have pursued higher education. Br. Rene’s focus on service and spirituality, along with his willingness to share his own experiences as a missionary, has touched the lives of many students and alumni. Furthermore, Br. Rene’s passion for the arts is reflected in the expansion of the fine and performing arts programs.

“It has been an honor and privilege to serve my Alma Mater as President and to make the surrounding communities more aware of her significant presence” states Br. Rene. “I look forward to applying my pastoral gifts and passion for the school’s mission in my new role.”

As the school approaches its 75th Anniversary (2010-2011), Central Catholic is entering an exciting phase in history that will celebrate and expand on the opportunities that Central Catholic offers to students and the community. The school has intensified efforts to increase funding for its innovative, aggressive, and comprehensive financial aid and outreach program to ensure the accessibility of a CCHS education for perpetuity. Central Catholic continues to add technology and improve the many academic, athletic, spiritual, and service programs that have come to define the Central Catholic experience. The efforts of both Br. Rene and Br. Tom will be vital as we expand on the opportunities for the personal growth of students.

“I am delighted and honored to return to Central Catholic,” states Br. Tom. “The opportunity to be of service to our students and their families - indeed to the entire Central Catholic community – is a source of special joy. As I have often said, so much of who I am and what I’ve become is a direct result of my education and formation at Central Catholic.”

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD RECOGNIZED...

Thomas M. Burkardt, the recently appointed Chairman of the CCHS Board of Directors, and his wife, Pamela, received the Liberty Bell Award from the Lawrence Bar Association. Tom and Pam have been active members of the CCHS community since they became involved as parents. Their sons Michael P. Burkardt '02, Sean T. Burkardt '03, and Colin R. Burkardt '07 are all graduates. Tom and Pam have given generously of their time, talent, and financial resources. Congratulations to the Burkardts for the Law Day recognition of their monumental commitment to CCHS and to the entire Merrimack Valley!

William J. Murphy '63

credits Central Catholic for providing the foundation for his significant success, success which has spanned the two seemingly disparate fields of high technology and winemaking.

“The lessons I learned at Central Catholic from teachers like Br. Linus J. Doherty, FMS, and Warren W. Hayes '54,” states Bill Murphy, “provided the basis for my future accomplishments, whether it was the math skills that served me so well as an electrical engineer at Hewlett-Packard or the ability to effectively communicate ideas in the written and spoken language. The lessons have stayed with me throughout my life. Today, I’m teaching my grandson many of the grammar rules I learned from Mr. Hayes over 40 year ago.”

Bill’s life was shaped not only by his educational experience at Central Catholic but by his social experience, as well. It was at one of the legendary Friday night dances in the Memorial Gymnasium where Bill met Brenda LaChance, a student at St. Anne’s. Bill and Brenda have celebrated over 40 years of marriage (and counting) and raised two daughters. They are now enjoying their grandchildren and a highly successful and rewarding family business that they co-founded.

Bill graduated from Tufts University in 1967 with a degree in electrical engineering and embarked for the West Coast, where he earned a master’s degree in business administration from San Diego State University. Following a distinguished 30-year career in Silicon Valley with the Hewlett-Packard Company, during which he named and branded the highly successful LaserJet product line, Bill decided to follow another passion: fine wine.

In the late 1980’s, Bill and his wife Brenda planted a half acre backyard vineyard at their house in the foothills of the Santa Cruz Mountains, a region known for its high quality grapes and world class wine. In 1992, they founded Clos LaChance Wines, and Bill ‘retired’ from HP in 1999 to serve as the full-time Chairman and CEO.

What began as a hobby has evolved into a flourishing family wine business. Their initially modest venture now distributes 80,000 cases nationally and includes a winery, a 150-acre estate vineyard, and a hospitality center and tasting room. These facilities are adjacent to the CordeValle Resort and Golf Course in San Martin. In addition, Clos LaChance manages 40 acres of backyard vineyards through CK Vines, a vineyard maintenance and installation company that Bill and Brenda established to ensure a continuing supply of high-quality fruit.

Bill takes particular pride in the fact that Clos LaChance is a family business. His two daughters have played a key role in the company’s growth and success. His oldest daughter, Cheryl, is Vice President for Sales and Marketing, and his youngest daughter, Kristin, is Vice President of Business Units and manages CK Vines, Weddings and Corporate Events, and Bay Area Bottling.

Bill plays a leading role within the wine industry, serving on several boards and committees. In 2008, he was appointed Chairman of the Board of Visitors and Fellows at the University of California at Davis’s Department of Viticulture & Enology, the pre-eminent school for viticulture and winemaking.

Throughout his life, Bill has made significant contributions to the community. He is active with a local arts group and served as chairman of his local Red Cross chapter during the devastating 1989 Bay Area earthquake and as the first male member of his local YWCA’s Board of Directors.

Bill may have departed for the West Coast over 40 years ago, but his ties to Central Catholic remain strong. He continues to exemplify the values and lessons he learned at his alma mater, taking them from the Merrimack Valley to Silicon Valley, from high-tech to the wine industry.

Fulfilling the Promise

The Student Sponsorship & Scholarship Program

Annual Scholarship Dinner
Thursday, March 12, 2009
Central Catholic High School

Fulfilling the Promise is a key component of Central Catholic's innovative, aggressive, and comprehensive financial aid and outreach program, providing the opportunity of a Central Catholic education to deserving students by matching them with generous benefactors.

The Annual Scholarship Dinner brings together the students and the benefactors, honoring them for their contributions to the Central Catholic community.

Speech excerpts:

CCHS taught me discipline, organization, commitment, and leadership. I was challenged to be better than I ever thought possible, I was surrounded by the best teachers one could ask for... When I went to college, I wasn't overwhelmed. I had a study schedule, I had a daily planner, I had a goal. All of this came naturally to me because we learned it at Central. Without your support I may not be where I am today, my husband (Mario Reyes '97) would not be where he is, and I know at least 20 other alumni who would like to extend their most sincere "Thank You" for your help and support. Because just like all the staff members at CCHS who were rooting for us, we know that you were, too.

Now Announcing: The Warren W. Hayes '54 Sponsorship & Scholarship Fund

Each and every year, CCHS families face unforeseen hardships and tragedies that threaten their ability to pay tuition. Without tuition assistance, these students, cherished members of the Central Catholic family, face the prospect of withdrawing mid-year, making an already difficult family situation far worse.

Finding the resources to prevent such an outcome is a constant challenge.

A Meaningful Gift, A Fitting Tribute

Inspired by this need, William H. Hearne '54 and wife Margaret made a generous commitment to initiate a new, dual-purpose fund in recognition of William's friend and classmate, Warren W. Hayes '54, a retired Central Catholic teacher. Warren has had a significant impact on Central Catholic and generations of students.

“Mr. Hayes not only teaches English, but also teaches what life really is, and how one can survive in this world and be at peace with himself.”

1976 Florentian Yearbook Dedication

What better way to honor the legacy of Warren W. Hayes than to make a gift in his honor to ensure that students receive the benefits of a Central Catholic education?

Faculty & Staff Notes

This section contains news and notes from the faculty and staff of Central Catholic High School. If you have any updates or information on past or present faculty and staff, please contact The Emblem by either emailing srogers@centralcatholic.net, calling 978-682-0260 ext. 635, or mailing correspondence to the school address, Attn: The Emblem.

Mr. Robert T. Benedetto '89, science teacher, received the 2009 Vernier Technology Award by the National Science Teachers Association. He is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame and was selected for his exemplary use of technology in his science classes. Central Catholic will receive a $1,000 grant from the Vernier Corporation to be used to enhance its science program in recognition of his award.

Mr. Jackson L. Garcia '99, Home and School Coordinator, has been awarded a special fellowship for summer study at the Breadloaf Graduate School at Middlebury College in Vermont.

Mr. Leo F. McCue, social studies teacher, was invited to grade AP US History exams in Kentucky in June. He also has been awarded a fellowship through the National Endowment for the Humanities Landmarks grants to visit Texas to study the Alamo controversy. He was scheduled to leave in June for San Antonio.

Ms. Karen E. Moynihan '69<sup>SM</sup>, Chair of the English Department, had an article on Central Catholic's 'Authors in the Classroom' program published in the January edition of the English Journal, a national publication of the National Council of Teachers of English. Karen developed the 'Authors in the Classroom' program at CCHS two years ago. This program brings noted local and nationally acclaimed authors to speak to students about their works. In addition, Karen was chosen as a "peer reviewer" for future submissions to the English Journal.

Mr. Michael J. Randall of the Office of Institutional Advancement has been promoted to Associate Director for Development.

See page 13 for details on coaching achievements and awards.

Milestones

Congratulations to social studies teacher Mr. John C. Housianitis '77 and to business teacher and varsity football coach Mr. Charles Adamopoulos for 25 years of teaching at CCHS.

Congratulations and thank you to Sr. Judith Copper, SND, who retired from her ministry as a social studies teacher at CCHS after 20 years on the faculty.

Faculty Births/Blessings

Ms. Anne (Murnane) Marinaro, varsity girls soccer coach, and her husband, Joseph, are the proud parents of a daughter, Anna Rose.

Ms. Anne Martino, religious studies teacher, and her husband, Stefan, are the proud parents of a son, Oskar: 6 lbs 8 oz and 19.5 in long

Mr. Kevin Shute, our network support specialist, and his wife, Laura, are the proud parents of a daughter, Maddison Grace. She weighed 8.5 pounds and was 21 inches long.

Former Faculty

Br. Valerian T. Doiron, FMS, taught algebra at Central from 1953-1955. At 93, he is now the Dean of the American Province. After leaving Central Catholic, he taught at St. Joseph's High School in Lowell and then Mt. St. Michael Academy in the Bronx, where he is retired. Still active, healthy, and alert, he spends time at Camp Marist in Ossipee, NH in the summers, where he worked for many years. He attended the investiture of our newest novice, Br. Brian Poulin, FMS, in February, and posed for this historic photo of the oldest and youngest Brothers of the Province.

Br. James Gaffney, FMS, who taught French at Central Catholic from 1952-1955 and again from 1968-1977, celebrated his 60th anniversary as a Marist Brother on June 19, 2009 with five other members of his profession group. During his second "tour" at Central, Brother James, aka Frere Jacques, was the moderator of his post-Vatican II Sodality, known as the CYA, Catholic Youth Association, which involved students in tutoring, summer projects, concerts for the elderly and a coffee house. After 50 years in the classroom, Brother now resides at Champagnat Hall at Mt. St. Michael Academy in the Bronx, has taught ESL classes to non-English speaking Brothers for six years, and still enjoys his hobby, model trains.

Sr. Anita St. Laurent, S.C.I.M., a member of the Good Shepherd Sisters, passed away earlier this year. In 1970, Sr. Anita became the first religious sister appointed to teach at Central Catholic. She was assigned to the World Language Department and later also taught in the business area. She was filled with a generosity of spirit, good humor and a genuine love of her students. She is the sister of Bernard St. Laurent '50.

1968: Class Reps: James M. Giarrusso, giarrusso@prodigy.net; Joseph A. Ruggieri, jruggi9294@aol.com
John E. Griffin, a 31-year teacher at Salem (NH) High School and executive director of the Greater Lawrence Community Boating Program for the past 27 summers, is retiring from both jobs. This summer, he will be heading to Montana on a hiking trip. After that, he's hoping to start a second career as a Lawrence High School teacher.

Joseph A. Ruggieri '68, on right receives the Counselor of the Year Award from Edward Olsen, Northeast Regional Vice President of the National Association of Alcohol and Drug Counselors.

Joseph A. Ruggieri was named the Lora Roe Memorial Alcohol and Drug Abuse Counselor of the Year Award as a result of his 30 years of service in the mental health field, specifically for his involvement in the development of a number of innovative and groundbreaking programs. Joseph, who lives in Plaistow (NH) and has offices in North Andover, was presented the award at the Association of Addiction Professionals' Annual Convention held in Overland Park, Kansas. Born in Biancavilla, Sicily, he immigrated to the United States at the age of six in 1956 aboard the Andrea Doria. He completed his degree at Merrimack College following the tragic death of his wife in an automobile accident in 1974, leaving him with three children, ages two, three and five, when only 24 years old. He graduated Summa Cum Laude and was awarded the Cardinal Cushing Medal as the highest-ranking student in the Division of Social Sciences. He continued his education at the Harvard Graduate School of Education where he received both his Masters and a Certificate of Graduate Studies in Counseling and Consulting Psychology. Joseph opened Jackson House, the first transitional group home for deinstitutionalized patients in Greater Lawrence, and served on the Board of Directors of a local Samaritan Branch for 16 years. He was honored with the First Annual Samaritan of the Merrimack Valley Award in 1986. He started his private practice, Associates in Psychological Services, in 1984. He was certified in 1996 as a Master Addiction Counselor and as a Substance Abuse Professional (SAP). Since 1997 he has also worked with the Massachusetts District Attorney's Office in implementing the Juvenile Diversion Program and Youthful Offender programs.

Matthew Fitzgerald '02

Making Mann Orchards the Best in the Bushel

Since landing on the payroll at age 13, CCHS Alumni Matthew Fitzgerald '02 has been committed to the success of the "family business," Mann Orchards in Methuen. Whether picking apples, baking pies, or working the stand, Matt learned the business and looked for ways to reach greater success. Upon graduating from Central, Matt went to Johnson and Wales University where he graduated with a bachelor's degree in Food Service Entrepreneurship and an MBA in Marketing.

Returning to the Orchard, Matt was able to apply management, marketing, and business strategies that increased exposure and assisted in the Grand Re-Opening of the Mann Orchards Market (www.mannorchards.com), now at 27 Pleasant Valley Street in Methuen. He has assumed the new role of Owner and General Manager.

In addition to the many business successes, Matt prides himself on his family's commitment to the community, including Central Catholic High School. "It is important for us to stay connected to the community that we have called home for more than 130 years. The people of the Merrimack Valley have been shopping at Mann's for so many years, it is important for us to give back when we can." CCHS continues to be an important part of Matt's life. "My Central experience helped shape who I am today. My family owes a debt of gratitude to CCHS for all it has done for me and for the people of the Merrimack Valley."
