

Cardinals are awake during the day
when the Sun is up.
Their short beaks help them crack
nut shells.

Pearl sleeps during the day and wakes up at night. She has a great nose to help her find food in the dark, and her long whiskers keep her from running into things in the dark.