FAFSA Completion online

- New look/feel
- There are significantly less questions
- FAFSA “Contributors” are now important
  - For dependent students, at least one parent must be a “contributor”, depending on tax filing status
- “Contributors” are not necessarily those who will be paying the college tuition

FSA ID

- Studentaid.gov
- Required to access the FAFSA
- May be used by students and parents throughout aid process, including subsequent school year and beyond college (loan repayment)
- Parents can use the same FSA ID for multiple children
- Each contributor may need their own FSA ID

Direct Data Exchange (DDX)

- FTI Approval (consent) is REQUIRED
- Student and contributor(s) must give approval for DDX, even if they are not eligible to use it
- This is what allows the IRS to provide income information to the Department of Education to simplify the FAFSA

General Student Information

- Social Security Number
- Citizenship status
- Marital status
- Demographic information
- Level of parents' school completion

Student Dependency Status

FAFSA asks questions to determine dependency status for federal student aid (not IRS) purposes:

- If all “No” responses, student is dependent
- If “Yes” to any question, student is independent

Who is My Parent?

1. Who did I live with the most?
2. Who provided the most?

Who provided the most support?

Information About Parents and Dependent Students

- Tax, income, and other financial information
- Receipt of federal means-tested benefits
- Assets

- ALL income information will be added to the FAFSA via DDX with two exceptions:
  - Foreign income exclusion
  - Taxable grants and scholarships

Changes in Data Reported

- Child support received
  - Report the amount received in the most recent “COMPLETE” tax year
  - Counted as an asset
- Educational Savings Plans (529)
  - Now only report the value of the account for which the student is the beneficiary
- Family size
  - Comes from the tax return
  - Can be changed

Frequent FAFSA Errors

- Social Security Numbers
- Family size
  - Now coming from the tax return
  - CAN BE UPDATED
- Real estate and investment net worth
  - Don't include the value of your primary residence
  - Now must include business value

Verification

- Prescribed by the US Department of Education
- If required, all schools need to complete the review
- Additional documentation would need to be submitted to each school your student is considering
- Used to confirm accuracy of FAFSA data

Special Circumstances

Captures circumstances that can't be explained on the FAFSA

- Change in employment status
- Unusual medical expenses not covered by insurance
- Change in parent marital status
- Unusual dependent care expenses
- Student cannot obtain parental information

Special Circumstances

- Send written explanation and documentation to financial aid office at each college
- College will review and request additional information if necessary
- Each college handles this process differently; no universal procedures
- Students who are unable to provide parental information can now be considered “provisionally independent”

Timetable
