NEW ADULT TITLES!

The Mirror

by Nora Roberts
In the new novel in the Lost Bride Trilogy, Sonya McTavish seeks to discover the history of the family mansion she's inherited - and defy the enemy within it who wants her gone. Sonya's fears fade a bit, replaced by defiance. But those fears never quite disappear, especially when a haunted antique mirror keeps appearing, drawing Sonya into the past. As Sonya gets deeper into the mysteries, can she hope to break the "lost bride" curse?

The Patriots' Dilemma
by Timothy Messer-Kruse
"In explaining the role of self-interest in the abolition work of the founding generations, Messer-Kruse broadens debates" - Beverly Tomek, Author.
Timely and controversial, this book confronts longstanding interpretations of U.S. history that emphasize a fundamental conflict between pro and anti-slavery interests.

KIDS BOOK REVIEW

Christopher learns about a world beyond his own, one filled with magical creatures - but the magic keeping them alive is disappearing, and Christopher will need help to try and save this world - and his world too.

Miss Macy recommends this fantasy for the reader who is looking for an adventure - or loves magical creatures! There are beautiful illustrations that help when you meet new creatures - and an entire illustrated glossary of creatures at the end! I wish I could visit the Archipelago! Find it in the library: J Rundell
