

3rd Grade Math and Science! (Week of March 7th)

Math

We have started working out of our 2nd math book this week. We started a unit on fractions. This week students have learned what a fraction is and what the numerator and denominator tell us.

Science

We have started a unit on force and motion. This week we explored what a push and what a pull might be. Below you will see some pictures of hopper poppers that we made!
