Student Custody Information

Child custody disputes place school personnel in a difficult position. When individuals attempt to make contact with your child, our normal procedure is to contact the custodial parent. Unless court orders indicate restrictions, any parent must be allowed access to basic school information and records, such as attendance and report cards. Your child's welfare is our primary concern.

In order to enforce any restrictions on visitations, the School District must be provided copies of legal documents (custody awards, restraining orders, or other court orders.)

Student Name _____

Legal custody of this student belongs to:

Is a copy of the court order pertaining to custody in the school's file?

☐ Yes ☐ No

If not, please provide one. We can not enforce the court order without having a copy on file. If there are individuals who are legally restricted from seeing or removing your child from school grounds, a copy of this order must be given to school officials for enforcement.

Please advise the school immediately of any changes to this information. Your cooperation is appreciated.
