Members of the Morgan High School Drama Club visited Rock Hollow School. The members attending were Clarissa Doudna, Julianna Jackson, Chase Dunham, Seth Miller, Torri Kempton, Abbi Griffin, Camille Gillespie, Ki Jones, Emily Carletti, Treasure Johnson, and Arie Jacobs-Polage.

The following information was found on the remarkableohio.org website, sponsored by the Ohio History Connection.

Rock Hollow School was originally built in 1877 in a wooded ravine two miles south of Ringgold, Union Township, and housed classes for fifty-seven years. The first class was held in November 1877, with John D. Davis of Ringgold teaching. Grades one through eight were taught in this one-room building, with an enrollment average of twenty to twenty-five pupils. The school closed in 1934 and sold in 1937 to Hettie Woodward, a former student and teacher at Rock Hollow. In 1980, the heirs of the late Hettie Woodward donated the school to the Morgan County Historical Society for preservation. Fearing vandalism due to its remote location, the historical society relocated the building to its present site in Malta in 1991. The building was disassembled and rebuilt in exact original condition. Rock Hollow School was officially rededicated on November 1, 1992.

MORGAN JUNIOR HIGH

Morgan Junior High students participating in the Math Counts Trip went on a field trip to Kings Island. Thanks to the Morgan County Juvenile Court for generously providing KONA Ice for the Junior High students. The students enjoyed this special treat.

The 8th grade trip to Washington DC included a stop at Arlington National Cemetery, in Arlington Virginia. Sacred places visited that day included John F. Kennedy gravesite, The Arlington House, the USS Maine Memorial, gravesites of Audie Murphy and John Glenn, and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, where we witnessed the Changing of the Guard. This class picture was taken just below the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

MORGAN JUNIOR HIGH

Morgan Junior High School teamed up with Maxwell's Pizza for a special project. The students had to come up with a new menu item, design it, and write an essay trying to convince Cas Maxwell, the owner of Maxwell's Pizza, to put their creation on the his menu at Maxwell's Pizza. After reading through the essay's, Mr. Maxwell selected several winners, created their food items, and hand delivered them to the winning students. One lucky student will have his/her item actually placed on the menu later this year. Coming soon to Maxwell's Pizza menu will be "The Rocky", invented and designed by RAQ Ponchak. RAQ's essay described the "Rocky" as a Philly cheesesteak pizza with golden brown crust covered with mozzarella and provolone cheese, then loaded with thin sliced steak, jalapeños, onions, green peppers, mushrooms, and garlic sauce. Thanks to Cas Maxwell and the Maxwell's Pizza family for allowing our students to participate in this amazing opportunity. Pictured to the left is RAQ and his "Rocky" creation, along with Cas Maxwell.

MORGAN SOUTH

Art Showcase Article

On May 24th, South Elementary held an Artist Showcase and invited families to see the wonderful creations completed by students throughout the school year. Pictured are examples of those creations.

MORGAN SOUTH

Once again the students at Morgan South Elementary come together to support heart awareness and the importance of leading an active life style. Jump Rope for Heart is a premier event that thousands of schools and millions of kids participate in annually. Since its start in 1978, students have raised over 1.2 billion dollars from around the world to help support cardiovascular and stroke research. Other goals of the program outside of research is to promote getting kids active, educate kids about the benefits of a healthy heart, and to promote the value of community service. At South, we had 40 participants this year that rose over $1,400 in donation from the community. Morgan West and East schools also participated in the program and raised even more money to support heart healthy habits and research that will help many more people in need. MORGAN WEST

LODGE & CONFERENCE CENTER

Our first graders at West had an exciting day at Burr Oak! We learned how to use our senses when exploring nature. We found items in nature that matched color cards, counted sounds, smelled leaves from a spice bush, hugged a tree, and observed a snake skin. We got to see leaf buds, do bark rubbings, and search for seeds in pinecones.

It was a chilly, but beautiful and sunny day at the Chesterhill Produce Auction on April 20th for West Elementary Second Graders. The kid friendly centers for exploration included a Mock Auction to buy a tomato plant, Earthworms and Composting, Planting potatoes, Catching and Identifying bugs, and making a healthy salad. Thank you to the Rural Community Action from Athens for putting this EDUCATIONAL day together!

4th Grade Peep Adoption
Fourth graders welcomed spring break by adopting peeps! Each student picked an egg to care for throughout the day. At the end of the day students could open their eggs and name their new baby peep. Some eggs even had twins! These proud peep parents were so excited to come up with activities for their peeps; many decided they were going to give their peep a birthday party over spring break.

Preschool through Second Grade Career Day

West Elementary opened its doors to many other careers besides teachers, principals, custodians, aides, secretaries, and cafeteria ladies. Students learned about other job choices they could make for their future like becoming a Mine inspector, a Pro Golf Manager, a Physical Therapist, an Equestrian/Ferrier, a Banker, a Coffee and Bakery Proprietor, an Extension Agent, or a Neuroscientist. "Find something you like to do, and then find a way to make money at it," was one of the pieces of advice given for the day! The possibilities are endless for all of our bright and imaginative youngsters!
