TITLE 1 REPORT: Mrs. Houck

- Read Across America celebration began Friday, March 1 and will last until Thursday, March 7th. We will recognize 5 children's books that won the Theodor Seuss Geisel Award. Special dress days were planned and coordinate with the theme of each book. Teachers will play a recording of our student ambassadors read aloud 4 of the books. Raider Readers will read aloud the final book. We also have a Family Reading Challenge that lasts the entire month of March. A reading log sheet, which explains the challenge, was attached to the flyer and sent home with students last week. Students need to hear 20 or more books to receive a fun pencil and bookmark. Also, students, who complete the challenge, will have their names entered into a drawing to possibly win a book that is being read aloud for our Battle of the Books. Finally, the class that wins the most books will earn an ice cream party.
- Battle of the Books begins March 11th. 8 books that were either written and/or illustrated by Zachariah OHora will be featured for this event. Students will hear teachers read aloud one of books and will vote on their favorite book. The reveal celebration will take place Friday, April 12th and we have a "surprise" guest reader to participate in the reveal.
- Our annual "Poetry Challenge" will take place throughout the month of April. Local businesses were contacted to see if a poem can hang in their store/facility for the entire month of April and then initial the student's sheet to say the child visited and read the poem. More details to come.
- Mark your calendar-Wednesday, May 8th is our annual Elementary Family Literacy Night. The event will take place at the Middle School from 5:30-7:30. The theme is "Reading is Blast"

- Paraprofessional Day is April 3rd. I will be just coming back from North Carolina. I will not be able to deliver. Last year Danielle bought buckeyes from Blue Spruce. I can gather the items before my trip Saturday March 23rd. However, we may need to decide on some sort of other treat. Any thoughts and volunteer to deliver.
- Teacher Appreciation Week May 6th – 10th.
 - One day the district sponsors a treat. We will need to know which day that is so we can get the remainder of the days together.
 - One day will be a parent sponsored lunch. Last year we had it BBQ themed and that was a hit. I would like to do that again.
 - One day we have a sponsored PTO breakfast. Donuts, fruit tray etc. I like this idea and think we should keep this.
 - One day we had a parent sponsored hot breakfast. Do we want to keep this or not. Asking parents twice in one week.
 - Gratitude filled Friday. Send home a sheet for the kids either Monday the week of OR the Friday before. Have them fill out a sheet for their teacher. Last year we sent home two, one for their teacher and one for another support staff. I would like to get the thoughts on this at the meeting. Too much work?
- I will need volunteers to set up. I will be able to assist with one or two days, but not every day.
