CHARLES M. LAWSON, Superintendent

"He Had A Dream"

Dedication

Were it not for Whitley County Schools' Superintendent, Charles M. Lawson, this annual could not have been assembled, for there would have been no Whitley County High School. He had a dream--not one that could be dismissed by a shake of the head and a handful of cold water dashed on a sleepy face, but one that grew in magnitude and meaning with each new day. Then, he decided to share that dream, and through his efforts the Whitley County Educational System was brought from the depths of despair to a magnificent, well-organized, well qualified system that can, and will, prepare the youth of today to meet the challenges of tomorrow. What better reason could we have to reflect, in a comparatively small way, our appreciation of him by dedicating to him this, the first, annual of Whitley County High School?

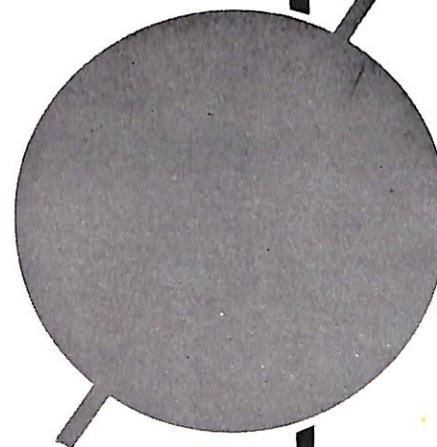

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM
TO
PHYLLIS McKINNEY
1950-1964

She journeyed here so short a span
Ere her young spirit took its flight,
From mortal clay to golden sands,
Beyond this earth-bound day and night.
We, here in saddened hearts remain,
Yet, know in silent prayer,
That in that strange Somewhere another Day
Has dawned more bright because she's there.

Martha Teague (author)

Administration

WARREN G. PEACE, Principal
"The Colonel"

Because of his administrative ability, sound judgment, and clever educational ideas, Warren G. Peace was chosen to pioneer this challenging expedition.

To the students, Mr. Peace reflects the fatherly image--a man who gives careful attention and consideration to even their most trivial problems, a man who reflects respect for them as well as command it for himself, and a man in whom they can place confidence that they will have ample opportunity for an excellent education from a program under his direction. The faculty, too, respects him highly and appreciates, sincerely, his ability to make this program function smoothly. They think of him as the "Colonel" leading an assault on ignorance and mediocrity.

WARREN G. PEACE

Administration

TONY McKIDDY
Assistant Principal

TONY McKIDDY, Assistant Principal
"The Tie That Binds"

Regardless of how flawless an organization might be there are times that it seems to come unglued; times when the harmony is temporarily disrupted. That is the time Mr. McKiddy becomes a most appreciated figure at Whitley County High School. He is an understanding man with a ready smile who can reassure the skeptics, motivate the lazy, sympathize with the sad, encourage the disheartened and disgusted, and annihilate trouble in its embryonic stage.
