Dear Parent/Guardian:

It is once again time to think about the planning of an appropriate program of study for your child. Within the next few weeks, your son/daughter will select a program of study for next school year. Several activities are scheduled to help you and your child make selections. They include:

- January 6 The 2025-2026 program planning booklet, listing scheduling procedures and describing all courses, will be available online. A program planning video will be shown in homeroom during the week.
- January 6 Program Planning Night: A variety of sessions offered to parents, depending on your child's grade. See the agenda on the next page.
- January 8 Snow date
- January 7-28 Classroom teachers review course offerings/sequences within their area of study and will notify students of their recommendations for the following year.
- January 30-March 7 Students in grades 8-11 will meet with their assigned counselor to discuss course selection for 2025-2026
- April 4 Last day for student-initiated course changes

Making wise choices during this time is extremely important. Although academic progress is a reason to allow adjustments in the spring, other types of changes are difficult to accommodate. Therefore, we strongly urge you to attend the parent orientation meeting on January 6th, read through the program planning booklet, and work with your child to build a program of study. We would also like to emphasize that teachers and counselors have made a considerable effort and spent a great deal of time making the best possible recommendations for each student.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact your child's counselor who is available to assist you.
