Welcome Back! Investing in a Strong Second Semester

Happy New Year, Lakeview Community!

As we return from winter break and embark on the second semester, I am excited about the opportunities ahead. Together, we have already accomplished so much this school year, and I'm confident that our collective commitment to investing in student success will lead to even greater achievements in the coming months.

The second semester is a time for renewed focus and growth. It's an opportunity for students to set new goals, for teachers to build on their successes, and for our community to deepen its involvement in the education of our future leaders. By continuing to invest in academic excellence, student well-being, and innovative practices, we ensure that Lakeview Community Schools remains a place where every child can thrive.

I encourage everyone—students, staff, and families alike—to embrace this new beginning with energy and determination. Let's work together to make the second semester one of progress, connection, and celebration.

Here's to a successful and inspiring new year!!

Sincerely,

Jason Cline

Health Science 3 class gives back to the community

The students in Lakeview High School's Health Science 3 class have been able to give back to their community and also learn valuable lessons about food insecurity this year.

Their most recent class project was based on East Central District Health Department's Community Health Improvement Program (CHIP), which focuses on addressing community issues and meeting those needs. The students chose food insecurity as the community issue they wanted to tackle. Their goal was to send home backpack meals to help at least 20 Lakeview families through the holiday season.

They asked each of the school's homeroom classes to collect specific food items, with a goal of providing breakfast and dinner meals, along with a small snack, that would last each family three or four days. They also accepted cash donations.

In total, the students packaged 15 boxes for Lakeview families who are experiencing food insecurity. Each box included lunch and dinner meals, fruit, snacks, water and juice.

Student Olivia Behnk said this project has given her a good feeling going into the holiday season.

"It's even better knowing that as you are going home for the holidays, you are also helping other families out so they can have a nice holiday as well," she said.

Tracy Long, who teaches the class, said she was beyond proud of the achievement.

"I'm hopeful that this project has not only given them a sense of pride in themselves," Long said, "but also an understanding of the mission of Columbus Community Hospital, which is to improve the health and wellness of the communities we serve."

Health Science 3 is one of many classes associated with the Health Science Pathway program, which allows students to learn about careers in the medical field through a series of classes.

For more information on the Health Science Pathway program, visit columbushosp.org.

Business Leadership

By: Tara Dlouhy

Business Leadership class is taught every fall for junior and senior students. The purpose of the class is to teach and enhance leadership skills used in any profession. One piece of curriculum used is Lead4Change. Lead4Change's purpose is to provide a framework for student's to learn and lead through a community service project. Students go through lessons on leadership skills and put their ideas into action. Last semester, Business Leadership, in conjunction with FBLA, completed three projects to better themselves and the community.

A December to Remember

Lexi Blaser, Brooklynn Jarecki, and Elle Badstieber wanted to make sure everyone in our community got a memorable Christmas. They organized a Christmas festival raising to purchase gifts for people in our community. Forty vendors filled the gym with over 400 attendees. Santa made a visit while kids had the opportunity to play games and make crafts.

The money filled forty-five giving tags from Columbus Holiday Spirit Co-op, purchased several Lakeview family gifts, purchased winter clothing for Lakeview students, and provided needs for the Center for Survivors. Money was also donated to The Rescue Mission and the Platte County Food Pantry. Thank you to everyone that attended and participated! We are happy to help those that need a little extra this Christmas season.

Champions United

Aliyah Manzano, Micah Rosas, Efrain Mejia, & Isaak Daugherty joined together with hopes of helping kids stay active overseas by purchasing sports gear to those less fortunate. They hosted a co-ed volleyball tournament raising $250. The money will be sent to World Race to purchase sports gear for kids in South Africa.

Go Green Columbus

Go Green Columbus's goal was to raise money and raise awareness for recycling. Kaylie Blahak, Zaiden Gulley, Daniel McManigal, and Donavin Novak decided to host a Junior High dance to raise money for Keep Columbus Beautiful. $600 was donated because of these efforts. Keep Columbus Beautiful will use the funds to help sustain the new paper recycling center. This group's goal is to bring recycling back to Lakeview and raise awareness on the issue.

CHRISTMAS”

On the enchanting evening of Tuesday, December 3rd, a magical atmosphere enveloped the venue as the harmonious melodies of Platte Center and Shell Creek Elementary Schools' band and music classes graced the stage, presenting a delightful tapestry of Christmas songs during their concert.

Under the expert guidance of Mr. Alex Elliot and Mr. Robert Kercher, the fifth-grade band mesmerized the audience with their renditions of 'Good King Wenceslas,' 'Jolly Old St. Nick,' and the beloved 'Jingle Bells.' The sixth grade followed suit, delighting listeners with 'Santa's Sleigh Ride' and the spirited 'Concerto for Sleigh Bells.'

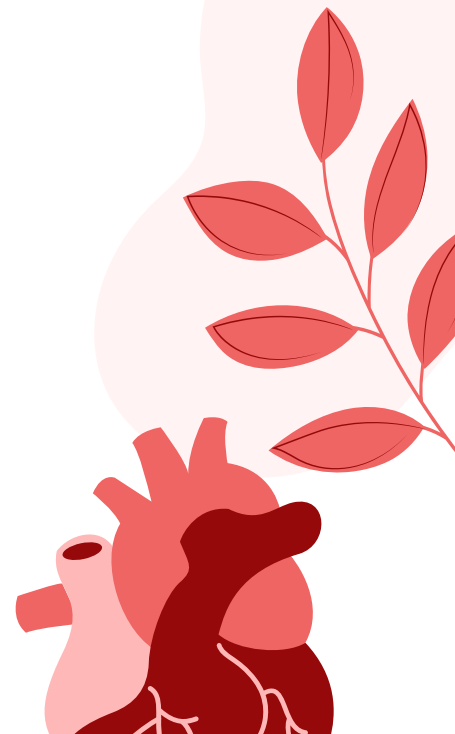

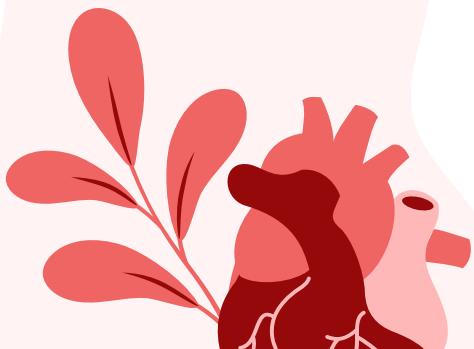

Meanwhile, the K-3rd grade music classes sprang to life under the talented direction of Mrs. Christy Cash and Mr. Alex Elliot, enchanting all with a blend of timeless Christmas classics and lesser-known festive gems. The audience, comprising parents, grandparents, and cherished community members, reveled in the joyous sounds of the season, their hearts dancing along with the melodies.

KIDS' + HEART CHALLENGE

Platte Center Elementary students participated in the Kids' Heart Challenge in November. If they reached their goal of $2,000, the top donors would get to pie Ms. Hawks, and if they reached their goal of $2,500, Ms. Hawks would have to wear a duck costume for the day.

They were able to reach both goals. Ms. Hawks wore the duck costume all day at school on Wednesday, December 11. On Wednesday, December 18, the 2 top donor, Carter Wemhoff and Liara Prater, had the honor of pieing Ms. Hawks at Morning Meeting.

Parent Gifts

Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer

On the enchanting days of December 5th and 6th, the spirited students of Platte Center Elementary crafted heartfelt treasures for their beloved parents. With care, they stained wooden boards, adorned them with vibrant red noses and whimsical white eyes, and expertly hot glued every detail to bring the beloved Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer to life. These delightful creations will become cherished Christmas decorations, bringing joy to their parents' hearts for many years to come!

Gingerbread Houses

Grandparents' Day

On Friday, December 13th, the cherished grandparents of kindergarten and 1st grade students at Platte Center Elementary gathered to share a delightful lunch and craft whimsical gingerbread houses. A delightful gathering of 74 grandparents graced this special event, overflowing with joy and the enchanting spirit of Christmas.

5th Grade Visits Preschool

On Tuesday, Dec. 17, the 5th grade visited the Platte Center Preschool. The students read Christmas stories, put together Christmas puzzles, and got to know each other better. Both classes made new friends and will enjoy seeing each other in the hallways of the school!

St. John's Lutheran School Newsletter

"Rooted in Love"

The Advent season is here and St John's has been preparing for Christmas. Students have been learning songs and parts for the Christmas Program on Christmas Eve. Sharing the reason for the season, the birth of the Savior Jesus, brings us great Joy! We have also been taking time for our special Advent devotions.

Another way students have prepared for Christmas is with a door decorating contest. Students divided up into teams composed of K - 8th grade to decorate a classroom door for Christmas. Their creativity and decorating skills have really brightened up the hallways.

In between classes, children have been working on gifts for their prayer partners as well as their parents. The Primary Room has also been doing random acts of kindness by collecting books for the library, toys for other children, and letters to veterans. With another quarter almost finished, we look forward to Christmas break. Have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

"I pray that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith...being rooted and grounded in love." Ephesians 3:17-18

Christ Lutheran Happenings

As we wrapped up the semester, our upper grades classroom held their yearly Market Day, where each student creates their own business and sells their products to the local students and congregation members. Students learn how to plan for inventory, supplies, marketing, branding, and customer service. What a great hands-on way to explore entrepreneurship! Plus, our younger students look forward to the opportunity to shop the tables every year for goodies!

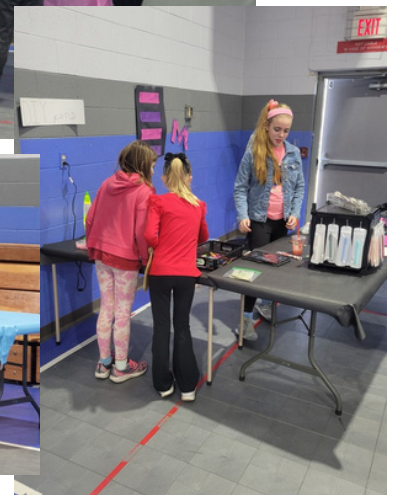

December has really flown by, and now we are headed into the new year. January brings basketball season, National Lutheran Schools Week, and our annual Book Fair and Pancake Feed. This year's theme for NLSW is Endure, based on the verse you see up above from Ephesians. If you are interested in Running the Race with Endurance alongside us, Registration for the next school year will be open soon!!

This semester we also welcome Mrs. Colleen Belitz as our 3rd-5th grade teacher, and Mrs. Megan Stromberg as our new teacher aide! God always provides us with a wonderful team!
