Freedom House (Amerson Meyers, guest)

Outreach, and housing for homeless, give teens tools to have healthy relationships. Information and courses are already ready to go. Assembly style or in classrooms (whichever works best for us). Grant funded, everything is free. All topics can be short or long. 30 minutes is a good amount of time. They have also done it in multiple sessions to keep students engaged. Teen dating violence 1 in 3 teens before 18 or graduated. They don't disclose addresses to shelters for security. They have a close law enforcement relationship. They have a 24hr hotline. Love is respect is the guide for their curriculum. They update as much as possible. They have worked in Poolive ISD and Weatherford ISD, and trying to get into Brock ISD. Opt out or Opt in form? Aligning topics at all levels to be consistent.

All in favor to bring Crossroads from Freedom House to the board to implement

Journey 2 Positive Choices

The cost is $1500

The week before prom might be a good time to remind students about choices, drinking, and driving. This program is based on his daughter's story and includes photos of the accident scene of the car and her funeral. It is a 45 -50 minute assembly. Private donors maybe be a possibility for funding. 2 sessions would be more beneficial. If in two different groups it might make some students not want to attend the second session.

Melinda Matlock:

Narcan can be kept at the middle and high school, and we do have it at both campuses. They propose that it also be available at the elementary school. At least one trained person to administer the Narcan legally. All of our nurses are trained with a few additional teachers at the middle school. We are all in favor of proposing to the board.

EpiPens, the only ones we have on campus right now is prescribed to a specific student. They would like to have EpiPens that are unassigned in case of emergencies. Unassigned meaning it would be used for anyone. It could cause an ethical struggle for the nurses if an unassigned one wasn't available and there was an emergency. She has found an organization that would supply EpiPens to the school district for free. They would like to have additional trained staff if approved, just like the Narcan. We are all in favor of proposing to the board.

Add Millsap Medical to the public health resources. Melinda will help Scott with the little blurb to add.
