

Meet The AUTHOR Landra Jennings

All About Me...

Landra writes fantasy novels for ages 8 and up. She appreciates readers of all ages!

Landra has an MFA in Writing for Children and Young Adults from Hamline University where she won the Anne Tews Schwab Scholarship in Excellence in Critical Writing and the Walden Pond Press Scholarship in Middle Grade Fiction and Nonfiction.

Today, Landra lives with her husband and sons in Greenville, South Carolina but still has a special place in her heart for Chicago, where her children were born. She doesn't get offended when people mispronounce or misspell her name, but for the record, it's pronounced like Sandra with an "L".
