EVENT SPONSORS:

Welcome to the 2025 IHMVCU Shootout

Welcome to the 8th Annual IHMVCU Shootout. I am thankful for your incredible support over the last eight years and look forward to another exciting day to highlight girls' basketball. Our theme for this year's event is growing the sport of girls' basketball as it has become noticeable that so many high school programs across the country are having more difficulty fielding freshman and sophomore teams. The well talked about "Caitlin Clark effect" has certainly gotten more people watching the sport of women's basketball, but not necessarily motivating more girls to enter the sport at an early age. Our goal is to help make this happen. At the Quad City Youth Sports Foundation we are committed to helping young student athletes play sports at a very low cost. We currently have over 300 kids playing in our free basketball and volleyball programs. Our big push for 2025 will be to get more young girls involved playing basketball. We will be providing multiple free opportunities for 1st and 2nd graders to start loving the game. With positive coaching at a minimal price, we hope to make a positive impact over time. Remember that all funds raised through today's IHMVCU Shootout support The Quad City Youth Sports

Foundation and our mission for success. If you are interested in our campaign for the future through coaching or financial assistance or have a child who would benefit, please contact me at garyt@beyondthebaseline.net. Again, we thank all our sponsors, especially our title sponsor, IH Mississippi Valley Credit Union. Enjoy a wonderful day of basketball. —Gary Thrapp, event coordinator
