

Hearts Around The World!

My Transition to Kindergarten is excited to start the “Hearts Around The World” challenge. We aim to collect a Valentine, letter, or postcard from as many states and other countries as we can. We would love your help in filling our map with hearts to track how far kindness can go. We can’t wait to receive your special mail to help us learn about these special places around the globe. If you’d like to assist us in achieving our goal, our address is below. Please feel free to share with any family and friends! Thank you so much for your kindness!
