Lakewood Local Schools Board of Education Hires Scott Coffey as Interim Superintendent

The Lakewood Local Schools Board of Education has hired Scott Coffey as the interim Superintendent of the district. He was presented and approved in a special meeting of the Board of Education on July 26, and he officially starts on August 1. He replaces Dr. Mark Gleichauf, who resigned this summer to return to northern Ohio to be with his family.

Mr. Coffey is no stranger to the district, as he has served as band director, dean of students, assistant principal, principal, and substitute bus driver in the Lakewood Schools over the past 24 of his 30 total years in education.

“I am honored to take on this new position as Interim Superintendent with Lakewood Local Schools,” said Coffey. "I love our district's families and educators and look forward to building on the fine work of so many who have come before."

Mr. Coffey has also been a member of the U.S. military and currently holds the rank of Sergeant First Class with the United States Army Reserve.

“Mr. Coffey has served the Lakewood community well over the last 24 years in a variety of roles,” said Board President Jonathan Lynch. “We are excited to see him leverage his strong relationships and his knowledge of Lakewood to continue moving our district forward.”

Mr. Coffey earned his bachelor's degree and master’s degree in Education from Ohio University, and his master's degree in Educational Administration and Management from the University of Scranton in Scranton, Penn. He also earned his Superintendent Licensure from Concordia University of Chicago.

Mr. Coffey lives in the Lakewood School District with his wife Debbie, who also is a Lakewood teacher.
