Michelle A. Mills
Associate of Communications

Charleston, SC - The month of January marks the annual observance of School Board Recognition Month — a time to recognize the nearly 600 school board members serving South Carolina public schools. We would like to take this opportunity to thank our CCSD Board Members for their commitment and tireless work to ensure the success of Charleston County's students. Proclamation

Additionally, outgoing Constituent District 23 Member Josephine Matthews was recognized. Constituent Boards serve the district as elected officials who support the work of the district by hearing student discipline cases, defining school attendance zones, overseeing student transfer decisions, and providing yearly reports to the Board of Trustees.

Matthews was acknowledged and thanked for her over 20 years of service to Charleston County School District. Her steadfast commitment to students and the district serves as an inspiration.

Thank you again to all those who serve our students each day!
