

Families Reimagining Inclusive Lives (FRIL)

a program of the Institute on Disabilities at Temple University

FRIL will educate, inform, and empower parents of young children with disabilities to embrace inclusive options and offer practical tools to achieve inclusive lives for their children.

Institute on Disabilities

College of Education and Human Development

3 ways to be a part of the FRIL program:

ADVISORY COMMITTEE MEMBER

Share your lived experiences and your connection to the disability community to help design the FRIL program.

FAMILY TRAINER

Help families of young children gain skills and knowledge to select community inclusion.

PARTICIPANT

Learn more about:

- inclusion in educational settings
- the right to services for children in inclusive settings
- self-determination for your child

FOR MORE INFORMATION AND TO APPLY FOR ONE OR MORE OF THESE ROLES, visit the Institute's website:

<https://disabilities.temple.edu/programs-services/advocacy/families-reimagining-inclusive-lives>

FRIL will offer three, virtual training sessions to help family members to become advocates and partners.

Institute partners: Values into Action, Parents as Partners in Professional Development (P3D), The Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental Disabilities (LEND) fellowship program and Hispanos Unidos para Niños Excepcionales (HUNE)

Funded by: The Pennsylvania Developmental Disabilities Council

MORE INFORMATION: jamie.ray-leonetti@temple.edu