Unforgettable moments from House Sorting Day at LK before our fall break. The Ron Clark House System is an innovative approach to fostering a positive school culture and building a sense of community. Inspired by the Ron Clark Academy, students are sorted into different "houses," which function like smaller families within the larger school environment. Each house is a diverse mix of students from various grade levels, creating opportunities for mentorship, teamwork, and leadership.

At LK, the house system promotes school spirit, unity, and healthy competition through fun activities and events like House Sorting Day. Throughout the year, students earn points for their house by demonstrating good character, academic excellence, and teamwork, with the goal of building relationships, encouraging a sense of belonging, and creating a supportive learning environment for all.
