

OPWDD – Region 3 – Westchester County

FAMILY SUPPORT SERVICES PROGRAM LIST

“The New York State Office for People With Developmental Disabilities (OPWDD) provides a wide menu of supports and services for individuals with developmental disabilities and their families. The Family Support Services (FSS) Program is designed specifically to help families who are caring for relative with a developmental disability at home by aiding the care giver and thereby enhancing family stability and preserving family unity. Through its commitment to FSS, OPWDD strongly recognized the important work performed by families in fostering natural supports that help individual living at home fully participate in their communities.

FSS programs are developed across the state in collaboration with individuals, family members, advocates, nonprofit providers, and government leaders. They are funded by NYS OPWDD and provided to families by non-profit service provider agencies that have contracts with OPWDD to provide these services. Examples of FSS that families receive include: Advocacy, Behavioral Support, Family Reimbursement, Family Counseling and Training, Information and Referral, Recreation, Respite..”

(from NYS OPWDD FSS Advisory Council Booklet 4/2018)

This listing is only of FSS Programs for Region 3 – Westchester County

To receive FSS funds or services an individual must:

- be currently eligible* for OPWDD services (exception: some FSS programs assist families with this process),
- live at home full time with a family member, and
- live within Westchester County.

Priority is based on need, other services received, funds and services availability, and other factors.

Individuals with Self-Direction Budgets must include FSS program costs in their budgets.
