New Business-

Mandy Richmond pta council president added about us possibly including some black history authors in our literacy night since it will be held during Black History Month. Jessica says we haven't started planning yet but it is a good idea. She has been in contact with a couple of black authors one is Snap Doodles a publisher maybe he would donate his time. Mandy also suggested her contact at the library may be of help. Jessica also gets some suggestions of local authors from Leana's Books and More.

Mandy informed of us some details of setting up and using Venmo for PTA and maybe pta as a whole writing up some more policies around it
