Humans of MCEC

Phoenix Spotlight: Jack Miller

Jack Miller is a freshman here at MCEC. At a glance, he seems like an ordinary student at first, but Jack is a beacon of kindness throughout our school. Whether it's a challenging assignment or a social struggle, Jack is always there to guide us through it. His compassion ripples beyond our school and into the community. Jack shines at placing a smile on our faces. In our interview, Jack claimed that Isaac Gonzales, another freshman here at MCEC, was his hero. #PhoenixPhenoms

Word of the Week

Triskaidekaphobia

Noun; Extreme superstition of the number 13

Example: Many large cruise ships exclude a 13th floor due to the possible triskaidekaphobia of passengers.

Bonfire

The MCC Forestry Department supported the MCEC's efforts to have a special event recognizing our school Honor Code. Students took a short hike to a clearing where there was a bonfire and marshmallows. It presented an opportunity to bond with our peers and create a new tradition for our students.

Symposia

Every year following Christmas break, Phoenixes particiapate in Symposia. Symposia is designed to bring talents forward and allows students to explore interests that might not be covered in core classes. These Symposia classes teach valuable life skills, such as tying a tie, preparing for an interview, exploring new careers, studying, and community building through games and activities.

Academic Awards

Academic Awards day is designed to recognize our students' accomplishments. To spice things up, we play a school-wide Family Feud game show, hosted by our beloved Latin teacher, Mr. Cycotte.

MEAN GIRLS

Mean Girls takes place in a high school, where Cady, who recently moved in from Africa, must adapt to ethnically diverse groups in an attempt to join a popular friend group. This is an all-around good movie. We rate it a 9/10.
