Humans of MCEC

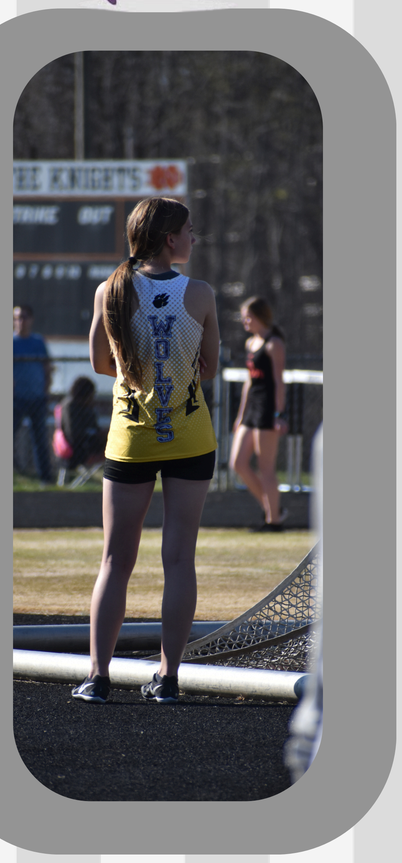

Kristin Sisk

For our biweekly newsletter, we're delighted to highlight Kristin Sisk as our Human of MCEC. Kristin's kind and caring nature pairs with her empathetic personality creating a warm and compassionate atmosphere throughout our community. Her sweet, genuine understanding and willingness lights up every room she walks into. When interviewed, Kristin claims that the teacher inspiring her most is Mrs. Daywalt, because of her understanding character. According to her, her "Hero" would be her grandma, because she's always there when times get tough.

TRACK AND FEILD

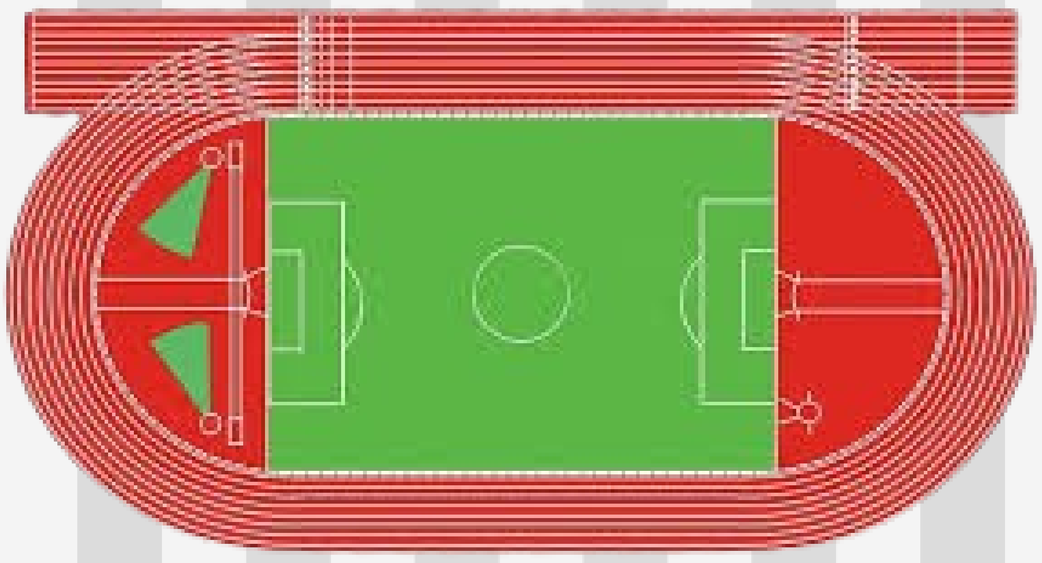

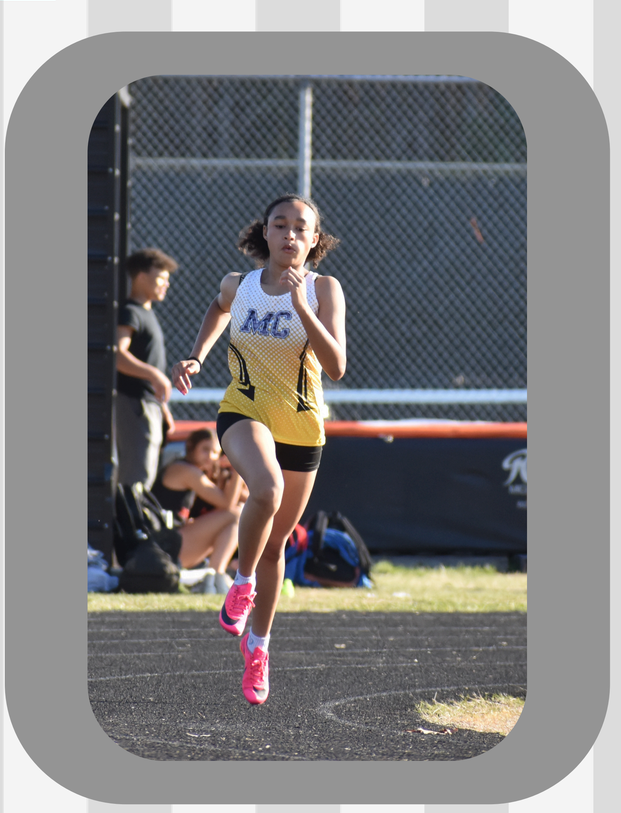

Our Timberwolves track and field team shines brightly in the 3-A Mid-Piedmont Conference. With dedicated athletes, supportive coaches, and a strong sense of camaraderie, our team embodies the spirit of sportsmanship and excellence. Whether sprinting down the track, leaping over hurdles, or soaring in their long jumps, our athletes demonstrate skill and determination in everything they do.

Prom 2024

MCEC recently kicked off the end of the year with their 2024 Prom, the “Once upon a time” venue, based around Cinderella. The event was organized by our very own Math Teacher, Mrs. Hare. The venue was covered in lights, the atmosphere being one of joy and content. It was a night filled with laughter, dancing and fun, creating memories that will last a lifetime.

Prom King: Brayden Christiana

Brayden Christiana has an undying sense of humor, kindness and self-worth that has brought him a long way. His philosphy is to be yourself, and you can do just about anything. Congratulations, Brayden for being crowned this year’s Prom King! #PhoenixPhenoms

Prom Queen: Olivia Thomas

Olivia Thomas redefines the word “character.” Olivia, in every way, is a sweet, kind-hearted young lady. Olivia exercises excellent leadership, showing an innate sense of reverence. She never hesitates to help ones who need it the most. Her personality lights up any and every room, touching the hearts of students and teachers alike.
