Scheduling and Reminders

By: Koby Sedberry

- Sometimes in your academic life it is easy to become overwhelmed with work. Memory can be severely affected when you have a lot on your plate. To counteract this, it is helpful to write down everything you need to complete. Once your required activities are explicitly written, it becomes much easier to remember and complete everything on time. If it is beneficial for you, try completing more difficult, less entertaining work first. Being able to see all assignments allows you to stay on top of your academics.

Students of the Month – October

Gabriel Martinez Hernandez – As a freshman, Gabriel has shown great maturity, personal motivation, and exceptional character. He is a wonderful asset to each classroom.

Olivia Goodwin – Olivia is an exceptional student, maintaining excellent grades, participating in class discussions, and serving as a wonderful peer for all of her classmates.

Elizabeth Tedder – This year we are so very proud of the effort Elizabeth is putting into her college courses. While maintaining impressive grades, Elizabeth also has found many ways to be more involved around campus and in our community.

Left: Recently, biology students enjoyed DNA week. To show off all they learned, they completed several projects during class.

Getting Ahead on College Applications

By: Leticia Barrera-Morelos

Juniors, it is time to begin preparing for college admissions. Next year, we will be seniors, and it will be time for us to send applications to our choice of universities. Now is the time to research schools and the programs they offer in order to decide which ones you are most interested in attending. It would be best to send applications to any universities in which you may have an interest. We will be taking the ACT in February, so you should be preparing to take this exam with your desired score in mind. If you are unsure of the score you may need, do a little research for the colleges and universities that interest you. Get ahead of the admissions process by taking appropriate measures now!

Thank you for reading The Phoenixes’ Call! This publication is created completely by Montgomery County Early College students. We write, edit, and publish this work on our own. We are using this publication to showcase all of the wonderful students of MCEC and to show the community what it means to be a Phoenix. We apologize for any typographical errors or misspellings. Please see Mrs. Heather Beane if you have an idea for a new story or if you would like to be involved!
