

Results from T.Y Social Outreach class questionnaires sent to students in October 2024
These questionnaires explored the subject of Aristotle's Ten Virtues.

Results from COURAGE questionnaire. All answers were anonymous.

- 60% of students have never participated in assembly while 40% have.
- 74% of students have taken up something new this year while 26% have not.
- 50% said they think they are courageous and 50% said they thought they weren't.
- 56% of students said that they raise their hand in class, with 36% saying sometimes and 8% saying no.

Students suggested ideas for how we as a school could be more courageous:

- Trying new stuff
- Creating new clubs
- Participating in events
- Involving ourselves in more things
- Being independent

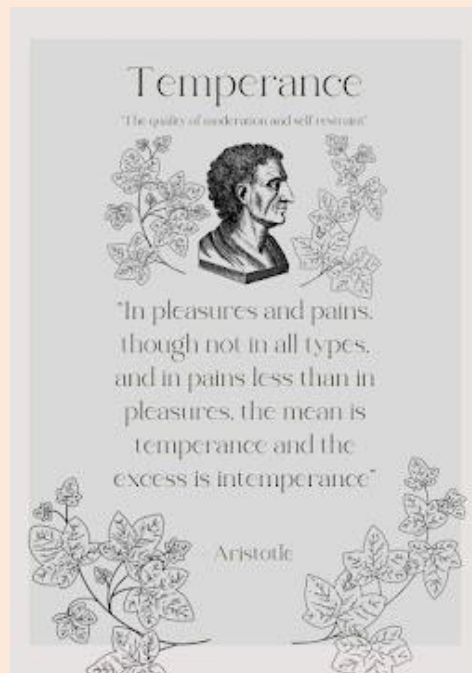

Students also wrote things they do that they think are courageous:

- Public speaking
 - Being themselves
 - Saying no
 - Participating in class
 - Talking to new people
 - Doing things outside of their comfort zones
-
- 52% of students said that they would stand up for someone being mistreated while 48% said maybe.
 - 56% said that they sometimes talk to new people. 34% said yes, and 10% said no.
 - 85.1% said that they don't have a problem standing up for their beliefs, while 14.9% said they did.

In reply to what does courage mean to you, students said:

- Being brave
- Being confident
- Being able to stand up for yourself

Results from TEMPERANCE questionnaire. All answers were anonymous.

1. What is the best example of temperance?

- Not going on your phone between study breaks (66.7%)
- Being kind to others (30%)
- Sharing (3.3%)
- Going to bed at a reasonable time (0%)

2. How do you think you could show more temperance?

Suggestions given by students:

- Studying more
- Not going on your phone
- Setting limits and boundaries
- Less sweets
- Practising self-control

3. Who do you think shows the most temperance?

- Mothers (46.7%)
- Teachers (30%)
- Law enforcement (13.3%)
- Teenagers (10%)

4. Where do you see temperance in the school community?

Answers given by students:

- The Yonder Pouch
- Students doing their work and not messing around
- Teachers
- In classes

- Students

5. Where do you think the school could improve its temperance?

Answers given by students:

- Being more understanding
- Limiting temptation
- Blocking more games

6. How important is temperance to you? On a scale of 1-10.

- 1 (6.7%)
- 2 (6.7%)
- 3 (6.7%)
- 4 (10%)
- 5 (13.3%)
- 6 (26.7%)
- 7 (16.7%)
- 8 (10%)
- 9 (3.3%)
- 10 (0%)

7. Temperance is one of Aristotle's 10 Virtues. Who was Aristotle?

- A Philosopher (86.2%)
- A Poet/Playwright (6.9%)
- A Mad man (6.9%)
- A Ruler (0%)

8. Which of the following is not a virtue of Aristotle?

- Shame (51.7%)
- Vengeance (41.4%)
- Temperance (3.4%)
- Forgiveness (3.4%)
- Courage (0%)

9. What do you think temperance is?

- Moderation and Self-restraint (96.6%)
- Having a short temper (3.4%)
- Not drinking alcohol (0%)

In conclusion the school community believes that everyone displays and values the virtue of Temperance, and that everyone can try and practice a bit of temperance more often.

Results from MAGNETISM questionnaire. All answers were anonymous.

What do you think when you're in trouble with your friends?

Give a solution (71.3%)

Be sad together (21.4%)

Ignore him/her (7.1%)

What does it mean? To be a "magnetic" person?

Someone who is mean (7.1%)

Someone who attracts others with kindness (92.9%)

Someone who is always alone (0%)

What quality is often associated with someone who has a magnetic personality?

Shyness (0%)

Kindness (92.9%)

Anger (7.1%)

If your friend has been bullied by others, what would you do?

Bully her/him with others (7.1%)

Ignore her/him (0%)

Tell to the teacher (92.9%)

What can a magnetic person do in a group?

Make people feel included (92.9%)

Make people feel ignored (0%)

Make people feel scared (7.1%)

You have two friends: Friend A is outgoing and sociable, while Friend B is quiet and more reserved. Who would you prefer to go out with?

Friend A (71.4%)

Friend B (28.6%)

In a school setting, a teacher always encourages students with positive words. What does this teacher's approach have on the students?

Students feel discouraged (7.1%)

Students become more confident (84.6%)

Students lose interest (7.7%)

Which of these traits is NOT typically associated with a magnetic personality?

Confidence (14.3)

Empathy (0%)

Self-doubt (85.7)

Which of the following behaviours is likely to enhance someone's magnetism

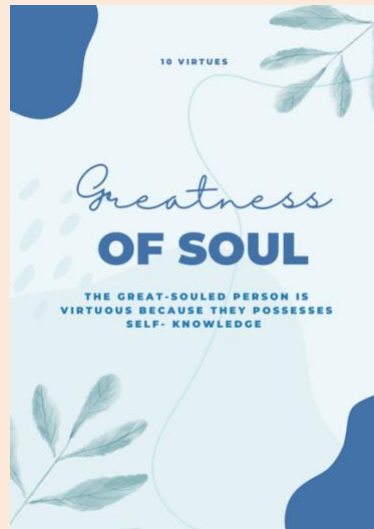

Ignoring others during conversations (7.1%)

Making eye contact and smiling (92.9%)

Speaking in a monotone voice (0%)

Focusing solely on oneself (0%)

Results from GREATNESS OF SOUL questionnaire. All answers were anonymous.

For our first question, lots of people did not know what the ‘greatness of soul’ meant. Some answers were along the lines of having a good soul.

For our second question, we asked what are the 10 virtues?
64% of people answered “habits of which the soul acts well.”

For our third question, we asked how do you think someone can add greatness to their soul?
60% said by being grateful and 35% said by knowing yourself through knowledge.

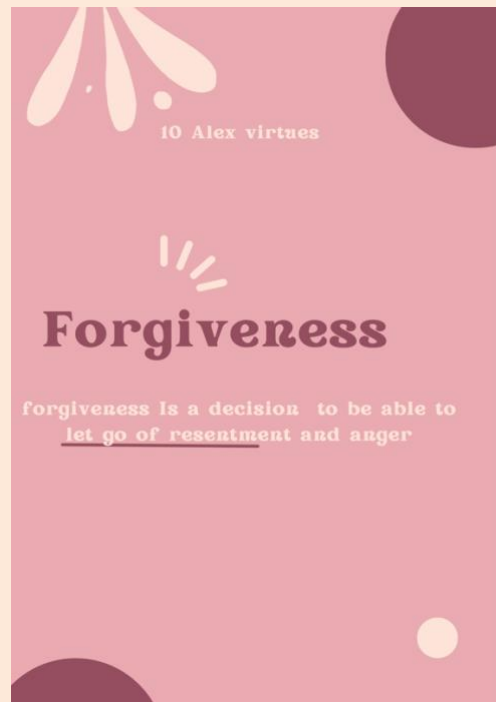

For our fourth question, “Do you think the virtue greatness of soul is incorporated into our school community?” 65% said yes, 35% said no.

For our fifth question, “What do you think chips away at your soul's greatness?”
45% said doing things that don’t take care of yourself. 40% said being under a lot of pressure, 15% said not spending time with your family and friends.

For our sixth question, “Who do you think of when you think of greatness of soul?”, many people answered family members and friends and Jesus.

For our seventh question, “In what way would you like to see this virtue in our school community?” 42% said through posters, and 37% said through assembly.

Results from FORGIVENESS questionnaire. All answers were anonymous.

Our first question was "What is forgiveness?"

100% said an intentional desire to let go of resentment and anger.

Second question, "Why do you think forgiveness is important?"

Many people answered along the lines of without forgiveness you can't move on.

Third question, "Do you think being able to forgive people is an important trait for life?"

75% said yes and 25% said no.

Fourth question, "Do you find it easy to forgive people or do you hold resentment?"

43% said, yes I usually forgive people, 28% said sometimes, 21% said majority of the time and 7% said not all the time.

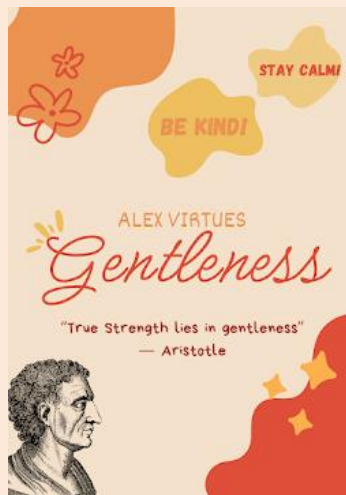

Sixth question, "What does the 10 virtues mean?"

85% said 10 behaviours of high morals, 15% said people's dispositions or personality traits and 30% habits of the soul by which one acts well.

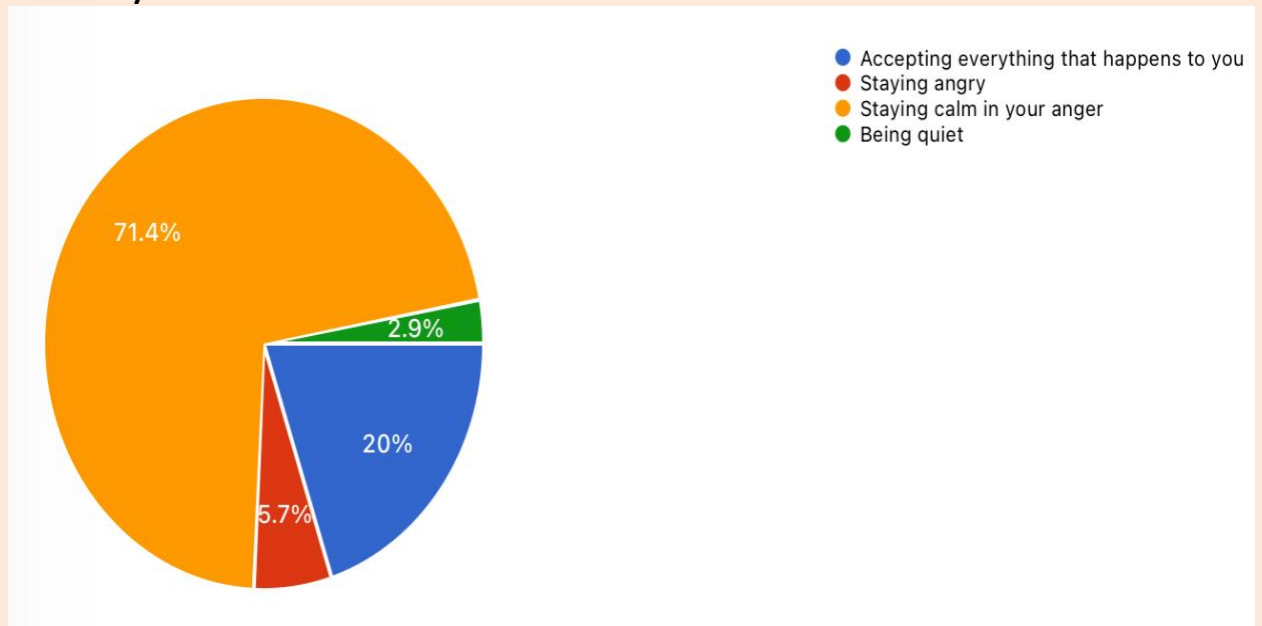

Seventh question, "Do you think people in our school show forgiveness?"

35% said yes, 50% said I'm not sure and 28% said no.

Results from GENTLENESS questionnaire. All answers were anonymous.

1. What do you think Aristotle's virtue of 'Gentleness' is?

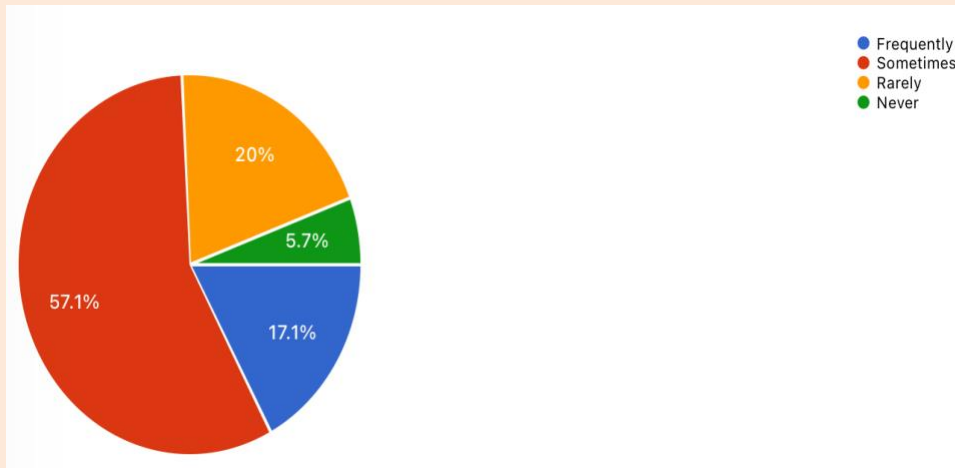

2. Who do you think of when you think of the virtue of gentleness?

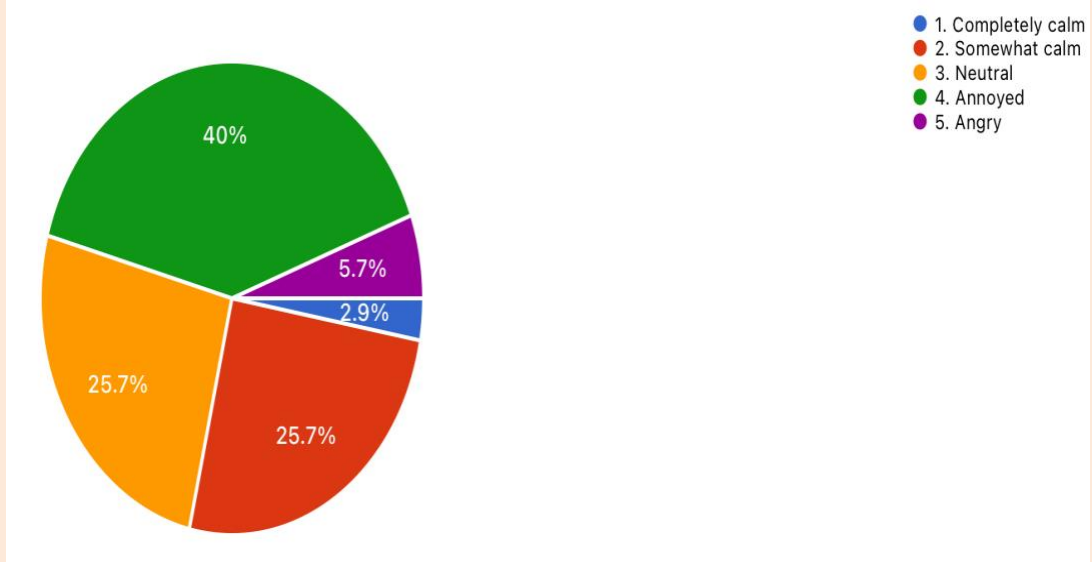

Answers below were given:

- Buddhists
- Mothers
- Friends and Family
- Aristotle
- Small animals

3. How often do you lose your temper with friend/family and feel bad about it afterwards?

4. On a scale of 1-5, how do you react in a situation where things don't go your way?

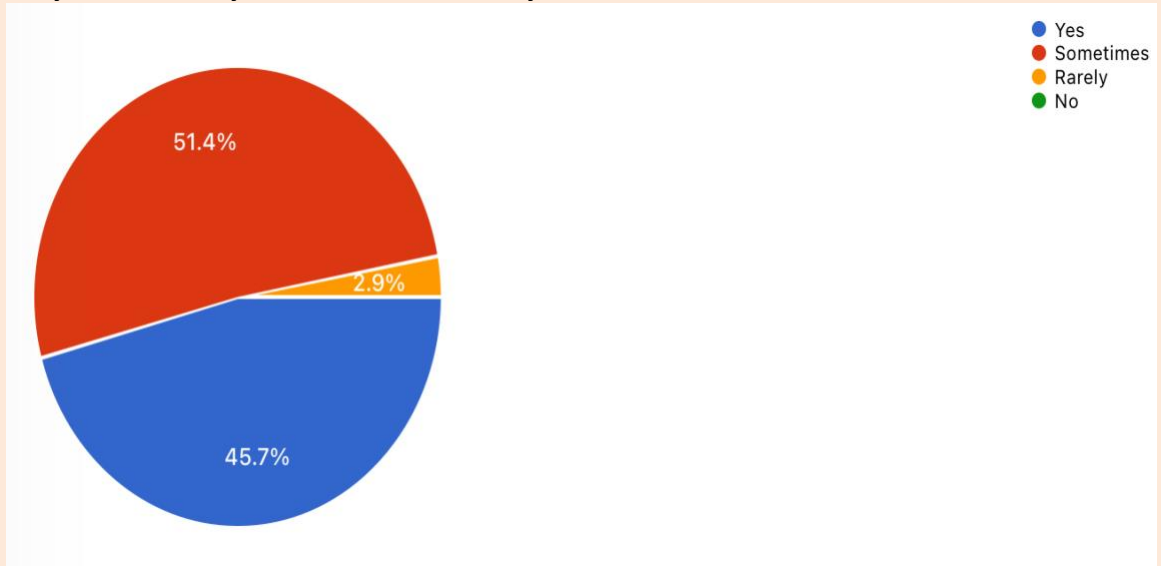

5. How do you calm yourself down when you lose your temper?

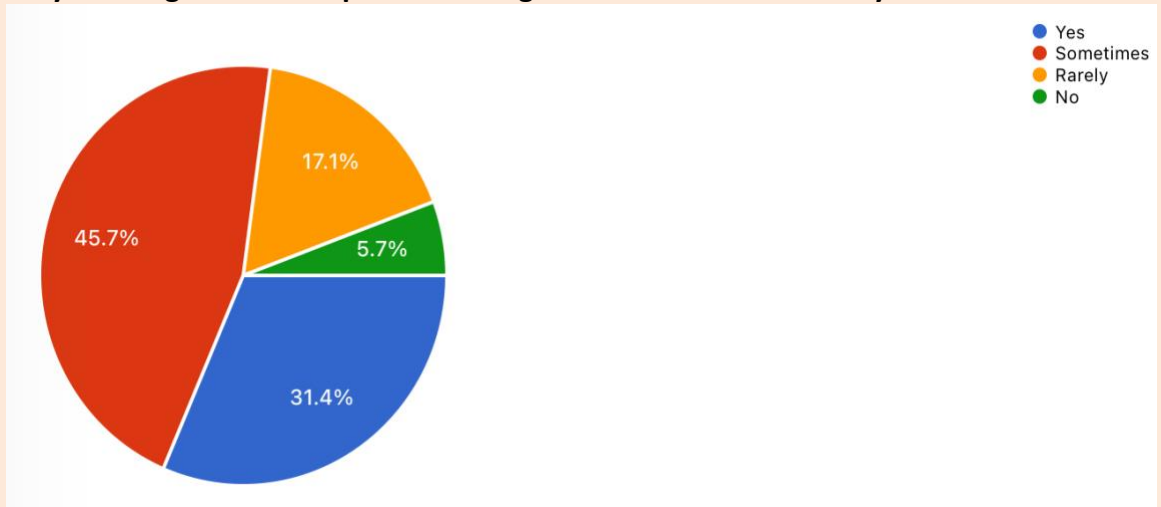

Answers below were given:

- Sleeping
- Being alone
- Listening to music
- Breathing
- Distracting your thoughts
- Reading

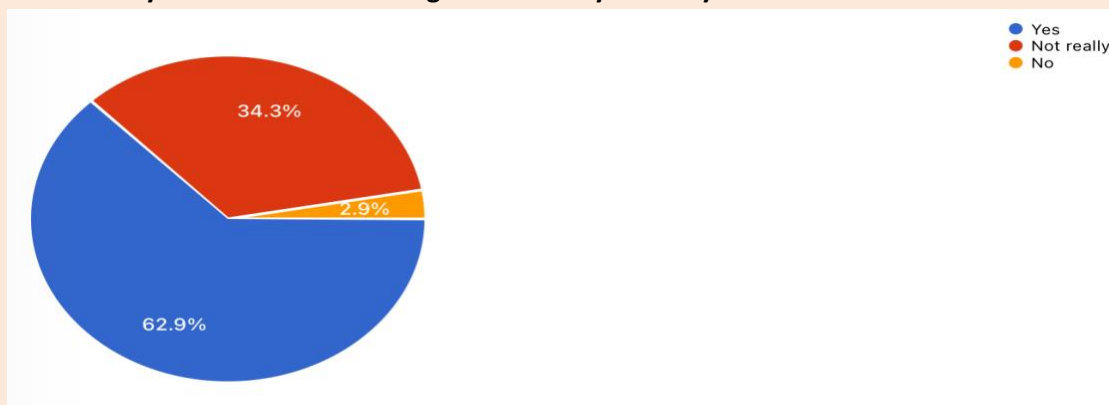

6. Do you feel that you have control over your emotions?

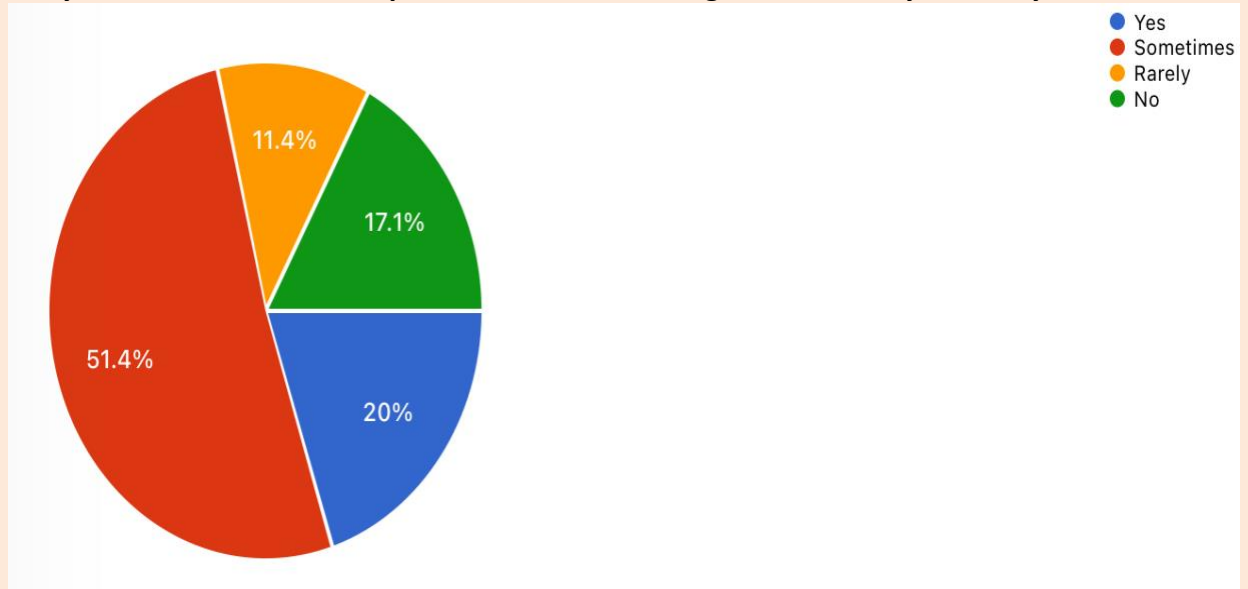

7. Do you feel gentleness is present enough in our school community?

8. Do you value the virtue of gentleness in your daily life?

9. Do you find it difficult to practise the virtue of gentleness in your daily life?

10. How can we practise the virtue of gentleness in our school community?

Answers below were given:

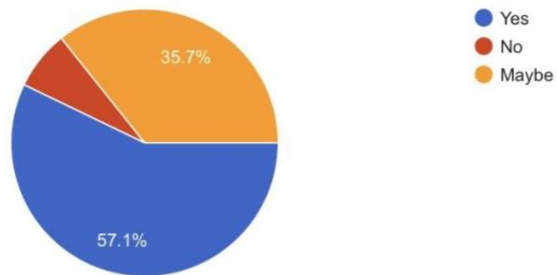

- Understanding what others have been through
- Being kind to each other
- Respecting each other
- Staying calm
- Apologising when you make a mistake
- Thinking before we speak

Results from TRUTHFULNESS TO ONESELF questionnaire. All answers were anonymous.

Do you feel comfortable being yourself at school?

 Copy chart

42 responses

How often do you share your honest opinions with others?

 Copy chart

42 responses

Do you hide your true feelings to fit in with others?

 Copy chart

42 responses

How easy is it for you to admit when you make a mistake?

 Copy chart

41 responses

Do you set goals based on what you truly want, not what others expect?

Copy chart

37 responses

How often do you reflect on your personal values and beliefs?

Copy chart

42 responses

Are you open to feedback without feeling defensive?

 Copy chart

42 responses

Do you speak up when you see something wrong?

 Copy chart

42 responses

How much do you care about being authentic with friends?

 Copy chart

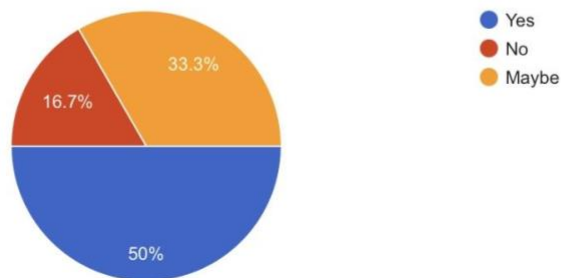

41 responses

Do you feel supported in being yourself at school?

 Copy chart

42 responses

In total:

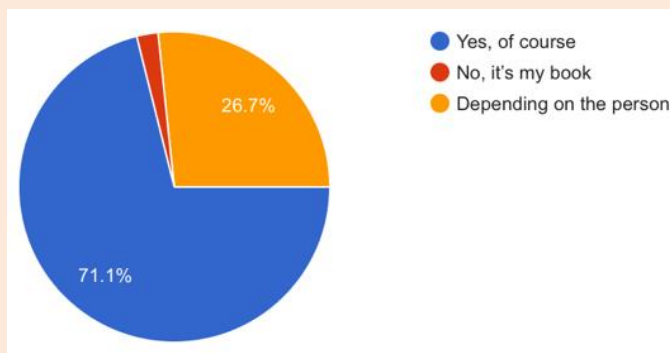

42 people filled out our questionnaire, and more than half expressed how truthfulness to oneself is a pivotal factor in their life.

To summarise, based on these results, we think that the majority of people in Alex follow this virtue.

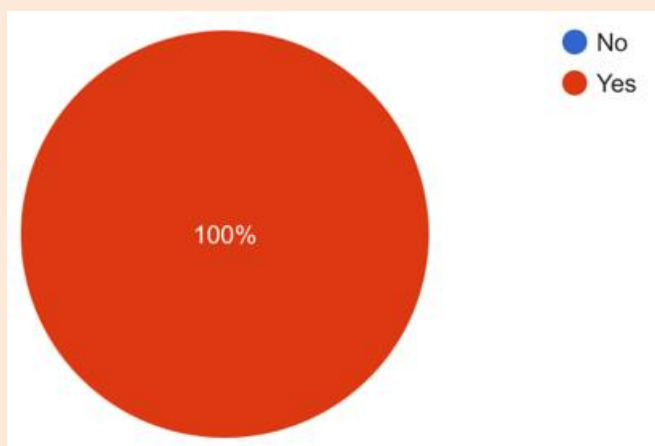

Results from LIBERALITY questionnaire. All answers were anonymous.

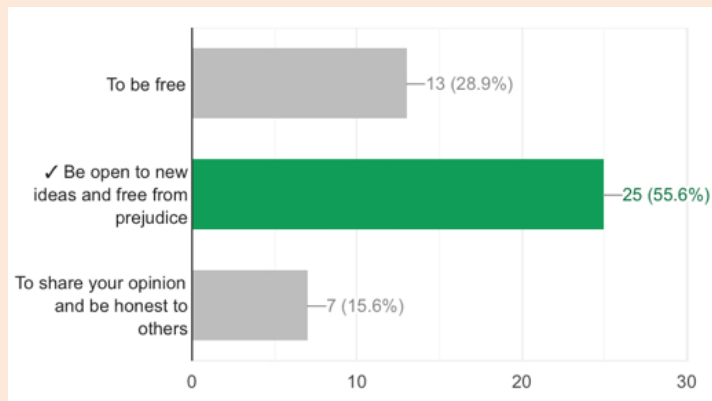

Would you share your book with someone who doesn't have one?

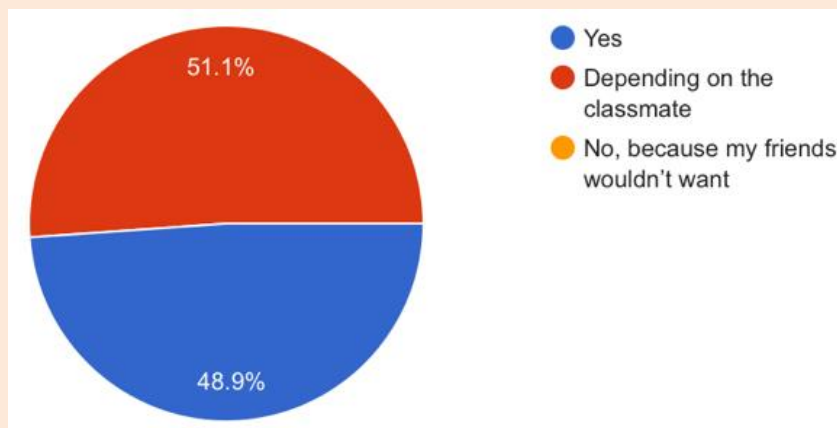

Would you listen to your friends if they don't have your same point of view?

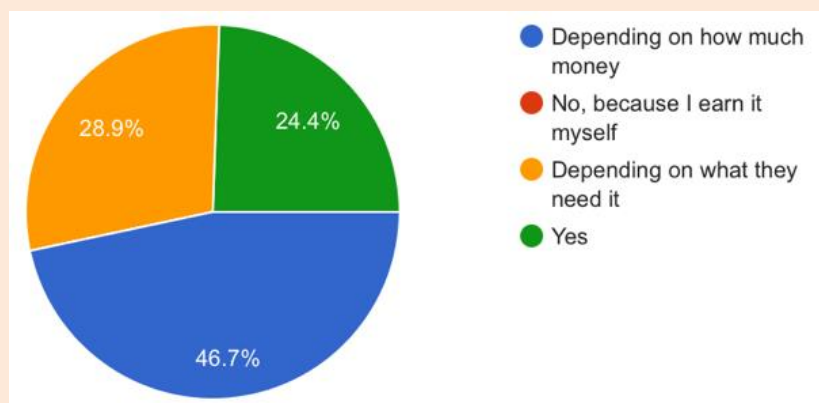

What does liberality mean?

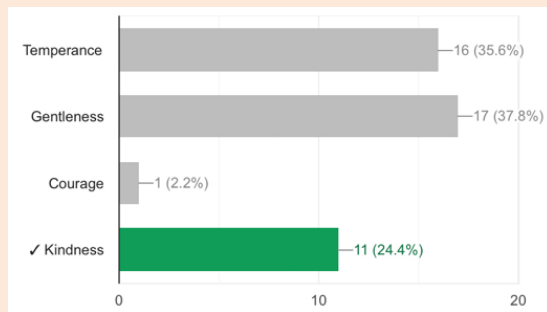

Would you invite a classmate who is alone to come with your group of friends?

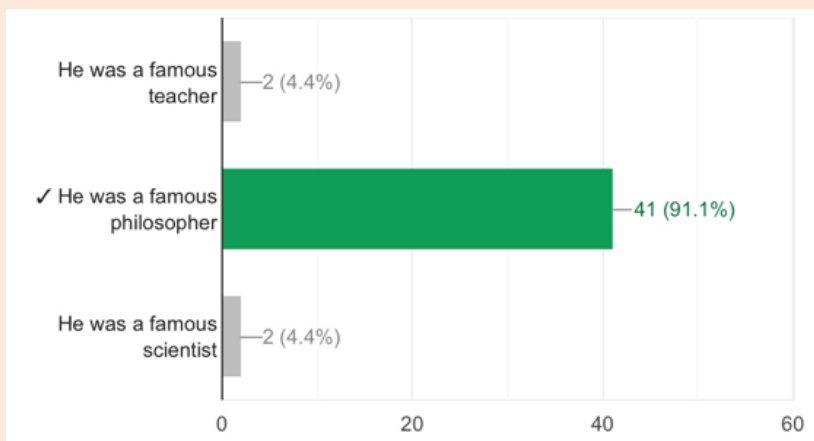

Would you lend money to a friend that needs it?

Which one of these isn't an Aristotle's virtue?

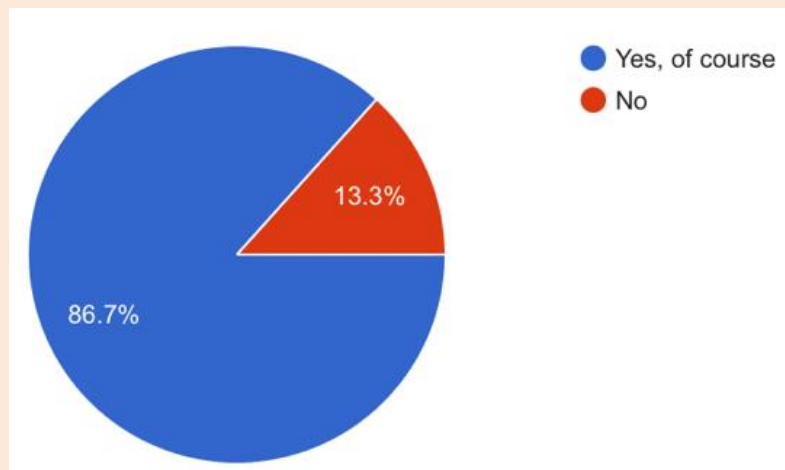

Who was Aristotle?

Where can you find liberality around you?

Everywhere	Friends, teachers and parents
I don't know	Being able to tell people my thought or opinion on a topic
In the school	Best friends
Library	My friends
In helping your friends	People donating to the homeless
In people's views	Creativity
In a classroom	In respect
In our society	Friends?
Every where you just have to look	Your friends, your family, sometimes even strangers
Inclusion in people's groups	At home
I have no clue	In debates

Would you do something that you really want if your friend don't do it?

What does liberality mean to you?

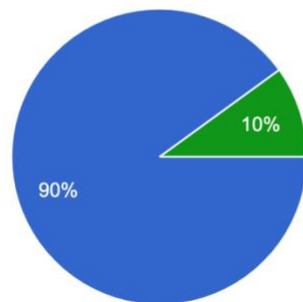

Freedom
To be free
To be open to others
It means being kind
Not much
The ability to do what you want
It means being free to express yourself regardless of where you are being free
Being open to opinions
Being free and doing what you like no matter what people think of you
Kindness
Being allowed to have a voice
To listen and respect all opinions
Be free
I don't know

Talk with someone that listen to you
Inclusion
Being open minded towards others and making an effort not to be judgmental
It means being open to new ideas and experiences even though others might not agree
Being able to do what i want in the moment
Freedom from negativity
To be comfortable with yourself.
A rare and precious kindness, one you are lucky to encounter. Yet, it is also a foolish and pitiable kindness.
I don't really know
Being good to others and to yourself kind of
To live your life the way you want
For me, liberality is bfinf able to recieve other opinions without judging, but to be open to new ideas.
To be free

Results from EQUITY questionnaire. All answers were anonymous.

what does equity mean

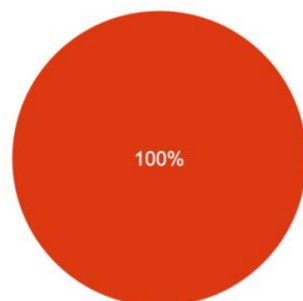

10 responses

- the quality of being fair and impartial
- the customary code of polite behaviour in society
- Being sociable and chatty in a public setting
- Being kind an good natured to others

who is Aristotle ?

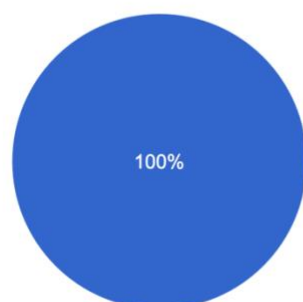

9 responses

- An American professor
- an Ancient Greek philosopher
- An author

What are synonyms for equity

10 responses

- Fairness and justice
- Bias and prejudice

In what ways can our school improve their equity?

Make sure there is no bias and no favouritism

Making everyone feel comfortable

Bring in teachers to teach about being kind

Unsure

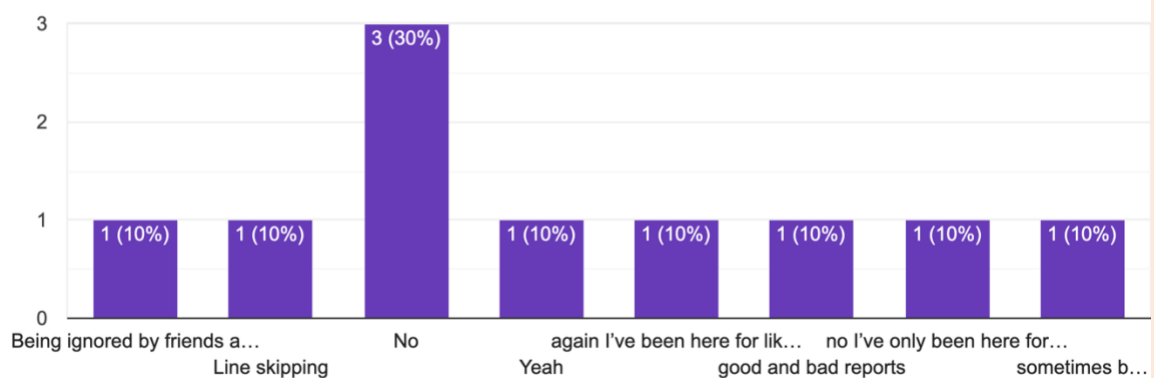

To stop line skippers

I'm not sure

Letting the younger years do assembly's etc

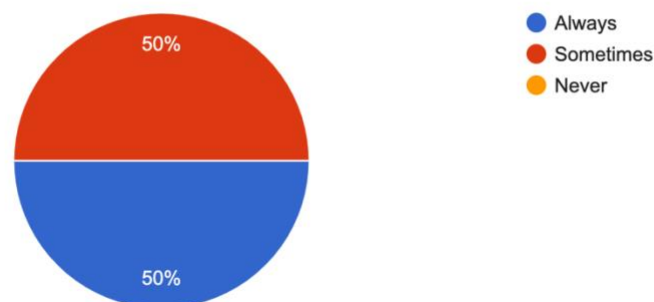

have you ever had an experience in this school where you have experienced inequity

10 responses

Does your year have good social equity ?

10 responses

How can you encourage your friends to good social equity?

I'm not sure, sorry

Include everyone possible

Making them see how does it feel behind inequity

Be kind and don't judge others

Not sure