

“Echoscape” Exhibition on Display

A new art exhibition created by Bolles Upper School fine arts teachers is on display at the Florida State College at Jacksonville South Campus Gallery.

“Echoscape” is a collaboration by Bolles fine arts teachers Andrew Dickson, Tiffany Gonzalez, Chris Hicks and Lily Kuonen and is on display at the entrance of the Wilson Center for the Arts.

The exhibition statement reads: “Like the interplay between tides and terrain, complex relationships reverberate, as resonances bend, flow, carve, assemble and reassemble through the interplay of surface, mark and form. In the ‘Echoscape,’ we explore fragility, resilience, obstructions and mysteries, reflecting with reverence, joy and strength as we connect ourselves to the land and to one another.”

Kuonen will also be holding lectures and class discussions this month with an FSCJ Humanities of the Landscape class in conjunction with the exhibition. “Echoscape” will run until Feb. 19. Gallery hours are Monday - Thursday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Friday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.
