Field Trip to Longwood Gardens

Students recently wrapped up a trip-planning unit, where they researched ticket prices, travel times, and hours of operation. They also got hands-on experience figuring out how to budget, manage time, and plan an itinerary. After all their hard work, they finally made a trip to Longwood Gardens! Next, they'll be working on a reflection piece about their experience.

Boatbuilding Update

Cadets in the Boatbuilding Program finished their introduction to Shop procedures and safety by building a toolbox. After a lesson in buoyancy and displacement, Cadets began work on their boat! This year's build is a traditional Delaware river design, a Harbormaster 14'. First-year builders are laying out and building the hull while the returning advanced crew are building the sailing gear. Once completed Cadets will be able to sail or row their craft.

Boatbuilding Update

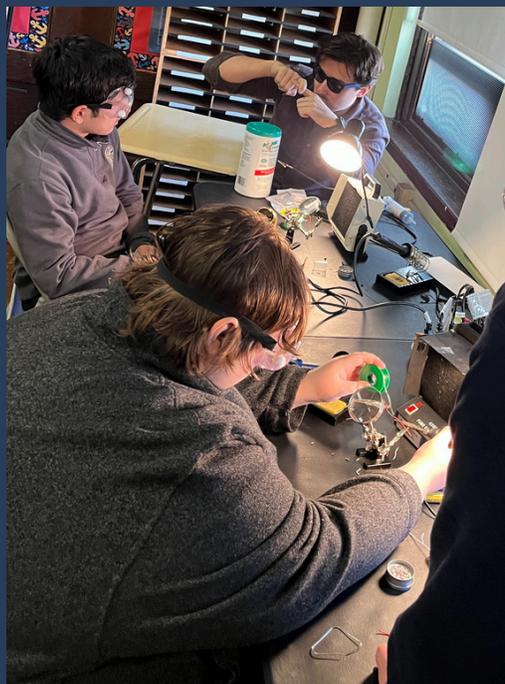

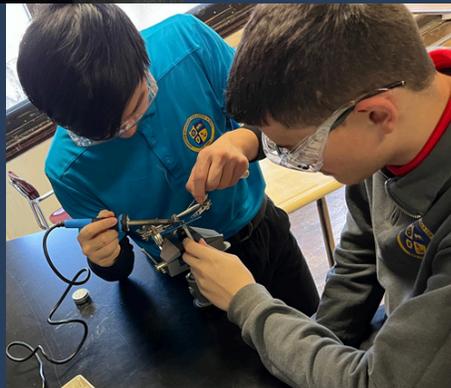

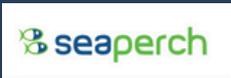

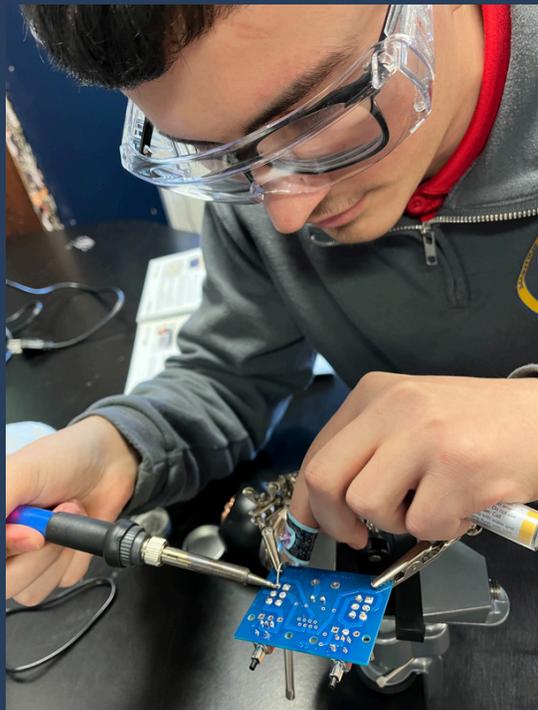

Starting the second week of January, Cadets started cutting out the stem and planks, and laying out the transom.

SeaPerch and Seaglide

Cadets started building their Seaglide and Seaperch entries for 2025! Mr. Wallis introduced Cadets to Seaglide, a programmable autonomous underwater vehicle. Cadets practiced soldering and began programming their robot. Seaperch is a tethered underwater vehicle with specific mission requirements. Mr. Gosse works with Cadets to design and build the Seaperch device, document the design-build process, and present a real-world application poster.
