

Life insurance from Aflac

Provide your loved ones the peace of mind they deserve – today, tomorrow, always.

Some people have put off purchasing life insurance because they don't know what to buy or how much they need. Are you one of them?

Aflac Life Insurance helps ensure life can go on for your loved ones by providing financial security. And it's easier to purchase than you may think. Chances are, someone depends on you financially for daily living expenses – and you are also a big part of their future planning. While life insurance can be helpful in paying for immediate needs, it also provides a realistic way to build generational wealth for those you leave behind. Life insurance can help provide your loved ones with financial stability to help ensure their dreams can live on.

Living benefits provide further peace of mind*

Sometimes the expenses hit your family earlier than expected – that's why we offer living benefits. If you are diagnosed with a terminal illness, you could receive early access to part of your life insurance benefit.

Support when you need it most

If you have a claim, you'll have access to our certified care managers. They are licensed, master's-level social workers whose mission is making your life easier when you're sick or hurt. They can provide the help you need when you need it most. They're personal advocates who can work with you, your family and medical care providers to develop plans that help you get back on your feet – and they are available from day one.
